TWO JAILED IN DEEP MYSTERY

Girl Says One Man Pulled Her Hair and Another Slapped Her

At 5:48 a.m. yesterday, so far as the police of the Hollywood division learned, all was peace and quiet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Birch, 1336 North Van Ness avenue.

At 6 a.m., according to assertions made to the police, George Wilson, an actor, of 5628 Harold Way, approached a davenport on which Miss Lina Stimson was lying, seized her hair and pulled it. At 6h. 6m. 15s. a.m., Miss Stimson screamed, and at 6h. 6m. 25s. a.m.—this is still according to the police—Hugh P. Fay, 1041 South Union avenue, slapped Miss Stimson's mouth.

At 6:01 a.m. Miss Stimson called the police and had Wilson and Fay locked up on charges of battery.

That was as much as the police learned.

SEEK EX-BALL PLAYER AS HEIR TO FORTUNE

Harvey B. Casey, 47 years of age, former semipro baseball player, last heard of on the Pacific Coast, is being sought by W. J. Cox, probate geneslogist, as heir to a $15,000 estate. Cox conducts a clearinghouse of unclaimed estates, has been through his Coast operations. Casey in 1909 wrote a letter from Baker, Wash., in which he said he had spent the first five months of that year in Seattle and the remainder in Baker. In 1916 he is known to have been employed at Concrete, Wash., and was last heard from at Anacortes, Wash. In 1916 he was seen in San Francisco. Cox's office in Chicago is with the Federal Reserve Bank.

FATHER OF A. T. HOYT, SCREEN ACTOR, DIES

Charles Arthur Hoyt, 75 years of age, father of Arthur T. Hoyt, motion-picture actor, died yesterday in his home at the Hoyt Apartments, 612 St. Paul avenue. Hoyt, who was a retired mining engineer, also leaves another son, Henry B. Hoyt of Butte, Mont. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The body is in charge of Pierce Brothers undertakers.

NEW YORK AT POLLS

Primary Ballot on Today

Al Smith Faces Crisis in Fight for Control of Tammany Hall

Mayor's Race for Third Term in Balance on Eve of Election

[BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING]
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—With Al Smith and Mayor Hylan largely mum on the hustings up to the last minute and with Randolph Hearst putting on the final licks for good measure, the most exciting primary campaign in the history of Gotham came to a close tonight.

Tomorrow the ballots will be counted, ending at 9 p.m. the Democratic conflict promises to be all five boroughs of this city between State Senator Walker, the candidate for the nomination made by Gov. Smith and Mayor Hylan, who [illegible] with the backing of Hearst and Bourke McCooey of the [illegible] and the municipal [illegible] have sunk almost out of sight in the thrilling waters of the strife between Al Smith and Hearst for control of the Democratic party in this region [illegible] unfolded. To such an extent has the contest come that the New York Democrats are going to the polls tomorrow not so much to vote for Walker or for Hylan as to vote for or against Al Smith.

[illegible] GOTHAM

By the same token the eyes of the country will be turned [illegible] to learn whether Al Smith, in his first fight as the leader of Tammany Hall since the death of Boss Murphy and [illegible] to the Presidency of the New York Democrats solidly [illegible] him, or whether Al Smith, for the first at this crucial moment, is weakened and is compelled to [illegible] with Hearst in 1928.

Interest is centered amid the [illegible] of the Democratic fight in this city on the cost their ballots, on whether their candidate for Mayor shall be Frank D. Waterman, the millionaire foundry [illegible] manufacturer put up by the Republican organization, or [illegible] Jerome or William M. Bandy, whom is leading a revolt in the Republican bosses. New Wireless Station to Make Unnecessary Relay Plants

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 14. — The new wireless station which the British government expects to open next year at Rugby will make it possible for Great Britain to talk to the entire world without the aid of intermediaries.

Trials start in November with twelve "Eiffel Towers," as giant masts which rise 820 feet in the air are called. The aerial will be one and a half miles long and a half-mile wide. The Dominions and colonies are building stations to correspond with this immense "mother" station.

PARIS ENDS DEBT TALKS IN MOSCOW

Reds Reported Preparing Appeal for Resumption of Negotiations

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Confirmed reports reaching Paris from Moscow state that the French government has broken off the pourparlers with the soviet delegates, which have been going on for more than two months, relative to a settlement of the czar's government's debt to France.

The sudden cessation of the pourparlers surprised Moscow, as advance reports leaking out indicated that favorable progress was under way with the Reds willing to recognize the imperial government's obligations to the private French bondholders and willing to compromise on the reimbursement for property seized by the Communists.

It is reported that the soviets are preparing to appeal to Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, for a resumption of the negotiations.

Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux is reported to be definitely opposed to Moscow's refusal to recognize the entirety of the debt and insists that the Reds pay up their cash annuities, thereby easing France's burdens in paying the British and American war debts annually.

EUROPE MAY FORM TIES

More Pacts for Security Loom

Balkan Agreement Likely as Corollary of German and Allied Treaty

Baltic States Also Will be Subject of Dealings to Insure Peace

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—Simultaneously with the forthcoming negotiations between the Allies and Germany for a pact guaranteeing the security of the Rhine region, statesmen are nourishing the hope of the creation of other regional European peace pacts, one among the Balkan States and another among the Baltic group.

The former appears to offer more chances of success than the latter, for the Grecian Foreign Minister already has mapped out tentative plans for a pact with Jugo-Slavia and Rumania, and possibly also with Bulgaria.

M. Galvanauskas, former Premier of Lithuania, said today that an economic entente between Lithuania, Latvia and Esthonia already exists and that it can be transferred instantaneously into a military entente in the event of aggression from without.

It is believed here that difficulty will arise over an attempt to bring Finland and Poland into a general Baltic arrahgement as Finland is said to be not disposed at present to enter into an alliance with Poland because of the difficulties Poland is encountering in attempting to please her minority populations, particularly the Ukranians.

STUDY OF STATUS OF WORLD COURT ASKED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—Former Foreign Minister Buero of Uruguay introduced a resolution in the League of Nations Assembly today asking the League Council to undertake study of the status of the permanent Court of International Justice with a view to obtaining more universal acceptance of the jurisdiction of that tribunal.

The resolution suggests that the Council take into account the court's work and experience and the opinions concerning it voiced in the world Parliaments and in scientific and other circles.

The assembly delegates read into Senor Buero's speech an allusion to the United States as one of the countries whose adherence to the court is desirable.

The Uruguayan spokesman also propounded in favor of the Swedish project for an international convention on compulsory arbitration.

Count Apponyi of Hungary presented an amendment to the Spanish resolution of Saturday concerning the proposed disarmament conference. The Spanish text would postpone preparations by the League of Nations for such conference until the Council deemed satisfactory general political security had been achieved through regional pacts.

Count Apponyi said this meant too long a postponement and he moved that the Council now begin preparations for the conference which thus could be convoked as soon as the conditions of security "upon which the success of the conference must depend" are fulfilled.

PLANE WILL PICK COURSE OF AIR TOUR

Ford Trophy to be Prize in Commercial Contest Over 1900-Mile Course

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—A pathfinding airplane for the commercial airplane reliability tour for the Ford trophy, arrived at Maywood flying field tonight from Detroit and will take off from here tomorrow morning on its pathfinding expedition.

The plane is piloted by Eddie Stinson and carries a party of Detroit Chamber of Commerce officials and newspaper men. The plane is picking the path over which from twenty to thirty commercial airplanes will fly a distance of approximately 1900 miles in the contest for the trophy.

The tour will start from Detroit and take in eleven cities, the planes arriving in Chicago the 28th inst.

The pathfinding plane tomorrow will visit Moline and Des Moines.

Fire Loss Rises Despite Battle for Prevention

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 14. America's fire loss has risen, exceeding $550,000,000 in 1924, despite efforts of fire marshals and a larger percentage of fire-resistive buildings.

In calling this fact to the attention of the Fire Marshals' Association of North America, President S. W. Wade, insurance commissioner of North Carolina, also pointed to the loss of more than 17,000 lives, and therefore, an economic loss of more than $1,000,000,000.

LIQUOR DEATH SPURT CITED

Data of Church Council Show Upward Trend Since 1920; Economic Benefit by Prohibition Seen

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A collection of varied information as to the effect of prohibition on economic conditions and health was made public tonight by the Research and Educational Department of the Federal Council of Churches as a part of its report on the prohibition question.

No definite conclusions were stated, but it was remarked in the report that in general the number of deaths from diseases that grow out of liquor drinking showed a drop in 1920, early in the prohibition regime, but an increase in the years thereafter. This was one of the tabulations on which the first section of the report, made public last night, suggested that the trend of social consequences of prohibition since 1920 had been "disturbing."

ECONOMIC VALUE

On the economic side of the question the report contained these observations:

"Probably no careful observer will say that the abolition of the saloon has not effected a very substantial amelioration of large numbers of the working class. . . .

"At the same time, the appeal to specific economic data—increased business activity, growing bank deposits, etc.—to prove the effects of prohibition must be made very guardedly. All attempts to measure this increase in quantitative terms are fraught with danger, because of the great increase in prosperity since 1921, due to other causes. . . . In addition to the increase in money wages, we must consider the extensive thrift campaigns carried on throughout the country. . . . But it would be idle to dispute the assumption that prohibition has been a factor, and an important one, in keeping savings deposits on a high level.

"Good authority also can be found for the statement that industry has profited very materially through the heightened morale. . . .

"It its noteworthy that a questionnaire sent as part of this investigation to 1000 or more business men, directors in important corporations selected at random, asking for their verdicts as business men upon prohibition, yielded a 'wet' result—not, apparently, so much because of observed effects upon business or industry as because of strong personal prejudice and dissatisfaction with the social and political results of prohibition as they saw them."

VARIOUS SOURCES

Various sources were drawn upon for the health statistics presented in the report. The Census Bureau figures were quoted on deaths from alcoholism and cirrhosis of the liver, and the report observed that they showed a drop in 1920 and a rise thereafter, except for a drop for cirrhosis in 1923. Officials of the Bellevue Hospital, New York, were quoted as saying that, while more acute and fewer chronic cases proportionately result from alcohol were handled just after prohibition became effective, "there is a drift back to preprohibition conditions in the type of alcoholism that prevails."

A compilation of figures on alcoholic insanity and intemperate use of alcohol showed a drop from 1917 to 1921 and an increase since. The report added that figures as to the number of alcoholics discharged from New York hospitals "show in general the same trend that we have been noting, but with this important feature, that the year 1924 shows a slight decrease."

Official figures on the number of alcoholic cases per 1000 enlisted men in the Army showed a low-water mark of 1.06 in 1918, a jump to 11.18 in 1922, 8.32 in 1923 and 9.19 in 1924.

FORD TO BE REARRESTED

Radical Freed From Prison Will Be Prosecuted For Murder by Son of Man Slain in Riot

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—Richard "Blackie" Ford, radical, who was paroled by the State Board of Prison Directors last Friday after serving twelve years of a life sentence for the Wheatland hop riot murders will be arrested and tried on another murder charge in Yuba county, Dist.-Atty. Manwell of Marysville, announced today.

Manwell, whose father, Dist.-Atty. E. T. Manwell, was killed in the riot, and for whose death Ford was convicted, declared that he proposes to try Ford on the charge of murdering Thomas Reardon, a deputy sheriff who was slain with Manwell.

In a statement, Manwell said: "Inasmuch as Ford has served only a little over eleven years for inciting a riot which brought about the murder of my father, who was then District Attorney, Deputy Sheriff Thomas Reardon, Sheriff George A. Voss and the maiming for life of Deputy Sheriff L. V. Anderson, I do not feel that he has been justly dealt with.

"At that time Ford was an I.W.W., and ever since his conviction the I.W.W. have used every means at their command to bring about the release of Ford and his partner, H. D. Suhr, from prison.

"Just as soon as I receive official information from the Board of Prison Directors to the effect he has been released I shall have Ford rearrested and brought here and will prosecute him for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Reardon."

RIVER PACT IMPORTANCE EMPHASIZED

Colorado Governor Makes Plea at Convention of Utilities Groups

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

GLENWOOD SPRINGS (Colo.) Sept. 14.—Characterizing the Colorado River compact as of the utmost importance to the West, Gov. Morley of Colorado in an address here today made a plea for earnest attention by public-utility concerns to preservation of the great river's resources.

Addressing the Rocky Mountain division of the National Electric Light Association and the Colorado Public Service Association, the executive declared that "big business, so-called, has earned the characterization of good business by its effort to promote understanding and merit the good will of the public."

Charles A. Semrad of Denver told the convention that utilities of the Rocky Mountain region are expanding at such rapid pace to meet demands for service that the problem of keeping the public informed is one of the highest importance.

Others speakers today were Congressmen E. O. Leatherwood, Salt Lake City, and Edward T. Taylor, Glenwood Springs.

Germany Pays $291,600,000 in Reparations

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Germany's total reparations payments during the first year of the operation of the Dawes plan amounted to 1,458,000,000 gold marks, or about $291,600,000, it was announced today.

Out of this sum, the agent-general for reparations, S. Parker Gilbert, paid to various Allied creditors $93,500,000 gold marks.

HOSPITAL CONTRACTED

New Unit to be Added to Veterans' Battle Mountain Sanitarium

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOT SPRINGS (S. D.) Sept. 14. A telegram received today by ex-Congressman E. W. Martin from Indian Commissioner Burke says that a $350,000 general construction contract to the Madsen Peterson Company of Minneapolis for a new veterans' bureau tuberculosis hospital here has been awarded. Other contractors are to be announced tomorrow.

The site of the new hospital adjoins Battle Mountain Sanitarium for disabled veterans, and will double its capacity. It will probably involve an expenditure of $1,000,000 by the time the project has been completed. The hospital will eventually cover three city blocks. It is the largest building program in the Black Hills country in decades.

HORSE KILLS RIDER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MERCED, Sept. 14.—Dragged for ten miles by a frightened horse, the body of Carl Cruzen, 23 years of age, Hornitos farm laborer, was found last night by friends searching for him after he had been missing for two days. The horse, exhausted, lay by the side of the body.

FLYERS GET NEW ORDER

Now Due Here in October

Rodgers and PN-1 Crew to Come to Port After They Reach Bay City

Flight Chief Reluctant to Accept Capital Post; PB-1 Trip Halted

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Sept. 14. — The San Francisco-Honolulu aviators of the seaplane PN-9 No. 1 will sail for San Francisco Thursday on the U. S. S. Idaho.

New orders today changed previous plans to have Commander John Rodgers sail for the mainland on the U. S. S. California. Under the new orders as announced by the office of Admiral S. S. Robison, commander in chief of the battle fleet, the five flyers will be in San Francisco the 24th inst., leaving there the 30th inst. either by airplane or destroyer for Los Angeles Harbor. The disposition of their seaplane, in which they floated and sailed some 300 miles after being forced down within 300 miles of Pearl Harbor by lack of gasoline, still is undecided.

CITY TO LAY PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF FLYERS

With the announcement late yesterday from Honolulu that Capt. John Rodgers of the PN-9 No. 1 and his crew of four men are to come to Los Angeles, official and civic organizations today are expected to lay plans for a great celebration to greet the intrepid airmen.

President Boyle Workman of the City Council said last night that Mayor Cryer is expected to return to his desk this morning, and arrangements for the city's part in the demonstration will be discussed with the executive at that time. It is probable, he said, that a banquet will be given the flyers among the other festivities during their stay in the city.

While the news that the airmen are coming to Los Angeles was received too late yesterday for any organizations to make definite plans, unofficially, near a score of local bodies promised wholehearted support in whatever demonstration is decided upon.

The Chamber of Commerce is expected to take a leading part and officials said last night that a complete program will be mapped out today with A. G. Arnoll, secretary of the chamber, who returns this morning from an out-of-town trip.

Dispatches from Honolulu said that Capt. Rodgers and his crew will leave Thursday aboard the U. S. S. Idaho for San Francisco, arriving on the 24th inst. They are scheduled to leave San Francisco for Los Angeles the 30th inst.

RODGERS NOT KEEN FOR POST IN WASHINGTON

Airship Inquiry Ordered

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today appointed a court of inquiry to make a formal investigation of the disaster to the airship Shenandoah and, if possible, determine the actual cause of its collapse. Rear-Admiral Hilary F. Jones, president of the General Board of the Navy, is chairman.

His associates are Capt. Frank H. Clark, aide for navy yards; Capt. Lewis B. McBryde, Construction Corps; Commander John H. Towers, Lieutenant-Commander Ralph C. Pennoyer, Capt. Paul Foley, director of the naval experimental laboratory, Judge-Advocate, and Lieutenant-Commander M. R. Pierce, adviser to the Judge-Advocate.

Commander Towers was in command of the NC flight across the Atlantic and has twelve years of aviation experience behind him. Lieutenant-Commander Pennoyer is a lighter-than-air pilot, who served as inspector in Germany during the construction of the Los Angeles and also served in England during the construction of the ill-fated R-38. Lieutenant-Commander Pierce also is a veteran naval pilot of the lighter-than-air craft.

CONSIDER FORD SHIPS

Secretary Wilbur, in reply to the questions, said he was greatly impressed with the possibilities of the small all-metal airship designed by engineers of the Ford Motor Company, details of which were laid before him a few days ago, with the suggestion that the Navy Department take over the plans and construct such a ship at the naval aircraft factory. It is estimated that an airship of this type, which would have a cruising radius of close to 2000 miles, inflated with helium, would cost about $2300,000. The Ford company offered the fullest co-operation by the engineers who have worked on the design and developed plans over a period of four years.

The proposed all-metal airship would be about 150 feet in length with a gas capacity of 250,000 cubic feet, and a built-in car about the size of an ordinary Pullman.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur in a statement today, declared that when he announced he would not welcome an investigation, he had particularly in mind "charges that the Navy Department and its officers were engaged in presenting false and perjured testimony to Congress and were deliberately sending men to their death in order to discredit aviation."

As for an investigation such as the President has directed, which is designed to benefit the national defense and assist aviation development, the Navy Department is heartily in favor of it.

M'NAMARA GOES ON TRIAL

Ex-Convict and Notorious Union Bomber Accused in Indianapolis of Threatening Nonunion Man

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 14.—Twenty prospective jurors were examined in today's session of the trial of John J. McNamara, business agent of the Bridge, Ornamental and Structural Iron Workers' Union in the Marion county Criminal Court. McNamara was one of the figures in the bombing of the Los Angeles Times Building in October, 1910, and served ten years at San Quentin Penitentiary.

McNamara now is on trial charged with blackmail, intimidation and terrorization in connection with union labor conspiracies and sabotage which he is asserted to have plotted and executed in this city a year ago, shortly after being released from the California penal institution. Special Judge Gause is presiding at the trial, a change of venue having been granted from Judge Collins.

THREATS CHARGED

The union labor leader is said to have threatened the lives of employees and officials of building contracting companies who at the time were working on the new Elks' Club Building then under construction here. The Indianapolis indictment on which he is facing trial charges that he threatened the life of a nonunion employee of the Niman Transfer Company unless he ceased working on the Elks' Club Building.

Shortly after that threat vandals, believed to have been union labor sluggers, working under the direction of McNamara, entered the new Elks' Club Building and destroyed property estimated to be worth thousands of dollars.

Following this crime, McNamara was arrested at union-labor headquarters and four indictments were returned against him. He was released on bonds of $22,500. A fifth indictment was returned about a week ago, charging blackmail in connection with the construction of the banking-rooms of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company Building of this city. Approximately $10,000 worth of metal sash work was destroyed by vandals at this building after the contractors had refused to accede to McNamara's demand that only union labor should be employed on the building.

That McNamara will not take the witness' stand in his own behalf was indicated by Fred McAllister, attorney for the defense, in questions asked prospective jurors.

"If the defendant does not take the witness stand in his own defense, will you hold it against him or hold it as evidence of guilt?" each talesman was asked.

THREE DISMISSED

Three peremptory dismissals of jurymen were made by the defense. Seven more peremptory dismissals are allowed. None has been made by the State.

William R. Remy, Prosecuting Attorney, closely questioned the prospective jurors as to their attitude toward organized labor and their attitude on religious matters. Each Protestant was asked whether McNamara's religion would be held against him. The labor leader is a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

Doubt was expressed that a jury will be obtained by time of adjournment of court tomorrow night. The session will last until 5 or 5:30 p.m., Judge Gause announced.

Mr. Ramy is being assisted in the prosecution by Eph Inman, veteran criminal attorney of this city.

WORLD SAFETY DRIVE PENDING

Cleveland to be Host to Congress Delegates

America Will be Branded as Accident Leader

Representatives from Thirty Nations to Attend

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—The opening gun in a world-wide war against accidents on the streets, at home and in workshops will be fired on Monday morning, the 28th inst., when representatives of more than thirty nations will attend the fourteenth annual Safety Congress in this city, where 450 speakers will address ninety separate gatherings which will be in session until Friday, October 2.

America will be branded as the most careless nation in the world by speakers who will point out that the accident death rate for the United States is 76.3 fatalities for each 100,000 population, almost two and one-third times as high as the record of England and Wales, which is only 33.8 for each 100,000 population. The safest country appears to be Denmark whose rate is 20 for each 100,000.

The League of Nations will be represented by Dr. Frederick Bittman of the International Labor Office of Geneva, Switzerland, who will come here especially to tell about plans for accident-prevention campaigns in other countries and to obtain data regarding efforts that are being made here to conserve lives and limbs and properties.

What is needed in the United States to reduce the number of lives lost through accidents will be dwelt upon by Admiral John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross, whose topic will be "The Nationalization of Ideas and Ideals."

How America should mobilize her peace-time forces will be pointed out by Rear-Admiral William S. Sims, U.S.N., who will speak on "Safety in the Nation."

Participating in the Safety Congress will be the National Safety Council, National Civilian Rehabilitation Conference, National Organization for Public Health Nursing, American Society of Safety Engineer and trade groups representing every industry in the country.

FIRST PICTURE OF PN-1 AFTER RESCUE

already be forming the other to-night of plotting much "dirty work at the cross-roads" tomorrow, as they say in the melodramas. The Hearst papers relate how Tammany has prepared thousands of repeaters and is marshalling gangs of thugs to carry the day for Walker by force. Tammany detects a plan to use strong-arm methods for Hylan in order to Police Commissioner Enright assigning an additional 5000 policeman to the polls and instructing all officers not only to preserve order but to see to it that none but registered voters vote and that such vote but once.

TAMMANY COMPLAINS

Tammany complains that the order requiring policemen to judge the qualifications of voters is unprecedented, illegal and tyrannical. From the Hylan camp comes the retort that the policemen are not to judge the qualifications of the voter beyond seeing to it that a person is not allowed to vote unless his name is on the roll and he has not already voted. Tammany is not going to steal this primary election if it is possible to prevent it, grimly assert the Hylan leaders. Wherefore, much disorder, if not bloodshed, is expected to attend the factional conflict at the polling places.

Nothing has occurred to upset the general expectation among the politicians that Walker will defeat Hyland and that Waterman will win the Republican primary. In fact, the developments of the last forty-eight hours have strengthened the conviction that Gov. Smith and Tammany will triumph over the Hylan-Hearst faction.

In his closing speeches tonight Mayor Hylan asserted that a victory for Smith and Walker would mean delivering the city over to exploitation by the "interests."

At one meeting he addressed Gov. Smith remarked that Hearst "is dead politically and the decent people of New York will pay no attention to any charge he makes."

"The worst demagogue is the man who tells a half-truth and relies on insinuation," the Governor continued. "Mayor Hylan is the exalted past grand master of the order of insinuations. It is easy to tell where he gets it from—from the Hearst newspapers. But when he gets busy he out-Hearsts Hearst."

WISCONSIN SENATE PRIMARIES ON TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 14.—Candidates for nomination on the Republican and Democratic tickets for United States Senator to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the death of Robert M. La Follette closed their campaigns today.

After an intensive tour of the State, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Roy P. Wilcox and Francis E. McGovern, pulled for the balloting tomorrow which will decide who shall enter the lists in the final election on the 29th inst. as the Republican candidate. Daniel Woodward of Oshkosh, has conducted more or less of a "front-porch" campaign.

On the Democratic side there is considerable interest in the developments, the direct result of a rupture within the party in Wisconsin over the stand of William G. Bruce, the candidate picked by the State convention, on foreign relations. Mr. Bruce did not favor the World Court and a faction of his party, in a meeting last week, passed resolutions calling on voters of the State to write in the name of Judge Charles B. Rogers of Fort Atkinson.

Although the campaign by the Republican candidates has been heated, in so far as taacks and counter-attacks are concerned, there are indications that not enough warmth has been developed to bring out a heavy vote.

GRAND DUKE PLOTS FALL OF SOVIETS

Nicholas to Lead Offensive Against Moscow During November

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Details of a new offensive against Moscow, with the Grand Duke Nicholas leading the fight for the overthrow of the Bolsheviks, will be planned at a great meeting of Russian emigres from all over the world, to be held here about mid-November.

A committee of seventy-three, headed by Serge Tretiakoff, former president of the Moscow bourse, was elected at a secret meeting of Russian emigres in France yesterday and got under way today the work of perfecting plans for the November congress.

Although it was rumored that the Grand Duke Cyril, whose wife visited the United States last year, might cause some dissension in the ranks through his claim to the throne, Russians connected with the committee said today that he never had been recognized by the emigres' organization and would not be a factor in the great uprising for which the committee hopes.

Women Tarred and Feathered by Mob of Men

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Sept. 14.—Local police today were investigating the tarring and feathering of two young women by a mob of 150 men here Saturday. The women were seized by the mob while walking to town from the city prison farm following a thirty-day sentence on disorderly conduct charges. They were taken to a secluded spot, police said, where tar and feathers were applied, then brought to the city and released on a downtown street clad only in gunnysacks.

They were admitted to a rooming-house, where the proprietor allowed them to cleanse themselves and obtained clothes for them. Police early today had been unable to locate the women.

Los Angeles Man Incarcerated in Cincinnati Jail

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—Walter Thrasher of Los Angeles, who had been confined in an observation ward of the City General Hospital here since August 24, today was declared sane and taken to the County Jail under $1000 bond as a result of charges that Thrasher shot up his room at the fashionable Hotel Gibson and thus was found guilty of disorderly conduct and malicious destruction of property as he also smashed up valuable hotel property. Thrasher could not explain his action in the hotel when questioned by the police, according to police report.

The message was sent by Rodgers by radio from Honolulu. It conveyed the thanks of the crew of the PN-9 No. 1 and his own appreciation for "the honor attached to my selection as assistant chief of the bureau."

In making public Commander Rodgers's message, Secretary Wilbur said he will make no comment at this time as to whether any change in plans is contemplated. It was the general impression, however, that the commander will be duly installed in his new post.

INDEFINITE DELAY IN FLIGHT OF PB-1 PLANE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Postponement to an indefinite date of the San Francisco-to-Honolulu flight of the seaplane PB No. 1 has been decided on, Capt. Stanford E. Moses, flight arrangements commander, said today.

The two principal reasons, he said, are that the autumnal equinoctial storms are due shortly, and that the ships used as guard craft at the time of the flight of the PN-9 No. 1 are not available, they having been directed to proceed at once to San Diego and prepare for gunnery practice.

The crew of the PB No. 1 has been hoping all along that orders would be received to make the flight and several days ago the plane was said to be in perfect condition for the 2100-mile journey.

REPAIR WORK ON PN-1 GOES ON SWIFTLY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Sept. 14.—The entire air station repair force, augmented by a number of civilians, is working on the naval seaplane PN-9, No. 1, getting it into shape to take the air as soon as possible.

The activities followed confidential orders received from Washington to get the plane in shape as soon as possible. The repair force is working four shifts day and night and eating in the hangar.

MORE PURE BRED STOCK

State's Cattle Show Increase Despite Plague

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—Despite the foot-and-mouth disease that was prevalent in several counties in 1924, the number of pure-bred cattle in California increased more than 3000 in the last year. This is shown by figures released today by M. D. Lack, secretary of the State Board of Equalization, and obtained from county assessors. Lack's report shows that in 1924 the number of pure-bred cattle in the State totaled 27,771 as compared with 30,818 for this year. The number of stock cattle decreased, the 1925 report listing 875,911 head, against 1,027,731 in 1924.

Mitchell Case No Hindrance to Aviation Quiz

Department may take will not interfere in any way with the work of the special board appointed by President Coolidge to study the problem of aviation and its relation to the national defense.

In making this announcement today officials pointed out that the two proceedings are entirely separate and distinct. Any action taken against Col. Mitchell will be based solely on the statement published by him violently assailing the administration of aviation by the Army and Navy which is now officially before the department.

The matter to be investigated by the President's board, it was pointed out, is infinitely bigger than the case of any one man, and any testimony to be given by Col. Mitchell before the board will be merely incidental in comparison with the scope of its inquiry. At the same time it was declared there will be no interference with or embarrassment of any testimony which the air board might desire from Col. Mitchell.

It is not believed at the War Department that the disciplinary action against Col. Mitchell will conflict in any way with the proceedings of the air board and therefore no question has arisen as to the advisability of postponing action by the department until after the Colonel has appeared before the board, assuming that his testimony naturally will be desired by the members. The War Department action will proceed from now on largely as a matter of army routine and the court-martial, if appointed, probably will sit here, since its members must be senior to Col. Mitchell and it will be difficult to organize such a court in the Eighth Corps Area.

SNODY REFUTES CHARGES OF MITCHELL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, Sept. 14.—Denying Col. William Mitchell's charges of inefficiency and swivel-chair direction of the United States Military and naval aviation forces, Lieut. A. P. Snody, commander of the PN-9 No. 1, which was forced down at sea on the recent Hawaiian flight, today characterized Mitchell's statements as a part of the pre-Congress move toward consolidation of the military and naval air forces.

"Col. Mitchell's charges that military and naval aviators are forced by their superiors to take unnecessary risks by flying in obsolete ships, and without regard to weather or other conditions, are not based upon fact," Snody said.

"Commander Zachary Lansdowne of the Shenandoah was my personal friend, and I know that he would not have had the slightest compunction at refusing to take his ship out if he thought the lives of his men and the safety of his ship would have been jeopardized by such a trip.

"The Shenandoah and the PN-9 ships were the finest and safest that could have been had, and I am satisfied that it was not any fault in the construction of the ship that caused the Shenandoah disaster, as I know it was no fault of the ships that the PN-9, No. 1 and PN-9, No. 3 failed to reach Hawaii as planned.

"I am satisfied that the Shenandoah was wrecked by the storm which struck her unexpectedly," he said.

"The PN-9 ships were highly developed and will withstand almost unbelievable buffeting by elements and severest possible strains of flying, as is attested by the experiences of the crew of the PN-9 No. 3.

"When we were traveling at a high rate of speed several hundred feet above the surface of the sea on the Hawaiian flight an oil line broke, removing the pressure from the motors, and there was only one thing that remained for us to do; that was to shut off the engines and make a landing on the water.

"From the elevation at which we were flying and the speed the ship was making, it was necessary that our ship be landed at a speed of approximately seventy miles an hour."

ing death rate during the last few years as an evidence of the effects of prohibition," said the report. "It is true that this decline and the increased expectation of life have certainly greatly impressed insurance actuaries, but one cannot with certainty assign to the prohibition regime more than a moderate influence in bringing about the reduction. . . . HILL WILL SEEK REPEAL OF AMENDMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14.—Representative John Philip Hill of the Third Maryland District, today announced that at the opening of Congress in December, he will introduce an amendment to the Constitution providing for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. Hill said his decision was made several weeks ago and announcement at this time was prompted by reading excerpts from the report on prohibition of the Federal Council of Churches. Investigators, this report said, saw an "unfavorable and disquieting trend since 1920 in the social consequences of prohibition."

Representative Hill has taken part in many debates in the House in opposition to prohibition, and has introduced several bills seeking modification of the Volstead Act.

FAVORS TO FEDERAL PRISONERS ATTACKED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Irregularities in the handling of Federal prisoners confined in the Cook County Jail will be the first matter to be considered by the Federal grand jury, which convened today, Edward A. Olsen, District Attorney, made the announcement tonight after a conference with the jury. The matters under immediate investigation will be the manner in which Terrence Druggan, wealthy beer runner, was enabled to leave the jail for a period of several days on various occasions, and how Frank Lake, his partner, came to be released from the jail more than two months before the expiration of his sentence. Both were serving a year for contempt of court.

MURDER OF MRS. COOK UNSOLVED

Husband's Story Given Support by Testimony of Important Witness

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VINTON (Iowa) Sept. 14.—Without having arrived at any solution of the murder a week ago today of Mrs. Myrtle Underwood Cook, Vinton's W.C.T.U. and Klan leader, the Coroner's jury impaneled to find her slayer adjourned indefinitely today.

Adjournment was announced by Coroner Claude M. Modlin, immediately after important testimony was given by a witness, who strengthened the assertion of Clifford B. Cook, the slain woman's husband, that he was asleep in Grundy Center, forty miles away from Vinton, when his wife was killed.

This witness, George Buchanan of Waterloo, testified he had noticed Cook's automobile in front of the hotel at Grundy Center when he went to inspect his own at 10:30 o'clock on the night in question, the 7th inst. The officials, while not making any accusations against Cook, have been investigating to determine whether Cook had time to leave the hotel, drive to Vinton and return in time to be back the next morning.

Cook was waiting in an adjoining room all day, having been directed to be ready to resume his testimony, but he was not called. He has constantly maintained his ignorance of the identity of his wife's murderer and has been inclined to blame rum-runners or anti-Klansmen.

COURT AWARDS ESPEE $4,077,478 FOR LANDS

DECISION RENDERED IN SUIT BY GOVERNMENT TO CANCEL GRANTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 14.—United States District Judge Wolverton allowed the Southern Pacific Railroad $4,077,478.38 in the final accounting of the old Oregon and California land grant cases.

The Southern Pacific had asked for some $8,000,000, while the government conceded $1,200,000. Decision to Whether an appeal shall be taken rests with the company's legal department in San Francisco.

The accounting suit involved 100 separate lawsuits that were rolled into the one brought under the provisions of the Chamberlain-Ferris Act, passed by Congress in 1916.

It is stated by Southern Pacific attorneys that the lands recovered by the government from the old Oregon and California land grants are now worth at least $30,000,000, chiefly because of the timber on them. The district known as the O. & C. grant is composed of two grants from the government to aid in the building of the Oregon and California Railroad—the East Side grant made in 1866 and the West Side grant made in 1870.

The lands were given to the old railroad company with two covenants—that they should be sold only to actual settlers and that they could be sold only in tracts of 160 acres each.

The government alleged that the Southern Pacific proceeded to sell as it saw fit without regard to the covenants. The government took no action until some ten years ago when it brought suit to compel the company to forfeit the lands back to the Federal government upon the grounds that the railroad company had broken the covenants in the original grant.

Gov. Richardson Accepts Resignation of Nichols as Veteran Board Chairman

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—Governor Richardson today announced that he had accepted the resignation of Capt. Frank H. Nichols of Los Angeles as chairman of the State Veterans' Welfare Board, effective October 1, and that he will appoint Capt. John R. Quinn to the position. While he is to remain chairman, the Governor said, Nichols will remain as a member of the board at his request. Quinn, formerly National State Commander of the American Legion, was appointed to the board last week. Nichols is now making a trip to Europe.

"Capt. Nichols has rendered years' of efficient service to the State," said Gov. Richardson in his statement. "He is one of the most capable and energetic of our leaders.

"While he insists upon resigning as chairman, he has consented to remain on the board. Capt. Quinn will take over the duties of chairman on October 1.

Diphtheria—the Killer

Diphtheria still remains the greatest KILLER among the communicable diseases of childhood. Yet, with the active co-operation of parents, Diphtheria could be eradicated.

Ask your physician to explain to you the SCHICK test and the important knowledge it may reveal as to YOUR child.

Today it is no more necessary to subject your children to Diphtheria than it is to smallpox. For 125 years smallpox has been conquered by vaccination, just as TOXIN-Antitoxin now conquers Diphtheria.

PACKING MERGER CASE DISMISSED

Secretary Jardine Rules on Stockyard Complaint

Armour-Morris Combination Held to be Within Law

Manipulation and Control of Prices Not Evident

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Secretary Jardine today dismissed the complaint against the Armour-Morris packing merger.

The dismissal was without prejudice, and the opinion warned that "in the event that Armour & Co. violates any of the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act there is ample power and authority in the Secretary of Agriculture under that act to take appropriate effective action."

Secretary Jardine held that the acquisition by Armour & Co. of the properties of Morris & Co. did not in itself constitute a violation of the law, which provides against manipulating or controlling prices, creating a monopoly or restraining commerce.

Neither the purpose nor the effect of the merger, the Secretary ruled, involved price fixing, monopoly or unreasonable restrain of commerce. On the contrary, the opinion said, the evidence shows that the transaction was consummated in order to reduce overhead expenses and to increase the sales of finished products.

As to the actual effect of the transaction, the opinion cites evidence intended to show that Armour & Co. since the merger has controlled less than 25 per cent of the Federal-inspected slaughtered animals, which is a lower proportion than that controlled by Swift & Co., a competing firm.

Girl Freed on Story of Wild Ride

Mrs. Bessie Jones

ATTACK SLAYING JUSTIFIED

Jury Acquits Young Divorcee in Shooting to Death of Victorville Soft Drink Parlor Employee

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 14.—"Justifiable homicide" was the verdict of a Coroner's jury here today in the case of Albert Burress, 31 years of age, who was shot and killed last night by Mrs. Bessie Jones, 23-year-old divorcee.

"He boasted and then he snickered. Oh, I couldn't bear it—I closed my eyes and fired." Hysterical and tortured by her thoughts of a wild night, pretty Mrs. Jones thus today told how she avenged an attack by killing Burress at 1:30 o'clock this morning, when he brought her home from an automobile ride. Mrs. Jones, blond and blue-eyed, shot Burress through the heart as he sat in his car in front of her father's home at Verdemont, eight miles north of the city.

Charles Jones, the young woman's father, testified before the Coroner's jury that his daughter returned home at 1:30 o'clock that morning in a hysterical and highly excited condition. He said she cried to her mother that a man had insulted and attacked her and that she was going to shoot him. She seized her father's revolver from a cupboard, according to his testimony, and ran from the house crying:

"He'll never insult another woman."

Mrs. Jones herself testified that she induced Burress to wait outside the house to help her explain why she was coming in at 1:30 o'clock in the morning in case her father should hear her coming home. She procured the revolver while Burress was waiting and when she returned to him, she said, he made some further insulting remark and asked whether the father was asleep.

"I said 'Yes' and then let him have it," she testified.

"I only wanted to hurt him—not kill him," the young woman said at the County Jail as she awaited an opportunity to tell her story at the Coroner's inquest.

VICTIM COLLAPSES

Burress, mortally wounded, started his car and drove nearly 100 yards down the highway before he collapsed at the wheel, the automobile crashing into a telephone pole. The girl's father, Charles Jones, found Burrest dying in his car.

"All the way home," said Mrs. Jones, "I sat dazed and silent. He never said a word—he didn't apologize. When we arrived at my father's house, I went in and he waited to see if the door was locked. I got my father's gun and—I guess I was crazed—my thoughts of what I had gone through. I came out and he laughed. He boasted and then he snickered—" She buried her face in her hands.

"I closed my eyes and fired."

She said she then awakened her father, telling him what had occurred.

"I told my father to see if he was hurt and to take him to a hospital," said Mrs. Jones. "I didn't believed I had hurt him badly, because he shifted the gears in his car and drove away."

Jones called deputy sheriffs who rushed the dying man to a hospital in the city. He was dead when the car arrived at the hospital, physicians said. Mrs. Jones was brought to the County Jail. Then she was dry-eyed.

SHERIFF COVERS COURSE

This morning the girl took Sheriff Walter A. Shay over the route that she traveled with Burriss last night. Burress, she said, called at her home early in the evening to take her for a ride. Despite her pleas he drove into the scarcely populated district near Lytle Creek she said and stopped his car. She escaped from him and fled across the wash. Mrs. Jones told the officer. Her tracks across the sandy wash were discernible this morning.

"Burress drove around the road and picked me up," said she. "He said get in and I will be a man and take you home. But he did not.

"He drove west again and farther out in to the wash. Then he tried to force me to drink whisky. I threw the bottle as far as I could fling it and got out of the car again. He caught me and when I struggled he kicked me in the stomach." Officers said there were teeth marks and scratches on Burress's body. The half-filled whisky bottle was found in the brush near the scene of the asserted attack. The girl was waiting for the officers when they arrived at her home. She said she had known Burress but a few days.

She met him at a soft-drink parlor where he was employed in Victorville.

Mrs. Mary Williams of South Pasadena was among the number of motorists who attempted to follow the officers in their wild dash to the hospital with the dying Burress. Near the city the car hit a dip in the highway and Mrs. Williams was thrown through the top of the car. She was taken to the hospital unconscious but was quickly revived.

BUTLER CANCELS WESTERN TOUR

Republican Committee Chief May Visit Chicago

Political Situation Views Given by Leader

Plans Candidacy to Retain Seat in Senate

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Chairman Butler of the Republican National Committee, announced today that while he might visit Chicago during the winter he had abandoned his plans for a trip through the West this fall.

"I have been led to the conclusion by extended correspondence and personal conferences that a trip of that kind is unnecessary at this time," he said. "Party interest and party activity is such as to make such a journey unnecessary.

"There is a good deal of active party interest at this time. I found after the last campaign that the people wanted to carry on and they have done so. There is a very strong feeling of support for the President and the administration, and conditions as they respect politics, are very satisfactory."

Senator Butler said the special primaries in the West had nothing to do with his decision, declaring that the national committee was taking no interest in the party contests in Wisconsin, where Robert M. La Follette, Jr., is seeking the Senatorial nomination to succeed his father, or in the other States where they are to be held.

Turning to the forthcoming session of Congress, he said he expected tax revision to be taken up promptly, and looked for passage of a satisfactory bill. He knew of no move by manufacturing interests to seek any tariff changes, and his personal opinion was that there would be no concerted move for tariff revision.

Despite the recurring rumors about his appointment to the Cabinet, Senator Butler asserted that he expected to be a candidate to succeed himself in the Senate next year.

"I will make an announcement on that subject in due time," he said, but added that, since he did not want to be bashful on the subject, he was willing to say that he would offer himself for re-election.

CONVENTION OF SCHOOL HEADS SET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—The annual convention of the county and city superintendents of schools will be conducted in Pasadena during the week beginning October 12, according to an announcemet here today.

The outstanding subject to be discussed concerns the reorganization of the course of study in the elementary schools in keeping with the law enacted by the 1925 Legislature, which reduced the number of subjects required to be taught from twenty to twelve.

Results of the elementary curriculum investigation, which was conducted under the direction of the National Education Research organization, will be detailed by Dr. George C. Kyte of the University of California.

A definite recommendation regarding the course of study in the elementary schools will be made with a view to concentrating on the fundamental subjects. Other subjects to be discussed are:

Adult education, junior high schools, problems of teacher training and supply and character training, looking to the control of juvenile delinquency.

Mechanic Kills Divorced Wife and Then Self

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 14. Thomas Baisley, an automobile mechanic, waylaid his divorced wife Evelette as she was returning home from a party. He beat up her escort, W. D. Pflug, forced the frightened the woman into a car and drove off. The next morning the car containing the dead man and his dying wife was found near Franklin in Morgan county. The woman died in Jacksonville, where she was taken to the hospital for attention. Baisley had shot her and turned the weapon on himself. He had frequently threatened to kill her.

They were divorced some three months ago and Baisley had been persistent in his efforts to have her return to him.

Vera Cruz Seeks Three Millions for Road Making

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VERA CRUZ (Mex.) Sept. 14.—The government of the State of Vera Cruz is negotiating for a loan of 6,000,000 pesos, equivalent to $3,000,000 United States money, the amount to be used in constructing modern highways in the agricultural parts of the State.

Automobile and motor truck communication with some of these rich outlying agricultural districts is impossible on account of the lack of roads. Surveys for the highway which is to be constructed when the loan is obtained, are now in progress.

REPAIR LOCOMOTIVES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—Two large Santa Fe locomotives, which lately met in a head-on collision north of this point are being placed in condition here for haulage to San Bernardino, where repairs will be made. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

Farm Experts Take Witness Stand at Hearing

Expenses Compared With Figures in 1914

Commerce Commission to End Case Wednesday

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Two farm statisticians told Clyde B. Aitchison, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, today that the western farmer has a purchasing power above his prewar financial strength, and a third witness testified that railroad construction at present shows a cost increase of 185 per cent as compared with that of 1914.

Their testimony was part of the western railroads' efforts to obtain a 5 per cent freight rate increase.

The present hearing is ex-parte and Chairman Aitchison announced today that during the noon recess tomorrow he wishes to meet with the interested parties to decide on the hearing of evidence opposed to the railroads' demands.

TO CLOSE HEARING

The commission chairman stated that the present hearing will be concluded Wednesday evening and, looking toward that end, directed that tomorrow's session open thirty minutes earlier than usual, with the prospect of a night session, if necessary.

Dr. David Friday, formerly president of the Michigan State Agricultural College, and George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, were announced as two of tomorrow's witnesses, with H. E. Byram, receiver for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, and Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago, Great Western, also mentioned as probable witnesses.

Frank G. Squire, valuation engineer of the President's conference on valuation of the western railways, was today's last witness.

"Every general account in the classification set up by the Interstate Commerce Commission for recording railway construction costs shows a very marked increase in 1925 as compared with 1914, for performing the same work or for buying similar types of equipment," he testified.

FIGURES COMPARED

Comparing 1925 figures with those of 1914, he testified that these increases among others were noted:

"Grading, 65 per cent; track laying and surfacing, 125 per cent; locomotive prices, 110 per cent; freight car prices, 90 per cent; passenger car prices, 90 per cent.

H. W. Moorehouse, formerly director of economic research for the American Farm Bureau Federation, and now general supervisor of the agricultural research division of the Brookmire economic service, cited a great mass of statistics from which he concluded:

"These figures are highly significant, indicating, as they do that the farmer's income is so much higher now than during the prewar period that it can buy from 10 to 15 per cent more goods than it could in even those prewar years, at which time agriculture was in an exceedingly favorable position."

FARMER BETTER OFF

He stated that the western farmer is more securely situated than the farmers of other sections.

The testimony of W. J. Hagenah, formerly statistician for the Wisconsin Commerce Commission, and prominent public utility rate expert, testified as to the farmers' condition much along the same line as had Mr. Moorehouse.

He also cited figures from banking, immigration, manual labor and tax reports to substantiate his statement that the great economic forces are displaying a tendency to restore an equilibrium for which economists have been striving for years and which could be interfered with only by a violent upheaval.

OLDEST FREE MASON DIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Sept. 14.—Dr. Joseph Singer Halstead, the oldest Free Mason in the United States, and possibly the oldest in the world, died at his home at Brookenridge, Mo., last night at the age of 107. He had eighty living descendants. He saw Gen. Lafayette in this country in 1824 and was family physician and personal friend of Henry Clay. He was born in Lexington, Ky., March 4, 1818. Dr. Halstead was a member of Brookenridge Lodge No. 334, F. & A. M., and will have a Masonic funeral.

Australia Mine Strikers Fight Blaze in Shaft

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BRISBANE (Australia) Sept. 14. A serious fire broke out in the famous Mount Morgan gold and copper mine near Rockhampton, Queensland, which might have been disastrous if a strike had not been proceeding. When the striking miners saw the blaze in the mine buildings and the dense smoke from the mine shaft they rushed from the neighboring township, commandeered every available vehicle and went up the side of the mountain to the mine. A mass meeting of the strikers decided to volunteer their aid. They worked the power-house and succeeded in partially controlling the flames. There is no evidence of incendiarism.

Max Pam, Who Directed Steel Merger, Dies

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Max Pam of Chicago, known as one of the greatest corporation lawyers in America, died unexpectedly yesterday at his New York home, 16 West Sixty-fifth street, after a heart attack. He was 60 years of age.

Mr. Pam was one of the lawyers who directed the epoch-making organization of the United States Steel Corporation. He represented the Deering interests in the formation of the International Harvester Company, and handled for E. H. Harriman the merger that resulted in the organization of the Kansas City Southern Railroad. In these enterprises he blazed the trails that American industrial leaders have followed in massing their interests.

On his own behalf Mr. Pam participated with Charles G. Dawes, now Vice-President of the United States, in the organization of the Central Trust Company of Illinois.

WILD CAT KILLED BY NEW JERSEY POLICE

BAYONNE (N. J.) Sept. 14.—Eleven shots from a police automatic pistol were required to kill a giant wild cat cornered on a porch at 13 Washington Parkway, Bayonne.

The cat, said to be much larger than the average, had attacked several children and adults before it was killed, Patrolman William Barry fired the shots ending its life. The police are unable to account for the animal, but think it may have escaped from a ship and swum ashore.

SILK WORTH MILLIONS REACHES VANCOUVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 14. Two silk ships with total estimated cargoes of $12,500,000 worth of silken fabrics, raw silk and silk products arrived in this port last week. The Bluefunnel liner Tyndareous discharged 500 tons of silk for transport across Canada on the Canadian National Railways. The ship had 100 tons of Vancouver general. The Royal Mail ship Empress of Asia brought 320 tons of silk and a large general cargo. The silk started across the continent as a thirty-eight-car train on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

SENTENCE RANCHER IN SLAYING OVER SHEEP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) Sept. 14.—Frank Way, convicted of manslaughter here last week in connection with the slaying of Timothy Murphy, was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary and fined $1000 today by Circuit Judge Lesvitt. Way and Murphy, both prominent Central Oregon sheepmen, engaged in a fist fight last May over the possession of a black sheep, the fight resulting in Murphy's death from a skull fracture.

PLOT HINTED IN STANFIELD CASE

Political Adviser Declares Arrest Unwarranted

Tells of Frame-up Plans Given by Detective

Friends Rally to Support of Oregon Senator

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 14.—T. B. Neuhausen, one of Senator Robert N. Stanfield's principal political advisers, made the following statement here today in regard to the arrest last night at Baker, Or., of Senator Stanfield on a charge of being disorderly in a cafe in Baker:

"After reading the account of the arrest in the Sunday-night editions of the newspapers, I talked with Senator Stanfield over the long-distance telephone and was assured by him that there was no justification whatever for the arrest. William Pollman of Baker, who was in possession of the facts, likewise assured me that the attack on the Senator was entirely without provocation.

FRAME-UP CHARGED

"In my opinion the occurrence at Baker is merely the forerunner of several attempts which will be made to entangle the Senator in disorderly conduct charges. A private detective called at my office last Saturday afternoon and informed me that he had been invited to be a party to a 'frame-up' of that kind during the Pendleton round-up, Senator Stanfield to be the victim. My informant had been asked to proceed to Pendleton on Saturday night's train and to assist in arranging the details of the plot in time to put it into execution during the round-up. I have the name of the man who solicited this detective's co-operation in the scheme and an investigation will be started at once to determine the identity of the others involved.

"At 8:30 o'clock last Saturday evening I called up Senator Stanfield at Baker over the telephone and warned him to be on his guard against attempts to trap him. He informed me that the schedule of meetings of the Senate Committee on Public Lands, of which he is chairman, has been changed and that he could not attend the round-up. The new schedule, he informed me, called for meetings at Boise, Idaho, today, at Burns, Or., tomorrow, and at Winnemucca, Nev., on Thursday. I again cautioned him to be watchful as the efforts to involve him in a public fracas might be made in another city, in the event it became known that he intended to stay away from the round-up."

A report from Baker this morning said that Senator Stanfield left there last night in order to keep his schedule of the Senate committee meetings.

BAKER OPINION ON ARREST DIVIDED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BAKER (Or.) Sept. 14.—Opinion in Baker is divided today as a result of the arrest of Senator Robert N. Stanfield in a local eating-place last night by S. W. Edens, member of the city police force. Friends of the Senator hold the arrest was an outrage, some charging a frame-up by Stanfield's enemies. City officials take the view that the arrest was merely a routine matter and should be disposed of as any similar case. Police promptly denied the charge of frame-up.

"I shall handle this case exactly as I would handle it if it involved any other man," said Frank McColloch, City Attorney, today. "I shall examine witnesses and determine whether the facts warrant a complaint. If a complaint is drawn it will charge disorderly conduct only."

DATE NOT SET

A date has not been set for the trial as Senator Stanfield has already left for Boise, Idaho, where a hearing of the Senate Public Lands Committee, of which Stanfield is chairman, is scheduled. Date of the trial, if the case is pressed, will be fixed to suit the convenience of the Senator, McColloch stated today.

The arrest occurred at 8 p.m. Sunday. Stanfield was struck in the face by the officer and on the side of the head by the officer's gun. He was not seriously injured. He was taken to the police station on foot. A big crowd gathered and friends put up $50 bail. A charge of drunk and disorderly conduct appears on the police blotter today but it was indicated that this will be changed to a charge of disorderly conduct only.

Officer Edens asserted that Stanfield resisted arrest and called him vile names, and that the blows struck were justified. He called on bystanders for assistance. He insisted Stanfield was intoxicated. Stanfield was said to have been dining with two women when the officer entered. Edens said he did not know the Senator, never having seen him before.

No further action in the case is expected today, though it is indicated that Stanfield's friends believe he was unjustly arrested and will fight the charge if one is brought.

ACQUIRE WATER RIGHT

Petroleum Company Plans Pipes to New Oil Field

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Sept. 14.—Sentiment has again been disregarded in the excitable scramble for new oil production that is going on in Central Oklahoma. The Magnolia Petroleum Company has acquired water rights to an ol' swimmin' hole in Deep Fork Creek on the farm of Dan Norton, three miles southwest of Chandler, and the water is to be pumped into the Davenport field, about seven miles southwest, and used for drilling purposes. A water shortage during the summer handicapped drilling in the Davenport area. The water right is said to have cost the Magnolia $8000 and the pipe line will cost about $16,000.

WATER COMPANY FILES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—Irrigation of the large land holdings of the Pima Farms Company and water service to farmer customers hereafter will be handled by a separate corporation, the Catalina Water Company, which has filed with the State Corporation Commission articles of incorporation, with capital stock of $1,000,000.

French Government Grants Tennis Star Permission to Remain in Tourney

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 14.—Rene La Coste of the French Davis Cup team, was late today granted an extension of time to report for military duty in his native country, thus allowing him to continue play in the national tennis championship here.

Following word from his father that he had been called for immediate duty, he appealed to the French military authorities. The reply permitted the 20-year-old star to remain until next Tuesday when he will sail for France.

The original order required La Coste to join the French motor corps at once, the penalty for failure to do so being demotion.

OWENS-STONE BATTLE AGAIN HALTED BY RAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Rain this afternoon at East Chicago caused the promoters of the Owens-Stone bout, set for tonight, to call off the contest and set it ahead one week. The fight, together with the five preliminary bouts, will be held the 21st inst. The encounter had previously been postponed from last Friday night.

BUD FISHER'S COLT BRINGS TOP PRICE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ZIVIC DEFEATS BASIL GALIANO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh welterweight, was awarded a judges' decision over Basil Galiano of New Orleans in a ten-round bout at the Queensboro Stadium tonight. Zivic weighed 140 pounds, Galiano, 138 3-4.

Four Foreigners Eliminated in National Tennis

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 14.—Form predominated in the national tennis championships on the grass courts at the West Side Tennis Club today, not a single upset piercing the placid atmosphere of the tournament. So true was the play to form that only four se's were lost by the fourteen American and foreign seeded stars.

In the twenty-seven matches played, only seven went to four sets while two others were dragged along to the limit of five sets to arrive at a decision.

FISCHER EASY PREY

William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia, the playing-through champion, had little trouble eliminating his fellow townsman, Carl Fischer, despite the score. Tilden toyed with his rival, softening up his service and his drives until pressed for a point when he applied the pressure and rode through safely.

In the first set the champion took a bit too much liberty with his opponent and came to a position where Fischer was within a point of the set, but the titleholder brought into force his dynamic service and Fischer's first and last chance to embarrass the champion by winning a set faded into the bygone. Tilden won, 9-7, 6-0, 7-5.

Howard O. Kinsey of San Francisco, No. 4 on the national ranking list, was given a scare by Masonosuke Fukuda, when the little oriental took the first set, at 6-4 but Kinsey came back to win the next three sets and the match. Kinsey's defeat in the first set was the only set dropped by an American seeded player.

FOUR FOREIGNERS DOSE

Twelve foreigners started today's play and four dropped by the wayside, one by the default route and three on the field of battle. Max Decugis, captain of the French Davis Cup team, was forced to default his match to Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., owing to the fact he has booked passage for France on Wednesday. Jose M. Alonso of Spain, Masonosuke Fukuda of Japan and H. Iwasaki of Japan, were the other foreigners to be tossed into the discard.

OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON TODAY

Trojans Hold Spotlight in Southern California

Spaulding Mentors Dark Horse Team at S.B.U.C.

Occidental Faces Brightest Season in Years

BY BRAVEN DYER

The 1925 football season descends on the expectant and palpitating grid public this afternoon, when representatives of Southern California institutions report for the first practice of the year. For all concerned the workout today will be stern business, as practically every eleven has a game scheduled for a week from Saturday and even veteran organizations find difficulty in functioning properly with but ten days' training.

Chief interest in Los Angeles centers around the debut of Howard Jones, the former University of Iowa mentor, at U.S.C. Jones, a man with a national reputation as a coach, steps into a bed of roses in the way of material. He's got seventeen lettermen returning, has last year's frosh team—defeated in but one game—practically intact, and in addition inherits a lot of other likely looking athletes.

TROJANS AT STADIUM

The Trojans open the season a week from Saturday at the Coliseum. They play Whittier in one game and then turn right around and take on Caltech in the other. Jones will use two separate teams against the opposition.

The situation at the other Southern California institutions is briefly described as follows:

Southern Branch—Determined to fight its way out of the Southern California Conference into the Pacific Coast body. New coach, Bill Spaulding, has task ahead of him, as Grizzlies have been woefully weak in football ever since entering the southern group some six years ago. Much good material, which Spaulding has said is hardly heavy enough to suit.

Occidental—Facing the biggest athletic years in the history of the Eagle Rock institution. Sid Nichols, in his second year at the helm, has twelve lettermen to pick his team from, ten of them having been regulars last year. Will have strong line, with backfield his only worry—and he won't get gray-headed or weary from lack of sleep over that.

POMONA CHANCES SLIM

Pomona—Entering the leanest football year since 1921, when Coach Nixon had but three veterans back. A bit worse off this season, as he has but two now to start with. Looks as if "Beefy" Heath will fashion a fast-charging, fairly heavy line, while backfield is almost certain to be made up of sophomores, with the single exception of Capt. Ed McCully, fullback.

Whittier—Launching forth on a new and bigger athletic policy. Will not use freshmen for the first time in history. Debut of Leo Calland as Poet coach will be watched by all Southern California fans. Has more than a dozen veterans, with strength equally divided between line and backfield. Bit weak on the ends.

Caltech—Handicapped by lack of practice time, due to heavy academic schedules carried by engineering students. Ought to be stronger than last year, especially if Bob Stein, giant tackle of two years ago, returns. Should have good backfield, with line not too strong.

Redlands—Very little known about 'em. Have new coach in Harry "Hoge" Workman, former Ohio State star. Sandy McGilbra, Oklahoma Indian, who plays without socks, is captain. Will undoubtedly use strong passing game. Probably weak on defense.

MEDAL LEADERS COVER COURSE WITH 73 CARD

Dr. Paul Hunter Finishes Only One Stroke Behind in State Golfing Tourney at Del Monte

BY BILL WISE
"Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DEL MONTE, Sept. 14.—George Von Elm, California's greatest amateur, and Chandler Egan, flashy veteran from the Northwest, medaled 73 over the difficult Pebble Beach course here today, to tie for low gross honors in the greatest amateur championship tourney the State of California has ever witnessed.

While the two outstanding stars from diverging sections of the country were coming home 1 over par to electrify the first-day gallery, numbering more than 500 persons, nearly forty players in the title event were finishing under 80, a remarkable record for one of the most difficult courses in the State.

Dr. Paul M. Hunter, former State and southern champion, finished with a 74, one stroke behind the leaders, and materially increased his chances of again winning the State classic by his fine showing. The Annandale ace was at home at Pebble Beach, and should make a strong bid for medal honors in the thirty-six qualifying round that will be completed tomorrow.

SWITCHES COURSE

Harold Thompson, youthful Glendale star, runner-up in the Los Angeles public title tourney several months ago, also medaled 74, after burning up the first nine with a scorching 32. With a course record and first-day low gross honors stowed away, the youthful golfer slipped just enough to require 42 heart-breaking strokes coming home.

Frank Dolp, another golfing youngster, hailing from the Great Northwest, was the third star of the day to shoot 74. Dolp, rated by the critics as one of the best golfers for his age in the country, played beautiful golf today and was never in trouble. His few necessary recovery shots were played with the skill and poise of a seasoned veteran and over the shorter Del Monte course, tomorrow, should continue his par golf. Ray Palmer, hard-hitting La Cumbre southpaw, slowed up enough here today to play some

MICHELSON WINNER IN LONG RACE

Veteran is First to Tape in Fifteen-Mile Run and is New Champion

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YANKEE STADIUM (New York) Sept. 14. — Albert "Whitey" Michelson, veteran Cygnet A.C. runner, tonight became national A.A.U. fifteen-mile champion in the first running of the event at athletic games of New York Chapter, Knights of Columbus. The Port Chester athlete distanced a field of thirty-two, including the Olympic Marathon champion, Albin Stenroos of Finland, and his compatriot, Willie Kyronen.

Michelson stepped to the front during the eleventh mile, taking the lead from Stenroos, and raced away from the two Finns to win by almost a full lap over Kyronen. Stenroos found the pace too hot and dropped out at the thirteenth milepost, enabling Frank N. Wendling of Buffalo, N. Y., to finish third.

Announcement was made by the officials that Michelson had broken three American distance records in his victorious race, stepping twelve miles in 1h. 8m. 40s., thirteen miles in 1h. 12m. 21 4-5s., and fourteen miles in 1h. 18m. 9 3-5s. The former marks, made by Jim Crowley of the Irish-American A.C. in 1909, were 1h. 8m. 50 3-5s. for twelves miles, 1h. 12m. 49 3-5s. for thirteen miles and 1h. 18m. 56 3-5s for fourteen miles. He failed by twenty seconds and a fraction to equal the fifteen-mile rec-

STANISLAUS ZBYSZKO IS WINNER OVER GARDINI

Veteran Polish Wrestler Defeats Italian in Two Falls After Losing First at Olympic

BY PAUL LOWRY

Stanislaus Zbyszko, the bare-footed kid from Poland, won the right to meet Joe Stecher for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship September 28, by defeating Renato Gardini in two out of three falls at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

Stanny lost the first fall to the spaghetti champ through a rather unexpected flying headlock, but he proved it was considerable of a mistake by grabbing the last two falls in jig time—both through the medium of double-arm grapevines, which in the language of the laymen might be interpreted to mean bar arm locks.

The first fall resulted after 19m. 30s. of action. The second required 16m. 20s. and the auf wiedersehn call was completed in 7m. 35s.

STRONG ENTHUSIASM

While the turnout was not as good as at some of Carnation Lou Daro's toe-twisting festivals the fans made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers, to use a moth-eaten expression. Gardini put a good cap on it between falls when Jim Londos was introduced as his challenger and he impolitely turned his back on the Greek when the latter tried to shake hands with him. The fans disenlarynged themselves in striving to make him ashamed of himself.

Londos won the semi-wind-up from Don Castanos in 49m. flat with a headlock and reverse body scissors.

Phil Kaplan and Harmon Box to Draw

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Willie Harmon, East Side welterweight and Knockout Phil Kaplan of Harlem battled ten rounds to a draw tonight in the main ten-round bout at the Queensboro Stadium. The East-side fighter, who is striving for a chance at Mickey Walker's crown, started off in whirlwind fashion in the early part of the bout, but Kaplan more than evened things in the closing rounds. Harmon weighed 145 pounds and Kaplan 146 pounds.

The semifinals, also a ten-rounder, resulted in a victory for Jack Zivic of Pittsburgh over Basil Galiano of New Orleans. Despite a closing rally by Galiano the Pittsburgher got the decision for his work in the early part of the bout together with his heady battling when Galiano made his bid toward the end of the ten rounds.

SUDS SELL LUCAS TO CINCINNATI CLUB

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—Fred Lucas, youthful pitcher and utility man of the Seattle baseball club of the Pacific Coast League, was sold today to the Cincinnati Reds. He is to report next spring.

Lucas was the second Indian sold before a draft ruling goes into effect tomorrow, under which major league clubs can take men from the minor circuits by paying $5000 each for them. Floyd C. Herman, first baseman, was sold to Brooklyn yesterday.

SHEARER SETS WORLD RECORD

Pennsylvanian Shoots 398 Out of Possible 400

ritish Team Still to Report on Their Results

Golden State Team Defeats Crack Marine Squad

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CAMP PERRY (O.) Sept. 14.—A new world's record was established here today when E. F. Shearer, Renovo, Pa., scored 398 out of a possible 400 in the international small-bore team match. His mark is one point higher than that of Sargeant O. M. Shriver, United States Marine Corps, Washington, last year. It is the third successive year the mark has been lowered.

The United States team of which Shearer was high man, piled up a record score in the match with 7791 out of a possible 8000, 12 points better than last year. The winner cannot be determined until the British team, which fires on its home ranges, reports. The Canadian and Australian teams, also eligible, did not compete.

Shearer also won the small-bore fifty-yard metallic sight match.

The Herrick Trophy went to the California civilian rifle team. Its 1783 out of a possible 1800 was 10 points better than the Marine Corps. Iowa was third, with 1756. The Cuban team landed seventh. Corporal H. C. Walker, Marines, won the timed-fire pistol match with 191 out of a possible 200, and the slow-fire pistol match was won by J. J. Dunn, Springfield, Mass., with 194 out of a possible 200.

The National Rifle Association grand aggregate match was awarded to Corporal Edward Feury, Marines, who scored 636 against 635 for Lieut. Pierson E. Conradt, and 633 for Corporal Harry L. Nasson, also of the Marines.

OUTSIDER WINS EASILY

Provident Trust Takes Straight Heat Victory in Special 2:15 Pace at Syracuse

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Sept. 14.—Provident Trust, Peter Coley and Kentucky Todd, Jr., were the winners on the opening day of the Grand Circuit meeting at the New York State Fair here today. Provident Trust, an outsider in the pools, hung up a straight heat victory in the special 2:15 pace for $800 while Kentucky Todd, Jr., duplicated the feat in the 2:14 trot. Peter Coley finished third to Peter S. in the first heat of the 2:08 trot but found his speed in the second and third heats for victory.

Provident Trust with Philbun in the sulky had easy sailing all the way in the 2:15 pace and came home easing up. Kentucky Todd, Jr., was forced to come from behind in both heats to win the 2:14 trot. Dickerson set the early pace with Bigen Asoff, but could not hold it against Kentucky Todd, Jr.'s final spurt. Tommy Murphy's Dr. Strongworthy and Walter Cox's Greyworthy were favorites in the 2:08 trot, but neither had the speed and stamina to match the gait of Peter Coley, the winner, and Peter S., which captured the first heat. Peter S. was out in front most of the way in the first heat and led most of the way in the second. Crozier got his pupil up with the leaders early in the second heat, and in a driving finish was just a nose better than Greyworthy.

Murphy made a strong bid for a heat in the third circuit and stuck with Peter Coley to the turn into the stretch. Dr. Strongworthy was unable to last it out and was passed by Peter S., and Greyworthy in the last 100 yards.

Heavy rains of Sunday made the dirt track too heavy for use and all the races were run over the seven-eighths mile cinder oval. Tomorrow's feature is the $10,000 Empire State Stake for 2:08 trotters. The summaries:

Stanton Will Trot Out His Players Today

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—Faced with the task of whipping his charges into shape in less than two weeks' time for their game with U.S.C. a week from Saturday, Fox Stanton, Caltech mentor, will trot his squad out on the Tournament Park turf for its initial workout tomorrow afternoon.

With a mere handful of letter men returning this season Stanton will find a generous sprinkling of inexperienced men on his roster following the roll call tomorrow. Jack Baker, who for two seasons has been a mainstay of the Fox's backfield, will pilot the Engineer eleven this year. He will be on hand to assist Stanton with the opening practice.

Stanton's son, Layton, who called signals for the Engineers last year, will be among those present tomorrow. "Stew" Johnson, a halfback, is the only other veteran back scheduled to report.

Nichols, who played a great game at center last season, is the only lineman of experience Stanton is counting on to return. It is rumored, however, that Stein, one of the outstanding tackles of the Conference two years ago, and Herrington, an end, who played alongside Stein on the Caltech team, which tied Pomona for the championship in 1923, may be on deck tomorrow.

crotch-hold and half-Nelson after 34m. 20s. of intensive grappling.

Abie gradually wore his opponent down with one hold after another until the finishing lock, when Nick was too weak to dispute matters further and bowed gamely to the inevitable. The end might have come sooner, but Abie was handicapped to a certain extent by a large, luminous boil on his right leg.

TOUGH LUCK

Before the semi-wind-up between Don Andreas Castanos and Jim Londos started Renato Gardini, the Italian champ, clambered into the ring and with many angry gesticulations strove to be introduced for some reason or other. The effort was unsuccessful, Charley Keppen, the meticulous announcer, refusing to recognize him, despite frantic pleas from the ringside by Lou Daro.

Castanos and Londos got under way, but were halted suddenly by the breaking of a light globe, which crashed into the ring and brought a cessation of hostilities. Referee Tommy Travers fearing the boys might stab themselves in the gizzard.

Tommy called a couple of members of the "white wing union," both sporting dark maps, to sweep away the debris. After considerable high and low peering the dusky sweepers with the youthful brooms managed to clear the battleground to such an extent that the gladiators were able to continue the festivities. The show was postponed four minutes.

OUT OF THE RING

For forty-eight minutes the boys heaved and tugged, working out of one hold after another, which included a double-head scissors that brought the warriors rolling across the ring into the ringsiders' laps much to the huge amusement of the crowd.

In the last minute of the fray Londos worked out of a punishing head scissors, and infuriated by the severity of Castanos's attack rushed at his foe like a wild man. Leaping furiously upon Castanos he bore him to the floor with a head scissors, following with three more, the last of which, coupled with a reverse body scissors, left Castanos inert upon the mat after forty-nine minutes of strenuous mussing.

Grizzlies Get Gridiron Togs for Fall Work

The 1925 football season at the local University of California was unofficially opened yesterday at an enthusiastic sign-up rally on Moore Field. Freshman and varsity grid aspirants were signed up and suits issued for the first official practice which will be held this afternoon. The climax of the rally came at 3 o'clock when Bill Spaulding, varsity coach; Earle Gardner, captain of the varsity, and Fred Oster, freshman coach, each gave brief talks on the coming football events.

In his talk, Spaulding emphasized the importance of every student, both ed and co-ed fighting just as hard in the grandstand as the men on the field.

Some three-score varsity men turned out in football togs and chased the elusive pigskin around for a short practice. From the heaving chests and damp brows it was evident that many pounds of excess fat would have to be taken off in the next few days.

Football practice will start in earnest tomorrow when Spaulding will take the field to give his material a thorough workout. From the look of the list, he should have a goodly number from which to pick a winning eleven.

HUNTING DEER NOW THE GAME

Southern Buck Season Opens Tomorrow; Business Waits

New Permit Ruling Big Help to Hunters Over Refuges

Fish and Game Commission Urges Care About Fires

BY EDWIN L. HEDDERLY

Conduct of the community's general business might be simplified somewhat by setting down the 16th inst. as a red-letter holiday for Southern California's licensed nimrods.

Few deer hunters will be found at their desks or benches the remainder of this week. Wonderfully cool weather—fairly favorable dark nights—and closing of the ranges in Los Angeles county by a county fire-prevention ordinance—all combine to concentrate rifle-toters in the outside mountainous territory frequented by deer and still remaining open for those with the requisite energy and ambition to seek their own wild meat.

Deer hunting became legally a thing of the past in up-coast districts from Ventura above last night; but buck-stalking will continue the king of outdoor sports for high-power riflemen everywhere else in California util October 15, next, with a wise provision of law permitting possession of any lawfully killed flesh or game five days after the close of the season for taking it. Thus is given an opportunity to consume or give away what otherwise would have been wasted if bagged on the last day.

ENFORCE LAWS

Various efforts have been made by the sportsmen's Fish and Game Commission to so interpret and enforce the necessary wild-life conservation laws as to avoid any needless hardship upon the law-abiding majority of hunting licensees whose inadequate dollars are all the support there is for State efforts to maintain the attractiveness of outdoor California for scatter-gunner and rifleman.

Permits now are being issued by the Fish and Game Commission's offices, its deputies in the field, and a few designated forest rangers to cover possession of incased fire-arms in transit through the game refuges, and also of game legally killed outside the forbidden territory. In cases such as Big Bear Valley and Arrowhead, where large populations are summer residents within game refuges, these permits remove the only valid objection raised to refuge protection by the local sportsmen; and in Ventura county, where the Sespe refuge lies athwart the trails to the back country where most deer hunting is done, such permits will solve all difficulties. Without them no legal way is offered for a Ventura hunter to bring home his deer, since the highways all traverse the closed Los Angeles county bounds. Quite a few Ventura deer, killed during the open season there, will be hauled out of cold storage in Maricopa and brought into Los Angeles this week, really the better part of freezing and the wing. It tenders the meat by breaking the grain somewhat, without injuring the flavor if not stored too long. The new transportation ruling on game refuge permits is a great boon to Ventura deer hunters, and will remove their problems another season.

SPECIAL EMPHASIS

Special emphasis is laid by the Fish and Game Commission this season upon the need of every hunter constituting himself a committee of safety to prevent fires in his vicinity. No one need consider the careless camper as deserving any more courtesy than any other common enemy of all true sportsmen, since deer hunters always are on trial during September, normally the season of high fire hazard because of low humidity.

Although most campers are careful, and the relatively safe gasoline stove is steadily on the ascendant in popularity even amongst deer hunters, the fact remains that one reckless individual can start more hell on Southern California's all-too-scantily forested watersheds than a thousand expert fire fighters can finish with a $100,000 of public expenditure and maybe $1,000,000 public damage.

CARELESSNESS COSTLY

Penalties of carelessness are visited upon all alike in form of county ordinances or Federal forest-closing orders; nor is it any valid defense to plead the fact that full many a fire laid to hunters actually was set deliberately by mountain stock-raisers to clear brush and improve pasturage another season. Not only do the mountain resorts suffer with the recreation-seekers when their ranges are denied to those who love them; innumerable industries dependent for their business upon the outdoors urge are damaged also. Travel, by steam, by gasoline, over land or water, finds outdoor sport often its incentive; so the careless camper becomes a common enemy not only of his fellows, but also of general business as well, whenever his criminal recklessness gives excuse or reason for keeping the general public out of its own mountains.

SENCIO AND RIVERS ARE SIGNED UP

Clever Sencio, the fighter sent to the United States by the Philippines to reclaim the flyweight championship of the world held by the late Pancho Villa, will meet Georgie Rivers in the big triple event to be staged by Jack Doyle at the new Wrigley ball park the 29th inst.

Clever Sencio

This was the only one of the three events not signed by "Wad" Wadhams, Vernon match-maker. He already had George Godfrey and Martin Burke signed for the heavyweight scramble and Mushy Callahan and Pal Moran for the lightweight engagement. The Sencio-Rivers imbroglio completes the bill. It was signed yesterday.

Wadhams is gambling on two of the shots. He figures that Callahan will beat Hudkins at the Olympic Club tomorrow night and that Sencio will beat Teddy Silva at Hollywood Friday night.

Coach Calland Faces Big Job at Whittier

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WHITTIER, Sept. 14.—With but eleven days between the first official football practice of the season, the 15th inst., and the first game, when the Posts are to meet Howard Jones's "Terrible Trojans" in the Coliseum, Los Angeles, the 26th inst., Coach Calland of Whittier finds himself facing a superman's task.

This is Calland's first year at the Quaker school, but after his appointment last spring, he spent some time at the local college, looking over his athletes, getting acquainted and getting the lay of the land, particularly the football land, sometimes called the gridiron.

This is the first year in the history of the local school when they have not been permitted to play freshmen, but the school has outgrown the freshman ruling.

MacFARLANE TO QUIT FOR SEASON SOON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Willie MacFarlane, national open golf champion, today announced that following his match with Jim Barnes in Washington Thursday, the final in the "world championship," he would retire from the game for the season, because of a recurrence of the sinus trouble which so affected his eyes three years ago that it was thought his career was at an end.

FIRST "FAKE" TICKET SCARE OF WORLD'S SERIES KILLED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The first of the "fake ticket" scares of the world series season, which started this morning, ended tonight.

A photostat copy of one of the precious pasteboards was found in possession of Mercer J. Conway, a negro employee of the Patent Office who washes dishes for a hotel at night.

All reservations for the Washington games of the series have been accounted for, but the tickets haven't even been printed, this part of the annual event having progressed only so far as submission of the engravings to the Patent Office.

Little World Series Opens in Louisville

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The "little world's series" between Louisville, winner of the American Association and Baltimore, winner of the International League flag will open in Louisville the 30th inst., President Hickey of the American Association said today.

Four games will be played in Louisville on the 30th inst., and October 1, 3 and 4. There will be an open date on Friday, October 2. After the Louisville games the teams will invade Baltimore for the remaining games. The series in Baltimore probably will open on October 6, a day in advance of the world's series opening.

real golf and was rewarded with a 75 that led a whole flock of right-handed golfers who experienced all of the hooking trouble that usually accompanies an off-side golfer. Bon Stein, one of the best bets in the tourney, smiled his way through to a nice 76, sharing near par honors with Charlie Chung, oriental champion who learned his game with Francis Brown in Hawaii; George Ritchie, one of the best Bay City golfers in the tourney, and Archie Sanches of Monterey, the most formidable player flying the home-guard colors.

VETERAN IS THERE

Dr. C. H. Walter, the oldest championship golfer of the State event, laughed off his 59 years and came home with a satisfying 77. Dr. Walters, who was formerly State title-holder, mixed in the 77 bracket with Frank Tatum of Wilshire and Dr. A. Dan Hines, San Jose ace.

T. H. Davidson, carrying a Memphis (Tenn.) birthmark, F. C. Bryce and Max Behr, Wilshire's popular golf-course architect all turned in marks of 78. W. W. "Bill" Campbell, Los Angeles veteran, was home in 79 to tie with Jack Neville, Allen Moser and Chet Lyday, golf-shooting secretary of the Southern California Golf Association.

Of the quartet, Moser had the best chance to score well and after turning from the third hole, 2 under par, the Wilshire youngster, who qualified with Chandler Egan, slipped with a 5 on the short third and trouble throughout. The greatest kid in California demonstrated that slightly more than 16 years are enough to warrant championship predictions by fighting every shot to break 80 on a course that upset some of the best golfers in the State. Moser will do much better at Del Monte today and may furnish a lot of trouble for championship contenders before the end of the week.

CLASS WINS

Despite the fact that scoring, generally was several strokes over the predicted average, the greatest golfers in this section of the country, Von Elm and Egan, proved that class is enough to win ball games in any league. Von Elm has not yet fully recovered from his recent golfing crusade through the East and drive up here and the motor trip up here Saturday did not provide any of the rest necessary to win State crowns.

Egan, who is playing here for the first time in his tee-and-greens history has been breezing along, scoring easily and well on both courses. Egan's recovery shots are the best that have been exhibited in California for many years, according to some of the veterans of the game, but his deadly approaches are keeping him in the running.

Egan's followers who failed to break 80 today, including Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, playing through champion, will recover tomorrow and are virtually certain of landing among the thirty-two low scorers who will play for the amateur crown. Francis Brown, Hawaiian star, required an 80 today, while Johnnie McHugh, flashy San Francisco golfer, finished with an 81.

Likely Outfit Answers Call at Long Beach

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH (Cal.) Sept. 14. Coach Russell Sprong, Long Beach High School's new gridiron mentor from St. Joseph, Mo., commenced his task of molding a 1925 squad from green material here this afternoon. Only three lettermen, all backfield players, return this fall, but the coach was overwhelmed with an array of husky talent out of the 130 anxious athletes who answered the first count of noses today. Although it was the first day of practice Coach Sprong shot the boys through some stiff paces that left no doubt in their minds that the business of shaping the squad was on in earnest.

Long Beach opens the season with a game with Chaffee Union of Ontario at Long Beach October 3. It will be the first time in twelve years the two schools have met on the gridiron. On October 10 Long Beach goes to San Bernardino to meet the Gateway City athletes for the first time since both schools have been playing American football. Long Beach opens the regular league schedule with Santa Ana at Santa Ana October 17.

CATALINA BAND TO PLAY AT BALL PARK

The Catalina Marine Band under direction of George Mulford will start off the elaborate opening program of the $1,250,000 Angel City Baseball Park, Wrigley Field, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, September 29. The opening concert will be followed by the flag raising ceremony, the Stars and Stripes to be unfurled from a hundred-foot flag pole in the center of the playing field and sixty-five flags from staffs around the enclosure.

POLO TOURNEY STARTS

The first annual intercircuit polo championship tourney will be staged at the Philadelphia Country Club beginning the 12th inst. Eight teams limited to a twelve-goal handicap will compete for cups presented by the estate of the late Julius Fleischmann.

EGYPTIAN GIANT FAILS TO MASTER ENGLISH CHANNEL

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BOULOGNE (France) Sept. 14.—Ishak Helmy, the giant Egyptian swimmer, closed the English Channel swimming season today with a spirited but unsuccessful attempt to cover the twenty miles between Cape Gris-Nez and Dover. His effort brought him within three and one-half miles of Dover after he had been in the water 14h. 32m. He gave up at 8:40 o'clock.

Turf Racing Lovers Face Dull Season

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Looks like a dull fall for thoroughbred racing fans.

No big East versus West battles probable in the rich stakes bringing down the curtain in Kentucky and Maryland.

Pompey, the leading candidate for 2-year-old honors, after winning $133,650 in stake money since he started racing at Jamaica last spring, has been retired for the rest of the season.

American Flag, the speedy son of Man-o'-War, was put out of commission before he really had a chance to demonstrate he was the best of the year's 3-year-olds.

And no aged handicap stars to carry on in the long-distance cup races later in the fall.

All this might indicate our spring-racing campaigns are becoming a bit too strenuous. Getting 2-year-olds ready for the rich stakes in April, May and June has put many likely little contenders on the shelf.

The long training grind to prepare 3-year-olds for the righ Preakness and the great Derby in Kentucky knocked about all the class out of this division before the present season was half-way along.

SCANDINAVIAN BOATS SET FOR RACE TODAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Twelve sea kings of Scandinavia, master skippers of the Gulf of Bothnia, the Baltic, the Cattegat and Skaggerack were at City Island today grooming their boats, which they will move over to Oyster Bay Tuesday to match their seamanship against American sailors.

The contest they will engage in will be the first time that members of the famed Scandinavian Yacht Club will have tested their merit with the crack amateurs of this country and their coming here on a modern adventure with the hope of snatching American laurels smacks of a quest of the Vikings of old.

WISE and OTHER WISE

by Bill Wise.

DEL MONTE, Sept. 14.—Russell Thompson of Oakmont and John Braly of Wilshire were second away over Pebble Beach this morning. Thompson finished with an 82 and Braly, one of the best youthful golfers from the south, took an 80, with an excusable seven on the last hole.

George Cornes and Jim Knudsen, together with Neal Burns, Hollywood's golfing comedian, have long been known as Southern California's three musketeers, but Burns is busy working in cinemaland and the survivors are not doing so well here. Cornes appeared at breakfast this morning with a confident smile — the handicap committee had just reduced his rating to six, and George, to reciprocate, shot an 89, only about ten strokes better than the writer.

Melvyn MacGlashen, golfing brother-in-law of Arthur Letts, Jr., the Southlands portsider arrived through the early door at Pebble Beach to some home in 99.

MacGlashen had a fine tenth card, refused to be bothered with a lot of Pebble Beach rambling at his fun and played a much better round than his card would indicate.

Allen Moser, Wilshire's prize possessor and Chandler Egan, greatest golfer from the shoreline, mastered down a fine gallery of fans as they battled with championship golf throughout. Both were two under par after the first three holes and then proceeded to fatten up on the course. Moser is playing his first golf in this part of the country and is one of the most popular players in the title tourney.

The Wilshire star has been shooting through for many years and without entry with medium amateur honors in 1924 and 1925 and found himself qualifying today with a star who promises to equal his own starting record. Egan, who won 16 of the last April is making a fine appearance in the tourney and should be a great favorite before the week is over.

By far the fastest field in the history of California golf started play this morning at the links of the Del Monte course, amateur champion, Jimmy Manion, Pebble Beach star, and Jack Neville, Del Monte pro, paired off in the first match. Both the Pebble Beach and Del Monte finalists for the amateur championship will be rewarded with the largest of many large galleries recorded here.

Tournament committee is busy tonight with Harry J. Burke, president of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Mrs. Dana M. Carter, vice of Mrs. Willis Hunter's golf-shooting organizations.

Burke has been playing in hard luck for several weeks past and, after a fight with one of Dame's fellow bucket boys, Reinecker, The Athletic Club president has been confined to his bed ever since.

Mrs. Carter is still suffering from a bad cold and will be unable to play in the Del Monte championship tournament starting Wednesday.

"Sometimes William," shooting husband of the prominent star in carrying the golfing banner of the Southern family. Bill is carrying on as best he can for both parties in town and out at Del Monte today.

Roger Lapham, well-known San Francisco golf bear arrived at the resort last week and has been functioning as a one-man reception committee at the Del Monte hostelry of which there is no whimper. Lapham is also entertaining Guy Standifer, one of the best golfers from the Northwest. Standifer, who would have been excellent chance in the tournament has preferred to remain a spectator and is witnessing some fine golf.

No tournament would be complete without the presence of the faculty of California golf. Uncle Eddie Tuck, Uncle Eddie manages to cover both gallaries, refuses to be worried by the threatening golf war and has the personal pleasure of rooting for his getting privileges.

Speaking of the threatened golf war. The end seems dry rackets will let loose here Friday at the annual meeting of the California Golf Association. A. A. MacKenzie, chairman of the tournament committee of the association has received word from Lewis Stewart, president of the Del Monte Golf Club, that there will be no barriers or restrictions.

Control of California golf has been gradually trending southward, the central headquarters of the powers that be and while the amicable adjustment can only be called a compromise, because there is a difference of opinion—the difference is so slight that even these controversies are undiscerned.

Phil Preston, another Los Angeles star with enough fistball affiliations to spend considerable time in the home of "Andy and Mrs." Chisenhall, dropped a pair of spares over to reach forty Saturday night and has been playing fine golf ever since. Porter is a personal friend and roommate of Heath Haines, one of Wilshire's popular players and the rumors have been circulated that the history for several days, and both have a grand chance of collecting Del Monte trophies.

And the trophies, the prizes to be awarded to the amateur champ are the finest ever turned out here. All are graced from a single unique pattern and promise to increase competition greatly.

Jim Knudsen played the wrong course into yesterday and may not get over the wire, but is backing up well with "Bill" Campbell, Los Angeles veteran, in the trial play.

Wilshire's four horsemen, George Cline, Frank Dolson, Al Frank and Johnnie Medge are very much in evidence. Dolson, sharp-shooting cut-up of the quartet, is playing great golf and has many supporters.

R. B. "Pop" Tregaskis, Flintridge star, is another popular down-State entrant. Bad hunch lots of golf but is blessed with a disposition that refuses to take advantage of the other fellow's misplays and Bud as usual, will make many friends, but will not win the amateur title. Joe Hammond, blonde ace from Beaver Field's hospitable club is also a strong contender in the championship.

Harold Thompson of Oakmont, runner-up in the Los Angeles city municipal championship, turned up the course at Pebble Beach this morning and still has a lot of golf left for the remainder of the week.

Ray Palmer, Santa Barbara's golf star, who shoots from the wrong side of every tee in existence, is still with the local hospitality and popularity prize. Palmer is going strong, on and off the fairway, and may yet shoot through to a lot of finals before the week is over.

J. M. Arnold is another left-handed star who may land in the charmed circle that is bound to include Chandler Egan, Ben Stein, George Von Elm, Allen Moser, Chet A. Bullock-Webster, present title holder, Charlie Chung, picturesque Chinese star, and other dawn Stein stars, all of whom are slated to join Dr. Paul Hunter of Annandale who is shaping up as a real championship possibility.

Pebble Beach and the south wind have been synonymous for years, but the wind perished this morning directly from the north and those associated with local firing ashpurs refused to play accordingly, so some of the best players in the tourney swished many beautiful shots well into the waiting Pacific. Unless conditions change tomorrow more high scores will result.

J. A. "Tim" Talbot, Jr., of the Los Angeles club is making a fine impression here. Tim has been playing less than two years but has cut his handicap to six and promises to be playing from scratch next season. Joe Norwood, Los Angeles professional, has spent much time with the cowboy star and the results speak well for the teaching ability of one of the Southland's most popular pastimers.

Norwood is in camp and working the soaring pencil at Pebble Beach today. Joe has many friends, knows all of the old timers, and is a valuable asset to any tourney.

Al Barbee, another popular Los Angeles star, formerly from the rambling State of Texas, opened the tourney surprise when he appeared with his twin brother Charlie, yesterday. The two are as much alike as the proverbial peas and tourney officials have been forced to make Al appear with his right hand up while Charlie slides in with the left palm behind him.

Harry Carroll, the popular entertaining golfer from the Wilshire club is also among those present. Carroll has long been an enjoyable fixture at the dine-in dish and is adding some stellar golf with his entertaining here this year.

Red Neilan, youthful star from President Richards's Hollywood club is playing some nice golf also. Red is a good hard worker and is always sure to finish well up in any competition.

DOVE HUNTERS BAG LIMITS IN ARIZONA

Moving to the line, Jones plans to move Al Merritt out to end from tackle. Red Badgro, Moser, Edwards, Adams and Stark will be the others who will be first-string and substitute ends.

Capt. Fay Thomas will, of course, settle any disputes at the tackle for one side of the line, but for the other side Jones has chosen as standbys Bill Frost, Jack Westcott and a sophomore, Yocum. The guards will be Harrell Fahlberg, Cruickshank and Taylor.

Clem Westcott and Cranston alternate at center.

In the opening game of the season a week from Saturday, a double-header against Whittier and Caltech at the Coliseum, Jones will not plan to use wholesale substitutions as has been the case recently at U.S.C., but, instead, will use but two teams, each one relieving two complete halves with substitutions, unless necessitated by injury or other such need for a change in the line-up. The first team will play the first half of each of the games and the other will take the field for the second half of each tilt.

GIVEN FAIR CHANCE

This system will not only give Jones a chance to form an estimate of each player's ability after a thorough test, but will give the Whittier and Caltech teams, each representing a small student body from which football material will be selected, a fair chance in the contest.

An example of what is meant by "a fair chance" is perhaps best explained by a comparison made by Jack McCord, the referee, who is coming to this Coast to officiate in November, starting with the Santa Clara versus U.S.C. game November 11.

His view is that, using many substitutions, amounting in many instances to a complete change of the line-up, is comparable to playing George Godfrey, Gene Tunney or Paul Berlenbach in the same ring with Jack Dempsey, one after the other. The first man might not be much to the champ, but after the other fresh fighters came in the champion would soon be worn out physically and the other would not be the least in danger. There is an abundance of promising material out for the backfield. Most of the candidates have been second-team or lightweight experience, so they are well versed in with Coach Brennen's system. Assisting Brennen and Newman are Ernest Elser, Newman and Hatch. They are staging a battle for the backfield positions. Gatterdam and Hatch are two husky youths with two years of second-team experience are competing in the tackle berths. Kinney, Smith, and Hess are three other promising candidates. CHAPTER V

A Nation-Wide Movement Needed

There was an effort a few years ago on the part of certain men who were alarmed by the growth of virtual professionalism in college sports to recruit a number of college presidents for a nation-wide movement to combat this tendency. It did not succeed, but I believe such a movement will succeed today, if athletic managers, coaches and alumni will meet faculty representatives half way.

There are many college officials and much of faculty committees have an earnest desire to see the game freed from all suspicion of underhand dealings.

In every instance which I have observed, I believe there is thus brought about a definite demoralization of the student body. Here and there, serious-minded students see what is happening. But they are voices crying in the wilderness.

I admit that there is rarely a case of plain graft on the part of those who function in this intricate machinery. Coaches and managers probably earn what they receive—if we are to view this from the business viewpoint.

But a term similar to graft might be coined to cover the illegitimate, or at least questionable, use of money to support the athlete, corralled from the high school and carried through college.

What do the "Scouts" and the "Uhlans" do? It is not only a matter of finding the desirable boy, but of convincing him that his pay will be higher in their particular college than in any rival institution. The offers are freely made and generally carried out with a gentleman's agreement—indeed, the pay is usually supplemented generously in the case of those who make good.

It is this purchase and pay of players which is so vigorously opposed by those who have at heart the welfare of the boy, as well as the integrity of the college and the good of the game.

The first trip Dougherty brought Bobby Barrett and Alex Hart to do battle here and took bearings in the ocean of heavyweight pugilism. Then he sent for Godfrey and matched him for a couple of fights, Georgeous George knocking out first Vic Alexander and then Sam Baker.

Dougherty went East, but came back to second Godfrey in his victory over Jack Renault in the San Francisco ball park. The third trip brought him here to be in Godfrey's corner when George knocked out Tiny Herman at Vernon. He will soon be on deck for Godfrey's next effort—the open-air battle with Martin Burke at the new Wrigley ball park.

Dougherty's frequent transcontinental travels entitle him to some kind of a record. We know of no fight manager who has done quite so much of it in the past six months.

We are indebted to Eugene Visanes of the Mercury Herald at San Jose for a report on Fidel La Barbara's vaudeville act. He writes as follows:

"Dear Mr. Lowry:

"The 19-year-old flyweight champion, Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles, is getting over great in his vaudeville skit at the American Theater here. Hundreds of Italian admirers of the sensational Los Angeles youth have been turned away as the seating capacity of the theater is only 2500.

"August Gotto, Los Angeles bantamweight, spars three rounds with Fidel while the champ also does his exercises, skips rope and shadow-boxes.

"'Only one think Blake has forgotten, and that is while I am flyweight champion, I want to be an active champion and will meet any logical challenger.'"

Bud Taylor's broken hand, injured in a recent fight with Bushy Graham, in Chicago, will cost him no less than $25,000, according to a letter received by the writer from Eddie Long, his manager. Bud will be laid up for another month, and will not be ready to accept offers with which he has been flooded until October 15. His hand is in a cast, Long writes.

REPORT FUENTE STILL UP TO FUNNY TRICKS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—Though Tony Fuente apparently had no difficulty in dropping Kid Burns for keeps in the third round of a late ring argument here, there were declarations at the time that it was well the Phoenix Mexican had been so quick with his work, for the water bottle had been doped, with the expectation that he would go to sleep about the sixth frame. There even was an assertion that Fuente "acted dopey," this with an attempt to establish dark enemy plots in connection with unhappy memories of alleged fights in Los Angeles and Yuma. So the water that remained in the ringside bottle was sent to Phoenix for a laboratory test. Report has come that it was only water, of fair quality, and that it showed no evidences of admixture of any foreign fluid or substance.

PORTERVILLE ELEVEN OUT IN FULL FORCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 14.—Porterville Union High School will have a chance for a championship football team in valley and county leagues this year, according to indications today, when holdovers from last year and new material crowded around Coach C. L. Flory, who is to have charge of both variety and lightweight teams, today in official opening of the season.

Several heavyweight lettermen are available for the varsity team, and a goodly number of lightweights are bidding for places on the heavyweight team this year, while old men remaining in the lightweight and raw material promise two strong teams for the school. Flory is to be assisted by A. S. Hamlin and F. N. Gault. The coaching staff expects about 100 candidates this week.

An umbrella that folds into a roll ten inches long has been invented.

HE HAS AMBITIONS

LAMAR BATTLES M'LEAN

Junior Featherweights Don Mittens For Main Attraction at Doyle's Vernon Coliseum Tonight

Snatches of fight talk wafted from the direction of Jack Doyle's Vernon arena would indicate that a real honest-to-goodness battle will be waged tonight when Johnny Lamar and Stewart McLean—junior lightweights step into the ring for the ten-round main event. There is bound to be action aplenty as both boys are crowd pleasers of the finest type.

Johnny is a natural-born fighter and, since breaking into the main-event class, he has demonstrated his ability as a boxer of the first water time and again. As for McLean, he is a veteran of high caliber and will give the little Mexican a real test.

SETS GOOD PACE

Lamar has been setting a nice pace in his recent fights, although he took a draw from Jackie Fields and dropped his last fight to Lou Paluso after that gentleman had bested Ace Hudkins and received a draw for his trouble. The Jackie Fields fight was a moral victory for the hard-hitting Lamar, while Lamar's wonderful body attack was overlooked in comparison with Paluso's head punching.

A world's championship possibly hangs in the balance on the outcome of tonight's fight. The winner will take on Mike Ballerino some time in October for a crack at his crown so both boys will be giving all they have to take the decision. Both Lamar and McLean have the reputation of never having fought a bad fight either while winning or losing and they will uphold those reputations tonight. Lamar is especially well liked by local ring fans. He is cheered even in defeat which shows the little Mexican's popularity.

K. O. BROWN ON CARD

Paul Deharte, hailing from Compton, will fight Harry Scott in the six-round semifinal bout. Scott is a lightweight and comes here from San Francisco.

K. O. Brown, the colored boy, who made such a good showing in his debut at Vernon last week will meet Young George.

BRYWN MAWR POLOISTS LOSE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—The Bryn Mawr polo team was eliminated from the intercircuit tournament today by the Fort Leavenworth (Kans.) four by the score of 13 goals to 5. The army team was given a one-goal handicap. The tournament is being played at the Philadelphia Country Club and the match was the first of a double-header.

Employees of Tire Factory in Trackfest

Approximately 400 contestants have entered the first industrial track meet which is to be staged by the employees of the Los Angeles branch Goodyear Rubber Company Saturday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. The meet is to be held under the sanction of the A.A.U. and is the first industrial track meet ever to be held on the Pacific Coast under the supervision of the A.A.U. The meet will be staged during the company's annual picnic.

Two teams are to be formed under whose colors the various entries will compete for the Osterlich Cup now held jointly by the Engineer's and the squadron teams who took the trophy in the 1923 competition.

The girls are to have a part in the meet having eight events while the men will compete in seventeen events. Bob Weaver and Owen Bird, officials of the Southern California branch of the national A. A. U. will arrange for and have charge of the officials of the contests.

CARDINALS PURCHASE PEEL FROM HOUSTON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Sept. 14.—The Houston baseball club today announced the sale of Homer Peel, young outfielder, to the St. Louis Cardinals. Peel's hitting has been one of the features of the play of the club this season. Details of the deal were not announced, but several players will come to Houston next spring in return, it was indicated.

The sale was the fifth the locals have made to a big-league team this season. Catcher McCurdy and shortstop Kane were sold to the Chicago White Sox; Pitcher Goodwin to the Cincinnati Reds, and Pitcher Benge to the Cleveland Indians.

LANDIS REFUSES TO MIX IN TEXAS LEAGUE SQUABBLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, ruled today that he had no jurisdiction to settle the controversy between the Fort Worth and Dallas clubs of the Texas League over the claim for the championship.

Commissioner Landis had been requested by Paul La Grave, business manager of the Fort Worth club to decide which club should be named pennant winner. The commissioner ruled, however, that the situation was an intraleague affair to be settled by the league and that he had no jurisdiction.

Fort Worth won the first half of the season and tied with Dallas for the second Nhalf. Fort Worth bases its championship claim on the fact that no club finished ahead of it in the second half and there is no provision in the constitution to play off a tie.

OPENING 24TH WEEK OF PLAY

Pacific Coast League clubs start the twenty-fourth week of the 1925 season today. Vernon plays at Sacramento; Oakland at Salt Lake; Portland at San Francisco. Seattle and Los Angeles start their series at Washington Park on Wednesday. The following chart shows how the clubs have fared against each other to date.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

THIS is the big day. Football practice is going full blast at every college in California, and, with schedules arranged to call for games only a week from Saturday, the teams will begin to shape themselves up within a very few days. In many cases spring practice will have given such a definite line on the ability of the various players that, to all intents and purposes, the varsity squads are already chosen. From now on, as far as Southern California is concerned, until the first of the year there will be mighty little conversation among sportsmen that doesn't eventually degenerate into a football argument of some kind or other. Unless all signs are wrong, this will be a much bigger football year than last season, which broke all records.

Of the big California colleges California has to be given the edge, not only because of five seasons of unbroken success, but because Andy Smith has an unprecedented bunch of veteran material. Offhand, we'd say that in football material, as such, U.S.C. probably is even better fixed than California, but the Trojans are handicapped by having to learn an entirely new system, and the coach himself is handicapped by lack of knowledge—first-hand—of the respective merits of his players, and by unfamiliarity with Pacific Coast conditions. Personally, we've a mind to feel sorry for Howard Jones for the simple reason that the public is going to expect a championship from him. He might deliver it, but it's a handicap to have folks expecting it.

Stanford is going to be pretty tough this year. The Cards have plenty of big and experienced men, and will not be handicapped as they were last season by an utter absence of men capable of running off tackle or around the ends. Millage, Hill, Dick Hyland and one or two other bright young men are just as capable of running the ends as some of the brightest stars at California and U.S.C. That will give old man Warner something he didn't have against California and Notre Dame last year, due to the sudden beheading of Norman Cleaveland. Too bad the Bears and the Trojans aren't going to mix.

In the Southern California Conference things are going to be mighty hot. Occidental and Whittier have entire veteran teams on the job. Pomona always has a good team, and will have this year, despite the loss of almost a whole varsity. Pop Stanton at Caltech is always dangerous, and Hope Workman will have unusually strong material at Redlands. Out at the branch Bill Spaulding, the most famous coach in the conference, has almost all of his veterans back, and with more students than all the other conference colleges combined, will undoubtedly have a fine eleven. Yes, it will be a big year.

Victory Over Philadelphia Divides Series

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—Pittsburgh stopped Brooklyn today, 9 to 4, in the opener of a series, snapping a losing streak of four games which tagged the Pirates' disastrous western trip. The victory extended the Corsairs' lead over New York to six and one-half games.

Cantrell was shelled out of the box in the second and was succeeded by Ehrhardt, whose wildness permitted the Pirates to sew up the game in the fifth with a two-run advantage. Five hits in the eighth gave Pittsburgh three more runs. Aldridge turned in his seventh consecutive victory.

JONES IS TIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—Jones was in rare form today and held the Athletics to two singles while New York won the final game of the series, 3 to 1. Red Holt, late of the Jersey City International League team, made the only honest blow off Jones, a single in the seventh. Jones's failure to cover first in the sixth allowed Cochrane to receive credit for a safe hit.

As a result of the victory, the Yankees split even in the six-game series with the Mackmen.

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the fifteen best jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $3, $2, and twelve of $1 each. A list of threaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes, are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the screen. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgment.

"Direct-U"

Have you had difficulty in finding some particular advertised product? Have you had to hunt from store to store to find something you had seen advertised? The Times has established a new department, called "Direct-U," which has collected data about thousands upon thousands of trade-named (advertised) products and stands ready to tell you just where you can find the thing you want. The Times is glad to help its readers and advertisers through this new service—to make free use of it—there is no charge, of course.

All you need do is phone the Los Angeles Times—MEtropolitan 0700—and ask for "Direct-U" Department.

BEAUTY CROWN TIRES WEARER

Miss America Finds Her Victory Not All Fun

Exhausted by Activities, She Tells Interviewer

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 14.—A golden-haired beauty bounded into her room at the Shelburne Hotel here yesterday and sank down on a lounge.

"Lordy," she said, "winning a beauty contest isn't all fun. I've never been so exhausted in my life. I'm beginning to wish I was back in California."

Fay Lamphier speaking, the new "Miss America."

Tall, almost statuesque, this beauty, 19 years of age, basks in the sunshine of her own radiant personality. All during the contest many other entrants had strutted about like peacocks. But Miss Lamphier was different.

Her bathing suit was of white with no adornment. Her sport costumes were simple. Her evening gown would have occasioned no comment on a woman other than herself.

Her greatest asset was the appeal of her personality. The slight flush, the quiet smile that showed pearly teeth, the hazel eyes that danced at the slightest provocation—these combined to react in her favor when the fifteen judges—twelve of them from New York—cast their final ballots.

BEAUTY SECRETS

The new possessor of the title of the most beautiful in the land, was born in Greenwood, Cal., December 13, 1905. She was asked for beauty secrets.

"That's a large order," she said, "and I'm sorry if I disappoint you when I say that I have no secrets of beauty. All I can suggest is clean living and plenty of exercise in the open air. I guess I must give golf the preference for myself.

"However," she continued, "I don't want you to get the impression I have always devoted myself to sports. My father died when I was in high school and I went to work as soon as I graduated. I have four brothers and a sister, but I am the oldest and it was only natural that I should contribute what I could earn to the support of the others.

"I worked more than a year in a clerical position and I am not ashamed of the fact that I earned my own living. Naturally, I had the same dreams as any other girl and I always hoped that I should be given a chance in the films.

TAKES CARE OF SELF

"Accordingly I took care of myself to the best of my ability. I have never taken a drink of liquor and I have never smoked. I sleep nine hours a night. As a result I am always clear and fresh when I arise in the morning."

At this point Miss Lamphier was asked if she approved of bobbed hair. Her hair is long with a natural wave and she wears it curled about her ears and neck so that one must look twice to discover it is not bobbed.

"I approve of bobs," she responded, "on some women. But one should use discretion. These new-fangled bobs that show the ears I cannot see at all. They make a girl look too boyish. I have always been taught that a woman's greatest appeal is her feminity. Why destroy it?"

As dependable as a Railroad Express!
As luxurious as the best hotel!
As comfortable as your own home!
There's a path that is made of the crest of the waves . . . . the glimmer of starlight . . . . the shimmer of the sun. It is the carefully charted sea path of the French Line—the lane that leads to all the centers of the world! To the Paris of spires and cobbled street cries . . . . To the Riviera with its sophistication and its simplicity . . . . To a golden land of mysticism and macadam highways.
You sail away on an aristocrat of the sea—The Ile de France. A de Luxe French Liner . . . . . with a passenger list that reads like the membership list of an exclusive club. With luxurious decorations and favorable conveniences.
You land at Havre . . . . . the port of Paris. The train comes to the dock. No bobbing to shore in tenders. A special boat train waiting. Three hours . . . . . Paris. Overnight . . . . . the Riviera. A day . . . . . North Africa.
Such are the winding trails that lie before you—at the other end of "the longest gangplank in the world."

Survey Just Completed by United States

Better Thoroughfares Seen as Aid to Business

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The twenty republics of Central and South America have a grand total of 8868 miles of highways that are rated as good, 37,118 miles that are classed as passable all year, 28,442 miles that are passable during the dry season, 6230 miles under construction, and 25,809 miles projected. The aggregate mileage of roads in use is 70,428 and that not in use, 32,039, which sums up to 102,467 miles.

Brazil leads all her Latin-American neighbors with 2378 miles of good roads, 17,281 miles that are passable all the year, 10,612 miles that are passable only in the dry season, 2767 miles under construction and 9549 miles projected. Brazil's total highway mileage is 42,587, of which 30,271 miles are in use.

In considering the highway developments and plans of the American countries to the south of the United States it is to be borne in mind, however, that roads classed as good are not necessarily up to the paved concrete or brick roads of this country. In fact, those rated good, in many instances, might be considered barely passable in the United States, while the ones described as passable all the year would prove hard going for our motorists and those classed as passable in dry season provoke the question, "what do you mean, passable?"

In other words, Latin America is just getting fairly started with a good roads movement and most of the countries there are back where the United States was a quarter of a century ago.

All this is brought forth and explained in a survey that has just been completed by Uncle Sam as his contribution to the organized efforts which his southern neighbors are now making to improve their highways. It is an exhaustive study portraying the present condition of the highway systems in Latin-American countries, with detailed information as to their extent, classification, administration, cost, and plans for future improvement.

The survey has been published as a handbook and will be presented at the Pan-American Highway Congress, which opens in Buenos Aires on October 3, by the United States Commission to that important gathering. This delegation, headed by H. H. Rice of Detroit, vice-president of the General Motors Company, sailed from New York on the 3rd inst., and is making a tour of inspection on an itinerary that will take it through the Panama Canal, down the Pacific Coast of South America and across the Andes to the capital of the Argentine Republic.

Other members of the delegation are Pyke Johnson, secretary; Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads; Congressman William C. Hull of Illinois; Charles M. Babcock, Minnesota Commissioner of Highways; Dr. G. A. Sherwel, secretary-general of the Inter-American High Commission, and Frank Page, chairman of the North Carolina State Highway Commission.

In making this contribution to the cause of good roads in Latin America Uncle Sam is not entirely unselfish. As Frank B. Curran of the Transportation Division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, who made the survey, states better transportation facilities bring higher standards of living and increase the demand for high-grade merchandise. The opening of rich agricultural land and mineral-bearing lands and the growth of new centers of population increase prosperity and open new fields for the exporters of American products.

ROAD IN FLAMES DUE TO OIL TRUCK CRASH

FIRE RESULTS FROM COLLISION OF TWO HUGE VEHICLES NEAR MESA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MESA (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—A remarkable accident was one in which a heavy truck, owned by a Phoenix transfer company, and a large gasoline truck, owned by the Rio Grande Oil Company, collided on a paved road, south of this city. The oil tank was overturned and its contents immediately caught fire from one of the truck engines, the flames spreading over the pavement and into seven tons of cargo cottonseed, some of which had been soaked by the scattered oil.

G. O. Butler, driver of the oil truck, was caught with one foot beneath the wreck, but cut his shoe loose and escaped with his clothing afire. Near-by was an irrigation canal into which he plunged, saving his life. Joel R. Johnson and James Nolan, who were on the other truck, also were burned and the three were brought to Mesa for hospital attention. The roadway was blocked for hours by the flames, which also destroyed a part of the line carrying electric power to Chandler.

RELIC USED TO BLESS NOVENA WORSHIPPERS

AVER FINGER OF SAINT OF CERTIFIED AUTHENTICITY; EFFECTS CURES

UNION CITY (N. J.) Sept. 14.—A relic of certified authenticity according to priests of the Passionist Order here, the finger of St. Paul of the Cross, founder of the Passionist Order, who died in 1775—was used again to bless those who participated in the Novena devotions at St. Michael's Monastery, Union City.

The relic, which is greatly valued because it is asserted actually to be a portion of one of the fingers of the saint, and for the history of remarkable cures it has been instrumental in effecting, has been in a storage vault in the monastery for a quarter of a century.

Recently one of the older monks of the monastery recalled its existence and a search of the storage vault resulted in its discovery. It is said that the application of this relic to the diseased or crippled effected many miraculous cures a few decades ago, when St. Michael's was thronged with the crippled, as are many of the famous shrines today.

'DESERTER' FOUND TO HAVE SERVED IN WAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—The name of Joseph-Richards, formerly of Globe, has been removed from the list of deserters from the draft, on which it has been carried since March, 1918. Evidence has been presented that in the preceding month he had joined the Forty-seventh Regiment of Canadian Engineers, from which he was honorably discharged in May of the following year. The blame for the deserter charge is laid upon the failure of a Canadian recruiting officer to send the proper advices to Arizona.

THIS IS IT

You'll see it in New York, London and Deauville.

It may not "take the country by storm" but a certain number of smart dressers who like to be a little in advance in styles—who like something different that's in perfect taste—will want this dinner coat.

Part of our duty, as we see it, is to have these new things as quickly as they appear.

You can now see this model in display here and other very new models in men's clothing. We want you to realize that we have all the smart new features as soon as they are out. Hart Schaffner & Marx make this possible.

BRITAIN AGHAST AT RED VICTORY

Unions Declared Pledged to Destroy Empire

Outcome Hinges on Meeting of Labor Party

Moscow Manifesto Adopted by Trade Congress

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 14.—"Moscow won the battle of Scarborough. Will she win the battle of Liverpool?"

That is the question being asked throughout Great Britain now that the Scarborough trade unions congress is past and the Liverpool Labor party conference is imminent. The tremendous significance of the answer to this question may be realized when it is borne in mind that even in the most conservative circles the meaning of the Scarborough congress is summed up as follows:

"British organized labor has surrendered to Bolshevism. It has pledged itself to help Russian Bolsheviki in their schemes for plunging the world into class warfare. It must fulfill its promises to ruin the Dawes plan, destroy the British Empire and travel the road leading straight to Communism unless what was done last week at Scarborough is undone next month at Liverpool."

UNIQUE IN ANNALS

Britons have now recovered their breath. They are grasping the meaning of the sensational climax to the trades union congress.

They are realizing the implications of the ruthless stampeding of Scarborough delegates into passing last week's resolutions. They now see in those resolutions something which, for daring in the challenging of existing institutions and flat defiance of hitherto indorsed policies, stands alone in British labor annals.

In all quarters hereabouts stress is being laid on the fact that the program laid down by the Scarborough congress is diametrically opposed to the official program of the British Labor party. Hence the anxiety with which the Liverpool conference is awaited.

Comment here today shows clearly the full realization which has come to England over the week-end of what happened at Scarborough, "that there was at Scarborough a sharp and steady blast from Eastern Europe is undeniable," says today's London Times, "Communism not democracy spoke when A. J. Cook, the miners' secretary, proclaimed the congress to be the national parliament of the future.

EMPIRE MENACED

"To all appearances the Scarborough congress broke down the distinction between industrial and political objectives and took a headlong plunge into political action. It affirmed 'overthrow of capitalism' to be the aim of the trade-union movement and resolved upon employment of shop committees as 'indispensable weapons in the struggle to force capitalists to relinquish their grip on industry.' In this resolution the congress literally committed itself to radicalism and the wrecking of industry. It has made a number of declarations which even when the precise language has been liberally discounted are of extreme and threatening character."

After quoting the Scarborough resolution and program laid down by Zinovieff for soviet propaganda in Britain, the Morning Post says: "Not only are our British trade unionists not permitted to think for themselves, are not even allowed to choose their own words, they take a Bolshevik order to destroy the British Empire in the words in which it was dictated and obediently adopt it as a resolution."

The same paper also declares apropos the audacious offensive now being conducted here by Communists inspired by Moscow "unless there is a vigorous uprising against them they must infallibly succeed in their design of destroying British industry and even the British Empire."

ROYAL WELCOME FOR PRINCE AT BUENOS AIRES

ARIZONA TO VOTE SOON ON LABOR AMENDMENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 14. — The workmen's compensation amendment to the State constitution may be on the ballot at the special State election the 29th inst. Judge D. W. Windes this afternoon dismissed an application for injunction against submission made on behalf of Walter Brawner and others by John L. Ray, who later filed an appeal to the State Supreme Court. The main point ruled upon concerned the right of submission of such an amendment only by title. Judge Windes decided that the Legislature was authorized to take such action.

SECRECY TO CLOUD DEBT CONFERENCE

Mellon Warns French of Difficulties Involved in Any Untimely Publicity

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon has pledged Joseph Caillaux and all the members of the French debt funding delegation to the strictest secrecy during the debt funding negotiations, M. Caillaux submitted a proposal to the Cabinet which directed the Finance Minister to advise Mr. Mellon of his readiness to observe secrecy.

Mr. Mellon's message pointed out the difficulties likely to be encountered if premature terms of the settlement are published and the outcry likely to be aroused in America if the terms are too easy, and the similar protests in France if the terms seem too harsh.

The French consider Mr. Mellon's proposal for secrecy extremely favorable, indicating that America is going to give the best possible terms with considerable amelioration and the administration wishes to keep the conversations secret as long as possible until the convention is agreed on and ratified to prevent public opinion from upsetting the accord.

Premier Paul Painleve entertained Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin at luncheon today, when the British War Premier traversed Paris en route from Aix Les Bains to London. M. Briand and M. Caillaux also were present.

It is reported that Mr. Baldwin again warned the French that Winston Churchill will reopen the tentative agreement reached in London should M. Caillaux promise to pay proportionately more annually to the United States than to Great Britain.

Teachers for Blind Will be Paid by State

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—Within a short time two new teachers are to be named by the State to work among the blind people of California for the purpose of teaching them handicraft in their homes, H. R. Braden of the State Board of Control announced today.

These teachers, one of who will be stationed in Los Angeles and the other in Oakland, will supplement the work being done by Miss Kate Foley of San Francisco and Miss Katherine Morrison of Los Angeles, teachers of the blind.

Braden says it is planned to coordinate the work of the blind teachers with that of the State vocational habilitation department, and with this end in view a meeting will soon be held in Oakland.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF EYE

BAYONNE (N. J.) Sept. 14.—Victor Calderont, 14 years of age, of Bayonne, may lose the sight of his right eye as a result of being burned about the face when he set fire to some gasoline. He took two bottles of gasoline from his home, poured it on the ground in the yard and then set a match to it.

BEER PARLORS DISAPPOINT

Vancouver Suburb May Seek to Ban Licenses Due to Increase of Drunkenness

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 14.—Beer by the glass in the so-called "beer parlors" here is not proving to be the tremendous success that was predicted and expected. For instance, a strong movement is now afoot in one of the large suburbs of Vancouver to prohibit the provincial government granting any beer-parlor licenses in that section.

It is growing more apparent that the only difference between the beer parlor and the old-time saloon is that the patrons sit down at tables instead of standing at a bar and drink only beer instead of everything in the way of liquor. There is no question but what drunkenness has increased on this city's streets since the parlors opened legally several months ago. And there is no question also but what the "blind pigs" and bootleggers have not decreased in numbers.

Women openly frequent the parlors. Young girls can be seen drinking beer in any parlor any night.

According to the statute dealing with the matter nothing but beer can be served in the parlors and nothing else is served except shakers of salt.

But at the entrances to the places enterprising persons are installing stands where sandwiches and the like can be purchased. Many cigar stores are now retailing light lunches. The buyer then merely carts his lunch through the swinging doors, sits down at a table, and orders the beer to go with it.

Hardly like the old days of the free lunch but it's better than swishing down nothing but glass after glass of beer at 10 to 15 cents per.

Thousands of Americans flock in here every week-end to try out "wet" Canada. The week-end of Labor Day was a record breaker. Of course, the parlors were closed on Sunday and the government liquor stores were closed on both Sunday and Monday but the bootleggers were busy.

An average of three bootleggers are arrested here by the city police daily. That's a startling figure when you take into consideration the fact that the liquor stores are open every day except on Sunday and holidays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., (Saturday to 9 p.m.) and that the beer parlors are open every day except Sunday from 9 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.

AUTO RACES BOTH BEAR AND MOOSE

Angelenos Tell of Strange Speed Contest Along Road in British Columbia

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 14.—To have a bear enter a race between their automobile and a full grown moose was the novel experience of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Hoover of Los Angeles, who are camping in Northern British Columbia at Bowon Lake near Quesnel. While Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were driving through their district in a closed car the moose came out on the road in front of them and instead of crossing into the thick underbrush, kept right on the road ahead of the car.

After chasing the animal for a distance the automobile was speeded up to see what would happen. Just then the Hoovers were surprised to see a large black bear emerge from the bush, coming on the road between the moose and the car. The bear, apparently terrified by the monster that had put a moose to flight, doubled his legs under him and soon outdistanced the moose.

"About all I could see after the bear got into his stride," Mrs. Hoover said, "was the under part of his paws as he ran, scattering sand and gravel in all directions."

In the vicinity of Port Arthur it is stated that never in any season have the wild animals been so numerous near the haunts of man as they are this year. Bears are particularly common, people having summer cottages in various places frequently coming in contact with them.

Wolves, deer and moose are frequently seen along the roads, particularly in the early mornings, by people driving to town for business. A number of bears have been shot or captured.

NEW ROAD TO CUT OUT SANTA BARBARA GRADE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—The steep and winding grades over Ortega Hill on the Coast highway, south of Santa Barbara, will be eliminated by the relocation of the State highway between Summerland and a point 1.42 miles north, the State Highway Commission announced today. Bids for grading and surfacing on the new location were asked, and will be opened in Sacramento, October 12.

INCREASE IN ALIMONY TO $60,000 REQUESTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Ida May Symington, who on June 1, last, was etonerated in a divorce suit brought against her by Thomas H. Symington, wealthy manufacturer of railway supplies, and who has been drawing $18,000 a year temporary alimony, applied to the Supreme Court today for an increase in alimony to $60,000 a year and $15,000 counsel fees pending the determination of her suit for separation which may be tried next month. Her application for the increase will be argued next Thursday.

TOURS AMERICA IN PAPER HOUSE

Texas Family Travels 20,000 Miles With Auto

Apartment Equipped With Modern Conveniences

Teacher Collects Data on History, Geography

DENVER, Sept. 14.—A double transcontinental tour of 20,000 miles, from Canada to Mexico and from the Atlantic Ocean to the Golden Gate, in a paper apartment-house on wheels equipped with a gas range, electric lights, a bathroom, a clothes closet, and three beds in its two bedrooms—

That is the unusual accomplishment in the last two summers of Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Harris, and their daughter Loreta, 10 years of age, who passed through Denver en route to their home at Point, Tex.

Harris, who is connected with the public schools of Texas as a teacher of penmanship, has been making the tour as a means of collecting historical and geographical data of the country.

Their startling "paper house" attracted groups of curious on Denver streets who peeped through the windows and saw a domestic scene something like this.

Back in the kitchenette, old-fashioned Southern biscuits are baking in the oven, and chops are frying on the stove.

"This beats a hotel all hollow," Harris said. "We have every home comfort in our paper house, and as soon as we get tired of the neighbors, we can move on."

Last summer, the group toured the eastern side of the continent from Florida to Canada. In May of this year they started from Texas, going through New Mexico, Arizona and parts of Mexico.

From Mexico, the path of the paper house led up the Pacific Coast to British Columbia, thence into Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. The last stop before Denver was made in Cheyenne, Wyo.

The wheeled house, which was built of composition paper board by Harris, is eighteen feet long, seven feet wide, and six feet, three inches high. It is mounted on a regular Chevrolet chassis, lengthened four feet.

PEACH PEELER CASE RETRIAL PLEA DENIED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—United States Circuit Court of Appeal today denied the petition of the Dunkley Company, owners of a patented peach-peeling machine for retrial of its case against the Central California canneries and other fruit-packing concerns for alleged infringement of patent. The Dunkley company appealed from a judgment of the Los Angeles District Court in which the plaintiff company was awarded damages of about $11,400.

BEDOUINS ATTACK YANKEES

Members of American Financial Mission in Midst of Thrilling Desert Battle

BY GEORGE SELDES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DAMASCUS, Sept. 14.—Arthur C. Millspaugh of Augusta, Mich., administrator-general of finances of Persia; John Loomis of Tallahassee, Fla., and Thomas Pearson of Asheville, N. C., associate members of the American Financial Mission to Persia, recently had a thrilling experience.

An automobile caravan en route to Bagdad and Teheran, Persia, carrying about sixty passengers, including three Americans, was attacked by a band of Bedouin tribesmen about eighty-five miles east of Damascus. The French captain, commanding two armored automobiles with machine guns and two autos with Arab soldiers, which were escorting the caravan, was killed and two other French officers were wounded. The Bedouins suffered fourteen killed and many wounded and several taken prisoners.

"Eighty-five miles from Damascus we passed a defile in the mountains and entered a desert, a saucer-like formation," Mr. Millspaugh explained. "The Americans were in the eighth car when the battle began. The cars were strung out, with armed cars leading.

"Suddenly we heard rifle shots. The passenger car rushed to the center of the saucer-like desert. The Spahis rode at terrific speed, raising a circle of dust a mile in diameter. Bullets fell all around us. The British women passengers were cool under fire and later gave first aid to the wounded.

"The French captain was shot. I saw him go to the aid of a wounded Arab, who repaid the act of mercy with a fatal bullet. A British passenger, a lieutenant from Bagdad, volunteered to replace the Frenchman and continued the fight. I believe our convoy killed fourteen Arabs and some estimated that 100 were captured, including the sheik leader.

"It is not known how many attackers there were. Perhaps there were 1000 behind the hills. After completely defeating the Arabs the road was open to Bagdad, but it was decided to take the wounded back to Damascus."

Germany Acts on Loans Held by Americans

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Dr. Adolf Friedrichs, departmental chief in the finance ministry, has been designated by the German government as special commissioner to the United States to regulate the claims of persons in America holding German federal or state loans or other securities falling under the revaluation law. Dr. Friedrichs is leaving for the United States Thursday. One of his duties will be to designate the banks through which claims for revaluation may be filed.

BAY CITY CAFE ROBBED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Burglars entering Louis Fashion Restaurant on Lower Market street over the week-end knocked off the combination of the safe and escaped with $1600.

Racing Yacht's Release in Rum Charge Moved

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Sept. 14.—The United States District Attorney's office, with the concurrence of Mrs. Jeannette Hyde, collector of customs, and John Barrett, prohibition administrator, today telegraphed Washington asking permission to quash charges against Commodore John Piver, owner of the yacht Eloise, charged with two violations of the prohibition law.

If granted, the yacht will be released from seizure and Piver fined a sum equal to the domestic value of the eighty bottles of liquor taken from the vessel. The liquor has been appraised at $500. The District Attorney's office reached the conclusion that a $500 fine will be sufficient punishment, there being no evidence that Piver, a participant in a yacht race from San Francisco to Tahiti, was a rum runner or smuggler.

New Philippine Independence Board Arrives

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Sept. 14.—The third Philippine Independence Commission, en route to Washington, D. C., arrived here today on the liner President McKinley of the American-Oriental Mail Line.

"I wish to express once more the faith of the Philippine people in the spirit of justice and fair-mindedness of the great republic we are approaching," said Sergio Osmena, President pro tempore of the Senate of the Philippine Islands, head of the commission.

"It is for this reason we are not greatly concerned about the systematic and continuous propaganda against the Philippines and their aspirations."

VALLEY LEMONS HIGH IN ST. LOUIS MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FERNANDO, Sept. 14.—San Fernando lemons set another high record in the St. Louis (Mo.) market last week, when they brought $12.40 a box. In June in this market local lemons brought as high as $14.10 a box. Local packers today state that for the next two or three months they expect favorable markets, as the supply from the Western Coast orchards is getting low. Citrus trees in San Fernando Valley are now getting ample water by irrigation and orchards are taking on a brighter and healthier appearance. Packers assert that the coming season bears a bright outlook.

FORCED TO KISS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Former Pasadenan Asserts Wife Had Slapping Habit; Divorced

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 14.—John G. McIntyre, former Pasadena resident, was forced by his wife to kiss and caress her mother, and was soundly smacked whenever he ventured to protest, according to his story in the court of District Judge George A. Bartlett while seeking a divorce. McIntyre said his wife was jealous of all other women, but insisted that he lavish affections on her mother.

McIntyre asserted his wife slapped him as a matter of habit. He was granted a decree.

Rickenbacker Gives Coolidge Race Invitation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Maj. Eddie Rickenbacker, America's premier ace, flew as a passenger to Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., this morning in one of three airplanes that left Mitchell Field on Long Island at 9 o'clock. He carried an invitation to President Coolidge to attend the 1925 air races to be held at the Long Island field on October 8, 9 and 10. Maj. Rickenbacker is to referee the contests.

The invitation is engraved on the wing of a miniature silver model of a Curtis racing plane. It was presented to the President at the White House shortly after noon.

Rumanian Envoy Denies Transfer to Rome Missions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Reports current recently in Rumania that Prince Bibesco, Rumanian Minister to the United States, who is now at home on leave, will be transferred to the Rumanian diplomatic mission in Rome, were denied in a cablegram received today at the legation from the Prince himself.

The Minister said he will return to Washington in October and that there had been no discussion regarding his transfer.

The legation also received word from Bucharest that the long-standing controversy between the Rumanian government and the Baldwin Locomotive Works as to payment for locomotives furnished Rumania after the war had finally been settled through a compromise. Details of the agreement were not given.

ALL MEXICO TO OBSERVE GRAND FETE

Celebration of National Holiday Promises to Set Spectacle Record

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—The celebration of Mexico's national holiday on the 16th inst. promises to be the most spectacular in the history of the country. A grand military parade will be held, comprising 16,000 men in full marching order which will outshine the famous parades of President Diaz. Every military zone and State will be represented militarily, civically, and by State governments. The military demonstration will be an intimation to those plotting a revolution that the government is ready.

The celebration includes a patriotic program intended to inspire in the army a spirit of patriotism and pride of military organization. Today part of the national celebration began with the swearing of faithfulness to the flag of eight military bodies. More will follow tomorrow and still more on the 16th inst. ●

Over 100,000 visitors are expected at the national capital for the national festival. Already military uniforms are conspicuous on the streets and the highest officials of the army are here. It is said the presence of the military men here will be taken advantage of to plan a more effective military organization throughout Mexico.

LIBERATE SUSPECTS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 14.—Two additional suspects were arrested by Monterey Park police today in the hunt for the man who is said to have criminally attacked 13-year-old Nellie Innis, 435 Edwards street, Wilmar, Friday, after taking the girl in his automobile to a lonely spot in the Garvey Hills on pretext of securing theater employment for her. The two men taken into custody were released after the Innis girl had failed to identify them.

Seven arrests have been made in the case, but all have been released for lack of evidence. Officer Young of the Monterey Park police department stated today that he intended to confer again with the girl with a view of obtaining a more definite description of her assailant.

Los Beduinos Atacan a los Yanquis

DAMASCO, Septiembre 14. — Hace poco que tuvieron una aventura emocionante, Arthur C. Millspaugh, administrador general de las finanzas de Persia; John Loomis, de Tallahassee (Florida), y Thomas Pearson, de Asheville (North Carolina), miembros mancomunados de la Misión Financiera Americana en Persia.

Una caravana de automóviles, que iba en camino a Bagdad y a Teherán, Persia, y llevaba como sesenta pasajeros, incluso tres americanos, fué atacada por una banda de beduinos de tribu, como a ochenta y cinco millas al Este de Damasco. Resultó muerto el capitán francés que mandaba dos autos blindados con ametralladoras y dos autos con soldados árabes, que iban escoltando a la caravana. Otros dos oficiales franceses salieron heridos. Los beduinos tuvieron catorce muertos, muchos heridos y varios prisioneros.

Los tres americanos arriba citados formaban parte de la caravana, y ocupaban el octavo automóvil de la fila cuando comenzó el combate. El señor Millspaugh hace una vívida descripción del encuentro y de la muerte del bravo capitán francés.

Tal Vez el General Dawes Vuelva un Día a Vivir en Pasadena

El Vicepresidente Charles G. Dawes y el grupo de personas que le acompañan salieron esta tarde de Pasadena, rumbo al Este, en un tren del Santa Fe, que partió a las 12:41 p.m. Varios centenares de Pasadenenses se hallaban en la estación para despedir al alto funcionario.

La citada población no le dijo adiós, sino "hasta la vista", pues tiene la esperanza de que el general vuelva para radicarse allí. Fúndase su creencia en las breves frases que el vicepresidente pronunció desde la plataforma, y por las que aseguró a sus amigos que, de venirse a radicar al Oeste, lo haría en Pasadena. Y agregó luego: "Me he encontrado con más gente de Lincoln (Nebraska) y de Marietta (Ohio) en un solo día de estada en Pasadena, que en una semana en Chicago."

Gibboney se Retracta

H. W. Gibboney, que, el miércoles último, confesó que había asesinado hace once años a Claude L. Button, velador, convino anoche en que su confesión había sido un puro cuento.

Añadió Gibboney que tenía deseos de morir; pero le faltaba valor para arrancarse la vida, y pensó que si se acusaba de un asesinato, el Estado le haría lo que el tenía miedo de hacer por sí mismo.

Con tal plan en el magín, reunió los detalles del asesinato de Button, y se los aprendió de memoria, para que su relato resultara plausible e inatacable. Tal dijo al teniente detective Dryden. Añadió que la vida había sido tan sólo una carga para él, desde que su mujer lo abandonó hace seis años para irse con un hombre más joven.

Men Held for Robbery Staged at Newhall

Glendale Patrolman Uses Gun to Advantage

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 14.—Three Glendale youths, suspected of having held up and robbed the guests at a Newhall restaurant of approximately $100, were captured yesterday by Patrolman A. M. Larson of Glendale, who covered the party with his gun and forced them to surrender.

The three men, the oldest of whom is 24 years of age, are Eddie Plough, 811 West Doran street; Byron Orr, 931 Chevy Chase drive, and Russell Ostrander, 1911 Glenwood Road.

Within two hours of the time the Newhall robbery was reported to the Sheriff's office Larson noticed a car with three men in it on Maryland avenue. The occupants of the car answered the description of the asserted highwaymen, and although the number of the car did not correspond with that reported by the Sheriff's men, Larson jumped on the running-board of the car and ordered them to pull in to the curb.

Lieut. Nunn joined Larson and the three men were taken to the police station, where a search of the car revealed a woman's purse containing cash and papers, while the pockets of the trio yielded a considerable amount of money. Two blocks from where the trio were arrested the police found a parked car bearing a registration card showing that it belonged to Orr, and it is the belief of the police that the men planned to disband at Maryland avenue and Harvard street, where the car was found, and to escape.

Deputy Sheriffs Small and Brown later took charge of the prisoners and took them to the County Jail.

Puts Real Thing into Acting Part of Pirate King

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 14.—Much realism accompanied the role of pirate enacted by a guest at a masquerade ball in Wade Hampton's home here Saturday night. So much, in fact, that Frank Wurster, another guest, was in a hospital today being treated for a flesh wound in the back of the neck. The wound was inflicted by a decripit and "empty" pistol that formed a part of the pirate costume. Some years before, the old gun, a cap-and-ball affair, had been cleaned, but a small quantity of powder was left in the firing chamber. It gradually became coated with a plug of rust. At the masquerade party, when one of the guests wanted to hear the gun shoot, he snapped the hammer on a match head. There was a real roar and a flash. The plug of rust shot across the room and struck Wurster, who was facing the other way.

The gathering was not at the moment aware that Wurster had not been felled by a real bullet. Consternation reigned, but at the hospital the wound was found to be superficial, and with precautions against tetanus no ill effects are anticipated.

ASK DAMAGES FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 14.—Suits for $102,730.20 damages were filed today as the result of an automobile collision on the State highway, June 24, E. L. Sloane and the American Canned Products Company being named as defendants.

A. F. Halvorsen and Andrews Anderson, who were in a car said to have been hit by that driven by Sloane in an asserted careless manner, each brought action, the former asking a total of $50,876.50 and the latter $50,742.75 for personal injuries.

George Taylor and A. F. Halvorsen, as the Taylor-Halvorsen Company, also brought suit for $111.35 property damage in the collision, as damage to the vehicle, loss of its use while being repaired, and damage to a davenport being transported.

GLENDALE ELKS TO STAGE BAND BENEFIT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 14.—Members of the Glendale Lodge of Elks are planning to stage an indoor circus as a benefit for the Elks' Band, in order raise funds to take the organization to the annual State convention at San Francisco, October 8 to 10.

The circus will be held in the Elks' clubhouse on East Colorado street on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, and the general scheme calls for a revival of the days of '49, with all the amusements and excitement that go with the early days of California's gold rush.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 14.—Seven members of Frank S. Reynolds Post, No. 26, American Legion, left Bakersfield this afternoon for Santa Catalina Island, where they will represent Kern county as delegates to the American Legion State convention, which opens tomorrow. Those who were chosen as delegates were Clifton A. Chisholm, Post Commander; Roland L. Curran, County Council Commander; R. W. Carpenter, Post Business Manager; Fred Ward, Charles K. Badger, Thomas Stevenson and Zeke Hoskins.

Rev. William Patrick of Reynolds Post has also left for the convention, which he will open with the invocation as State Chaplain of the American Legion.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 14.—With enrollment completed in the high and grade schools the school year began in earnest this morning with a total enrollment of 3525 and increased school facilities costing more than $300,000. The enrollment this fall represents an increase of 10 per cent over previous years. At the high school Mrs. Allen Hammond, formerly vice-principal, assumed her new post as principal.

Carl Sebelius has been appointed vice-principal and Milton M. Longshore vice-principal of the night school. Assistants and heads of departments number sixty-five. J. B. Potter is superintendent of the grade schools and the opening this year marked the completion of two new school buildings, the Beryl Heights school and the Central school annex, erected at a cost of $250,000.

BREAK ALL RECORDS

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—The total of 13,253 students who registered in Pasadena schools today, the first day of the fall term, broke all previous records for school attendance here. All alterations and new buildings scheduled to be ready today were operating as predicted, educational officials reported, as they expressed satisfaction over the outlook for the year.

Nearly 200 students entered the new part-time school, opened for the first time today, and organized for the purpose of affording educational opportunities for employed minors. Attendance at Pasadena Junior College, now offering a regulation two-year college course, was more than double that of last year.

ALHAMBRA GAINS

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 14.—Enrollment figures broke all records when the city schools were opened this morning. A total enrollment of 4778, including 2958 elementary, 320 kindergarten and 1500 high school students was announced this afternoon by Superintendent of Schools Routt.

It is expected that these figures will be materially increased during the next few days. Last year on the first day of the fall term 1441 students were enrolled in the high school. Comparative figures also show that this year's enrollments for the first day in the elementary grades and in the kindergarten surpass the marks of previous years. In 1924 the total in the elementary schools was 2913.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

ONTARIO, Sept. 14.—Elementary schools of the city opened today for the fall term with a first-day enrollment of 1712 pupils, a gain of 73 over the first day of last year, when 1659 reported for instruction. Today marked the inauguration of the new Allyn-avenue school, which had a first-day enrollment of 281 pupils. The addition of this building makes a total of six in the city's elementary school system, and it has served materially to reduce congestion in some of the other buildings.

Registration at Chaffey High School and Junior College of Agriculture is still going forward, and no figures are yet available. Actual school work is to start there Wesdnesday.

FRESNO HAS CONTINUED CRIME ORGY

Cracksmen Wreck Safes in Six Places of Business and Burglarize Two Homes

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 14.—As the result of a week-end orgy of crime almost unprecedented in Fresno and which resulted in the breaking of six safes, the attempted wrecking of two others, three hold-ups and two homes burglarized, Fresno police were today searching for traces of a well-known Pacific Coast gang of yeggmen as the perpetrators of the crimes.

Culminating the crime orgy the Fresno police staged an unsuccessful attempt to halt two men who were suspected of an oil-station hold-up at Tulare, as they sped through Fresno in a large motor car. The men once eluded the officers by the high speed of their car only to be headed off at the San Joaquin River bridge and fired upon with sawed-off shotguns by the officers, and again escaping.

The safe-crackings netted approximately $1000 and were staged at the following places: Chandler & Neuman Phonograph Shop; Barker, Durrell & Mitchell, furniture store, Saturday night. Three safes at the office of the California Peach and Fig Growers and another in the office of the Fresno Disposal Company. Incomplete jobs were found in the offices of the Fresno Guaranty Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

C. W. Bailey and Frank Nava were held-up victims of men they offered rides in their motor cars and Charles Petersen was robbed of $60 by two men with whom he was drinking. The homes of Guy Taplin and Mrs. A. W. Byron were robbed of approximately $275.

The safe-cracking jobs are said by Captain of Detectives Broad to bear clews which indicate they were all by the same cracksmen.

PATRONIZE NEW BANK

Citizens of South Gate Make First-Day Deposit of $75,000

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 14.—South Gate's first bank, the South Gate National Bank, opened Saturday, promises to be a most successful institution, according to A. F. Ullrich, cashier. Mr. Ullrich stated this morning that there were, during the first day, almost 100 persons who became depositors in the new institution, and that approximately $75,000 was deposited during the opening day.

The first depositor at the opening of the bank was the secretary of the South Gate Chamber of Commerce, who deposited the funds of this organization, this account being a checking account, while the first savings deposit account was placed in the institution by Ernestine Kessler, a little 11-year-old miss of this city.

The new bank is located at Post street and Victoria avenue, just opposite the City Hall.

Mr. Ullrich is assisted by Miss Lucile Killian of this city, as bookkeeper and stenographer. Miss Killian was formerly connected with the People's National Bank of Los Angeles, and before coming to the Coast a year ago was a resident of Denver.

Mr. Ullrich has had years of banking experience in Southern California.

The capital stock of the new bank is $50,000, with $10,000 surplus.

PHOTOGRAPHERS MAKE EXTENSIVE AIR TRIP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 14.—Completing a nonstop flight from Las Vegas, Nev., a part of a 15,000-mile flight in photographing the national parks for the Department of the Interior, Capt. John A. Macready, noted transcontinental flyer, and Capt. A. F. Stevens landed in Fresno today to refuel their plane and make minor repairs prior to continuing their trip to San Francisco.

While in this section they photographed the General Grant and Sequoia national parks and the Kings River Canyon, a part of the proposed Roosevelt National Park.

BOOK-KEEPING SAID TO CAUSE LOSSES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Inefficient bookkeeping in the gas and water departments of the City of Anaheim has caused losses totaling thousands of dollars, according to J. W. Price, City Manager. To correct this inefficiency in the city government Price has ordered a careful audit of the books of those departments. The bookkeeping system now in use is obsolete, according to his report to city trustees.

CHIEF AT ANAHEIM WILL REDUCE FORCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—The present police force in this city is too large, according to Chief of Police Martin, who plans to cut the force two members October 1. The decrease in the police force will be a part of the reorganization program to be put in effect here next month. The present strength of the police department is fourteen men. Under the new plan of the chief the position of desk sergeant will be abolished, the chief filling the position himself. One of the patrolmen will also act as garbage inspector.

MAY HALT RECALL

Judge Sets Date for Hearing Injunction Suit Filed in Imperial County

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Sept. 14.—Superior Judge Ira F. Thompson, of Los Angeles, today set September 21 as the date for hearing the application of H. A. Rumsey, and Bailies Walker for an injunction to prevent County Clerk Cal G. Mousseau from certifying to the sufficiency of the names on a recall petition filed against Dist.-Atty. Ernest R. Utley. The clerk was restrained from issuing his certificate September 5, under a temporary order signed by Judge Walton G. Wood of Los Angeles.

Fraud and misrepresentation in the procuring of the signatures on the petition are alleged in the complaint filed by Rumsey and Walker. It was expected that Clerk Mousseau would have certified to the Supervisors that the petition was sufficient unless restrained by the court. If he had issued his certificate, the date of the election would have been set last Tuesday by the Supervisors.

Because of the interest in the recall fight the courtroom was crowded by valley residents when the hearing was held today.

TULARE FAIR OPENS GATES

Visalia Girl to be Crowned "Tulare Maid"

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TULARE, Sept. 14.—At no time in her history has the city of Tulare been more appealing than now, decked in gay array for the sixth annual Tulare County Fair, which opens here tomorrow morning for six days and nights of entertaining and inspection of "premier exhibits of the products of a premier county and State."

Gold and white form the motif for the colorful decorations, which brighten the entire business district and turn the fair grounds into fairyland. Prominent citizens from all sections of the county, workmen and decorators today have crowded the grounds, while placing final touches on what all believe will be Tulare county's most spectacular and successful fair.

More than $10,000 was spent early in the season on permanent improvements, enlargements and additions to buildings, and all space has been taken, many outside exhibitors being ready with showings of super live-stock, automobiles, and all kinds of California products. An extra entrance gate has been prepared and almost as a unit Tulare county communities are ready to put over this event.

Among notable visitors who are to be honor guests during the fair, Gov. Friend W. Richardson comes first. He will be present on Friday, an elaborate reception to be accorded him in the main pavilion. Friday night will also see the live-stock parade, grand pyrotechnical display which, with Saturday night's show of fireworks, will cost $2000.

Walter A. Yarwood, secretary of the State Athletic Commission, will be guest of the Tulare Legion on Thursday evening when Tulare county's first ten-round bout is staged as headliner on a boxing card of twenty-eight rounds. Some of the valley's best fighters will appear in this program. Fred Botaro of Sacramento will act as referee. Jimmy Thomas of Tulare is match-maker.

About 500 Tulare county "trail-blazers" will be entertained as honor guests on Thursday, Pioneer Day. The board of directors of the first Tulare county fair will also be guests of the present management this year.

A new record is also established this year by the fair management, in that not a single man is working on salary, President E. J. Ryan, Secretary C. L. Kennedy and others giving their time free. Each man has paid his own expenses and the committee is composed of Tulare's leading business men, ranchers and live-stock raisers.

Tonight, Miss Hester Wood of Visalia, as "Tulare Maid," who is to reign throughout the fair, with her court attendants will rehearse for tomorrow night's coronation ceremony and pageant, which is to be one of the most spectacular features of the entire fair.

"Tulare Maid" will be attended by the following maids of honor: Miss Beulah J. Smith, Lindsay; Miss Nadine Stewart, Exeter; Miss Marian Burum, Dinuba; Miss Thelma Munsey, Porterville. In the royal train, will be little Misses Cleo Embry of Pixley; Elinore Cole of Strathmore; Phyllis Nelson of Ivanhoe, and Anna Gertrude Baker of Tipton.

BREAK UP GANG OF THIEVES

Pasadena Police Arrest Boys on Charge of Selling Parts Stolen from Autos

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 14. — With the arrest today of three youths caught in the act of disposing of stolen automobile accessories, Pasadena police believe that they have captured the principal members of the gang that has been stealing cars from city streets for several months.

Acting on telephone information received at police headquarters, Detective Lieutenant Culver and Detective Sergeant Cropsy hid themselves near the home of William Jones, 1071 Mentone avenue, who, the officers say, had arranged to buy the stolen property.

Here the detectives arrested Gordan C. Shimberg, 245 Beaudry Court, Los Angeles; Francis Gagnon, 378 Rosemont avenue, and Carl Russell, 1197 North El Molino avenue, as they approached the house with five automobile wheels equipped with balloon tires, identified as those stripped from the machine of Raymond Rust of the Rust Furniture Company.

A large assortment of automobile accessories were found in the youths' possession, including every article of value taken from Rust's car which was stolen, when he parked it near Warner's Theater, and was later abandoned by the thieves.

SAN FERNANDO POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, Sept. 13.—Postal receipts at the San Fernando postoffice continue to show increase over last year. Receipts for August this year were $2095.17, an increase of $3000 over the preceding month. Receipts for this month are not expected to be as large as August, through the curious fact, according to Postmaster Caldwell, that September is always the lightest month for the postal business.

BUSY BOY BURGLAR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, Sept. 14.—Identification of nearly all of approximately one thousand dollars' worth of recovered property, said to have been stolen by Fred Sunley, 17-year-old Pomona boy, had been made at the police station by residents whose homes have been robbed recently. The boy is in the City Jail following confession which police say he made of burglarizing fifteen Pomona homes.

Arrested late Saturday, the boy is asserted to have told the whole story of his robberies and to have taken officers to the attic of his home at 480 East Alvarado street, where he turned over a large box containing the loot. He then accompanied the officers on a tour of the residential district and pointed out houses he said he had entered.

Among these was the home of Mayor Park, where, the boy said, he was unable to gain entrance. The loot consisted of diamond rings, strings of pearls, gold watches, fountains pens, silver pencils, flashlights, bracelets and money. In the arrest of Sunley police believe they have broken up the epidemic of house robberies during the past few weeks by passkey artists.

Sunley, son of Fred G. Sunley of 480 East Alvarado street, will be arraigned before Judge White, who will no doubt certify the lad to the Juvenile Court.

TWO HURT AS AUTOS COLLIDE

Accident at Pasadena May Result in Death of Driver of Wrecked Car

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—An 8-year-old schoolgirl and a man are dangerously near death at the Pasadena Hospital and a boy is under arrest at the police station here as the result of an early morning automobile smash-up at the intersection of Mountain street and Stevenson avenue today.

Harold J. White, 25 years of age of 1309 Denver street, vice-president of the White-Smith Manufacturing Company, Los Angeles, driver of one of the cars, was growing rapidly weaker this afternoon and had failed to regain consciousness after the accident. Hospital authorities consider his chances for recovery slight. He was treated for a fractured skull, hemorrhage and severe cuts and bruises about his body.

The little girl, Olive Conklin, was struck by the skidding cars a few doors from her home as she was leaving for her first day at school. She is being treated at the Pasadena Hospital for a broken leg and a bruised forehead. She lives at 888 Stevenson avenue.

Oliver Shermer, 17 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Shermer, 1365 East Division street, and driver of the second car, was injured slightly and is being held by the police until blame for the crash can be established. Officers believe the boy is at fault.

Shermer was traveling east on Mountain street and White was driving south on Stevenson avenue, according to witnesses. The cars collided at the intersection, skidded to the curb and pinned the girl beneath the wreckage as she attempted to escape by running back in the sidewalk.

Both drivers were alone in their cars. Shermer's machine was completely demolished and officers consider it remarkable that he escaped with his life.

Naval Aircraft to be Sent to San Diego Base

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 14.—The Boeing seaplane, accompanied by the PN-7 No. 12, will arrive here from San Francisco probably Friday, according to an announcement made today at the naval air station by Lieut. Carl Scott, who has just returned from the Bay City from special duty in connection with the west coast-Hawaiian flight.

Lieut. Scott expressed the belief that unless favorable weather obtains next month, the proposed flight of the Boeing to Honolulu will be postponed until after the cessation of the winter storms next February. At that time it is possible the PN 9 No. 1 and PN-9 No. 3 may also be given another opportunity to essay the flight, this time with more gasoline.

Capt. Stanford E. Moses, commanding the aircraft squadron's battle fleet, may fly from San Francisco to San Diego in either the Boeing or the PN-7. The fleet air force commanded will not come to San Diego until the latter part of the week, Lieut. Scott reports.

The aircraft carrier Langley sailed from Honolulu Sunday, and will arrive here next Monday. No radio advices have been received regarding the movements of the aircraft tender Arcostook.

PLAN CHEST DRIVE

Santa Monica Prepares to Raise Money for Charity

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 14.—When Community Chest begins to operate in Santa Monica it will have an organization, including a board of directors and officers, as well as the managing director, A. W. McPherson, according to recent announcement.

These facts and others concerning the Chest plan were revealed today following a discussion of the plan at a meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce in the Venice Gun Club, where they met as guests of Herman Michel, president.

Before the drive for funds is made, representatives of the various organizations interested will confer and an understanding will be reached as to how the money raised will be apportioned. The Chest is not expected to carry the support of the work done by the Chamber of Commerce nor the Greater Santa Monica Club. Every other charitable and public welfare society will be included.

No definite date for the drive has been set, but it is expected that it will come early in October. The estimate now is that about $40,000 will be needed for the various benevolences, but this is not final.

NEW CITY TRUSTEE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MAYWOOD, Sept. 14.—Oscar E. Johnson has been selected by the Board of City Trustees to take the place on the board made vacant by the resignation of James S. Packard a few days ago.

This city is to hold a disincorporation election on Saturday, October 17, when the voters will decide whether it will remain a city of the sixth class or whether it will return to county territory.

TACTICS OF CAVE MAN ANNOYING

Wife Recites Long List of Asserted Abuses in Petition for Maintenance

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 14.—C. J. Murphy, Riverside painter, suspected his wife was untrue to him. When she denied it he hurled her to the floor, pressed the edge of a butcher knife against her throat and told her to confess or he would kill her. She confessed. But, she says today in her Superior Court complaint for separate maintenance there had really been nothing to confess. She made the butcher-knife confession merely to save her life.

Under more threats she repeated her statements to a detective, whom her husband immediately brought to their apartment.

Mrs. Murphy now resides in Santa Ana. The couple lived here before they moved to Riverside, last summer. He tried to kill her in this city, the wife says. She says she awakened one night to find a shirt wrapped about her throat and strangling her. Her husband leaned over her and told her he was going to kill her, she said.

After the Riverside incident, Murphy took his wife and four children to Redlands, installed them in a tent at the auto camp grounds and held his wife virtually incommunicado, she claims.

After enduring that sort of existence as long as she could, Mrs. Murphy left afoot with the children and walked nearly to Riverside, before getting a ride to Santa Ana. Attorney Morris Cain represents her in the court proceedings. She asks custody of the children and "reasonable" support for them.

FIND "LOST" GIRL

Glendale Maid Returns to Work After Visiting Friends

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 14.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Miss Irene Gomes, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gomes, 629 West Salem street, during the progress of a dance at the Garden of the Moon, Tujunga, Saturday night, was cleared up this morning when the girl reported for work in the telephone company's office in Los Angeles, where she is employed.

Miss Gomes stated that she had danced with Phillip Merrill, a former suitor, at the Garden of the Moon, and that they had then slipped away for an automobile ride, and when she returned to the dance hall about midnight the friends with whom she had gone there had left. She and Merrill, she told her parents, had then motored to Santa Monica, where they joined a party of friends, among whom were Miss Ruth Bradley of Los Angeles and her two sisters, with whom Miss Gomes spent Saturday and Sunday night.

Efforts to locate Miss Gomes were started on Saturday night after she had disappeared from the dance hall in company with a young man who was a stranger to the rest of the party she had accompanied to Tujunga, and the assistance of the police and other peace officers of Southern California were enlisted in the search, which lasted until her father was notified of her return to her work in Los Angeles this morning.

Hills adjacent to Tujunga were combed by her friends, who feared that the girl had been kidnaped.

OFFICIAL RESIGNS

Riverside Official Plans to Enter Private Practice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 14. — Dist.-Atty. Oakley K. Morton today tendered his resignation to the Riverside County Cupervisors, effective October 1. Press of private professional business was given as reason for the resignation, which was accepted with regret by the board. Dist.-Atty. Morton will return to legal practice in Riverside.

Chief Deputy Albert H. Ford, who has been actively connected with the office of the District Attorney since 1921, was unanimously chosen by the board to fill the vacancy. His appointment was heartily recommended by the retiring counig official, who declared Ford to be an able attorney, careful in his conduct of the cases handled by him and well qualified to take charge of the office.

SPECIAL ELECTION

Pasadena Property Owners Decide Fate of Improvement

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—A special election will be held here tomorrow to determine whether or not Colorado street, Pasadena's chief business thoroughfare, will be improved and widened throughout the six blocks between Orange Grove avenue and Broadway. Only those property owners who would be assessed for the project will vote. The cost of the proposed improvement is estimated at $3,475,000.

Traffic and commercial growth during the last two years have become so great as to practically force the widening of the city's main artery, according to engineers. At present, Colorado street has eight different widths between Orange Grove avenue and Broadway, and for years has been agitation for the straightening and widening of the street. A number of buildings constructed in this district during the last few years have been set back from the present property line in order to allow for the ultimate widening of the thoroughfare.

PREVENT JAIL DELIVERY

Discovery of Saw Blade Hidden in Prisoner's Shoe Blocks Way to Freedom

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—An intended jailbreak was frustrated by Pasadena police today when they discovered a small saw blade secreted in the sole of a shoe worn by Donald F. Gibson, notorious forger suspect, held in the City Jail on scores of charges of writing spurious checks.

Since Gibson was brought to Pasadena last Saturday following his arrest in Santa Barbara, detectives have learned, they declare, that he is the head of one of the cleverest and most extensive gangs of forgers in Southern California. He is wanted in Pasadena for the robbery of Hopping's Foundry, 367 South Broadway, and on fifteen counts of forgery.

Gibson is wanted in Long Beach on twenty forgery charges, according to the Chief of Police of that city, who telephoned Captain of Detectives Betts here today.

Arrangements were made for Santa Ana's Chief of Police also called and identified Gibson as the man sought in that city for ten forgeries.

A large packet of checks were stolen from the Hopping Foundry here, and were cashed from time to time in various cities throughout the State. Gibson was arrested in Santa Barbara on a minor charge and was about to be released when he was identified as the man sought by Pasadena officers in connection with the Hopping robbery and subsequent check frauds. The saw was discovered in his shoe when detectives searched him today.

TWELVE LINERS DUE THIS WEEK

Passenger List of Offshore Vessels 1500

H. F. Alexander Booked for Farewell Call

Will Make New York-Florida Run Temporarily

Twelve offshore passenger liners, carrying a total of approximately 1500 passengers, are due at the port this week in an increasing growth of foreign trade, marking the opening of the fall season. Important among the week's arrivals will be the premier coastwise liner H. F. Alexander, on her last call before going to the Atlantic to enter New York-Miami service for the winter season.

After a week's reconditioning at Seattle the H. F. Alexander will depart Puget Sound on the 29th inst. for Los Angeles, arriving here October 3 and departing for New York via Havana the same evening. She will carry more than 500 travelers to the east coast, and on the run around is expected to break all existing speed records for the intercoastal passage.

The H. F. Alexander will sail from New York for Miami on her first voyage on October 22, for which trip a capacity list has already been booked. Thereafter a four-day schedule will be maintained between the metropolis and the Florida resort.

The week's foreign passenger trade will be as follows:

Yesterday, Mexican liners Sinaloa, from Mexican West Coast ports, and Washington, from the north for Salina Cruz and way ports. Today, Mexican liner Guerrero, from Mexican West Coast. Tomorrow, British steamer London Merchant, from London and North Europe; German steamer Hessen, for North Europe; British motor liner Pacific Shipper, for the United Kingdom. Friday, Swedish motorship Canada, from Scandinavian ports and Central America; British motorship Loch Katrine, from United Kingdom and North Europe; Danish motorship Tonking, from Sakhalin, Russia. Saturday, Panama-Pacific liner Manchuria, from New York and Havana, and the Hawaiian liner Calawali, from Honolulu, Hilo and Kahului.

The Manchuria, due at daylight Saturday from New York, is expected to bring in the largest number of passengers ever arriving from the east coast, having nearly 400 persons on her lists.

LARGEST MOTORSHIP

AFLOAT ARRIVES IN PORT

The British motorship Silvray, latest development afloat in Diesel-driven cargo carriers, arrived at Los Angles Harbor yesterday on her maiden voyage, which will carry from the world in the globe-circling service of the Roosevelt-Kawasaki Line.

She made the run of this port from Savannah in sixteen days, despite a bit of heavy weather, an added accomplishment to the fact that her Doxford engined motor carriers have not appeared or given an iota of trouble since the left her builders' yards at Sunderland, Eng.

The Silvray is the last to be built of six motorships built by and operating in the Roosevelt-Kawasaki Line's round-the-world service with the Pacific Steamship Company.

The Silvray is the last to be built of six motorships built by and operating in the Roosevelt-Kawasaki Line's round-the-world service with the Kawasaki Kisen Kabushiki Kaisha, the Japanese concern operating six steamers opposite the Pacific Steamship Company, in the Dollar line's only Pacific Coast port of call, while Yokohama and Yap New York are the oriental and Atlantic terminals respectively.

The Silvray, of 5660 tons deadweight, is in command of Capt. H. F. Boley, a veteran of the British merchant service. She is now discharging cargo last night for the Orient she loaded out 1000 tons of Southern California cargo, including 10,000 cases of canned fruit.

The salvage steamer Prescott of the local fleet of the U. S. Marine Corps, Fourth Naval District Corps, arrived yesterday at Rockport on the Mendocino coast, where she will establish a new lumber depot, temporary or permanent, pending operations by the Fishkill Lumber Company of Jackson, Miss. Several million feet of lumber will be milled and sent to the east coast, Orient and California ports during the next five years by the concern, in the working of its newest holdings.

On her first visit in the Pacific, the German steamer Rotsund of the Roland Line fleet, arrived yesterday with passengers and cargo from Hamburg. She is the first of four new steamers which have been added to the European-Pacific service, maintained jointly by the United American Lines, Hamburg-American and Roland Line, and is in command of Capt. Emil Schneider.

Sailing Cruz will hereafter be out from the ports of call of the passenger liners of the Panama Mail Line, on account of excessive port charges and taxes levied by Mexican officials, it was announced yesterday by Carl Hendelman, district manager of the Panama Mail. All steamships lines operating vessels into Salina Cruz, including the Pacific Mail with the new Mexican customs regulations, it is reported, and are contemplating abandonment of service to the West Coast port.

Resumption of intercoastal service by the Port Line will be inaugurated at this port Saturday with the arrival from New York of the steamer Portmar, carrying a full load of Port and miscellaneous cargo and mails. She will be followed by a sister ship, the Oneida, it was announced.

Los Angeles' $214,000 fire boat, known as Los Angeles City No. 2, will be launched at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation on the 20th inst., it was announced yesterday. The new fire-fighter will go into commission about October 25.

G. W. Neeky, marine architect of the builders, said yesterday that the new craft, a 300-horsepower motor, which will propel the craft and operate its pumps and auxiliaries are now en route here from the East. Its motors will operate the pumps, one will be geared exclusively to the auxiliary propeller, while two of the pumps now here will be so geared that they also will drive the port and starboard screws, giving the craft a speed of seventeen knots.

The thousand gallons of water a minute will be thrown at high pressure from the five monitors, one of which will be mounted on a forty-foot tower.

COPPER MARKET MARKEDLY DULL

Situation Called Reaction to Recent Activity

Most of Producers Sold Out Well in Advance

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
(Editor, The Mining Journal)

Copper is quiet almost to a point of intensity, the price ranging from 14⅝ to 14⅝, the lower price being for small bargain lots of secondary metal, while the higher price is prevailing for futures. The quietness of the market is a reaction from the large buying movement of several weeks ago. At this time buying was exceptionally heavy and most of the producers contracted for the sale of their product a couple of months ahead.

Hence, the larger producers have been out of the market, with little or no copper to offer, and the amounts that have been changing hands have been small lots at irregular prices and have no particular influence on the copper situation as a whole. The reaction has also come from an effort on the part of English buyers to force prices down, but the statistical position of the metal was too sound to permit of this being any more than a delay further advances in price.

STOCKS LOW

The figures for the surplus stock of copper as of the 1st inst. have not been made public, but August sales were large and it is anticipated that the stock of metal has had a further reduction below its low point of August 1. In fact, it is reported that but two of the refineries have any copper to sell, an unusual condition, due to the fact that the surplus stock is below the point of safety to the consumer. The refineries in general are making their shipments directly out of current daily production, placing none of it in stock.

The world's production of copper in July amounted to 129,300 short tons, against 129,700 in June, 129,000 in May, 129,400 in April and 129,600 in March. The total output for the first seven months of this year was 917,100 tons.

There is no reason for concern over the fractional decline in the price quoted for copper during the past week, which is due simply to a temporary lull in demand for the metal following the record sales during the first three weeks in August, when foreign and domestic consumers of copper filled their immediate wants and many of them their requirements for a period of sixty days.

NEVER STRONGER

Copper was never in as strong a position as it is at present, as shown by the Boston News Bureau in an article appearing in a recent issue of that paper, from which we quote:

"Since the advance of copper from 13½ cents a pound to nearly 15 cents, it is estimated that over 600,000,000 pounds were sold for foreign and domestic shipment. Surplus stocks of 176,176,000 pounds are smallest since the armistice, against the high point of almost 720,000,000 pounds of refined copper in surplus stocks in 1921, when the copper mines of this country were forced to close. The reduction is 574,000,000 pounds.

RECORD LOOMS

"And the present surplus has been pulled down in the face of the largest production of copper on record, war or peace. In the first seven months of this year 1,588,412,000 pounds of metal were produced by American refineries. This is at the rate of 2,671,540,000 pounds for 1925, another high mark. In these same months consumption, measured by foreign and domestic shipments, amounted to 1,655,264,000 pounds, or an increase over output of 96,852,000 pounds, and a consumption rate that indicates 2,837,592,000 pounds of American copper for 1925.

"In short, the world today is consuming more copper than it is producing, and refined salable metal amounts to only about three weeks' requirements. Yet copper, even at 15 cents, is 2 cents below the average price for the past twenty years."

TIME TO ADVERTISE IS HERE

Lineage Grows as Merchants Sense Advent of New Business Era; Perform Market Function

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Somewhat in the same manner as the speculations forecast the trend of security values in the stock market, business men have a method all their own of expressing opinions of the future in general business. For some lines of commercial pursuits, the fluctuations in the volume of the forward orders is a satisfactory barometer, but as the best index of business opinion, the economists select the volume of advertising in the newspapers and the national magazines. And right now, this index is resting at a significant point in the commercial cycle.

Advertising lineage carried in The Times, the largest volume in Los Angeles, registered an appreciable gain in August over July, apparently in reflection of a widespread feeling that the fall months in this territory will usher in a period of sound business progress in all lines. Usually, according to the investigations of the Harvard School of Business Administration, the advertising volume in the newspapers forecasts from one to three or four months the upward turn in the trade cycle, which seems to indicate that the new era will begin in the Pacific Southwest some time before the end of the year and probably run for several months.

ANALOGY SHOWN

The analogy between the stock market and newspaper advertising is peculiarly striking. Certain large advertisers, who are firmly of the belief that it pays to advertise steadily throughout the year, correspond to the investors in the market who trade on the long-pull basis. Similarly, there is a host of speculators who only participate in the market when the signs are favorable for a bull movement, and they have their counterpart in the advertisers who regulate their expenditures according to business prospects. It takes the army of small speculators to stir up a genuine bull market, just as the irregular advertisers are needed to swell the total advertising volume to the point where churning business activity is generated.

On the basis of the trend in advertising in this region, the rank and file of business men evidently are convinced that this is time to advertise. Probably the confident expressions from national business leaders and government officials have helped to shape these views, or perhaps the publication of bullish trade statistics has exercised an impelling influence. Again, it may be that individually, business men as well as speculators, sense the change in the tide of business affairs, and are actuated more by instinct than reason. At any rate, the sentiment seems universal that the entire United States is entering a period of orderly, prosperous business.

Whatever the motive, plenty of reasons exist to encourage larger advertising appropriations. In Southern California, crop yields and crop prices are especially favorable. The citrus crop is selling at higher prices than last year and is expected to bring a total return of approximately $85,000,000. Dried and canned fruits are strong, and the Fresno raisin growers are facing an upward price trend for the raisin pack. Wine and table grapes are expected to bring good prices as the result of lower yields. In the cotton sections the growers are beginning to harvest a record crop that ought to distribute something over $40,000,000 in the trade channels of this territory.

Sundry other reasons can be cited to demonstrate similar prosperous conditions in the commercial field, but the main point is that agriculture and industry are approximately in equilibrium. To the merchant this means that orderly buying will follow, and it is this buying that advertising campaigns are intended to stimulate.

WEALTH DISTRIBUTED

From the national standpoint, an important argument for active business in the coming months is that commodity prices as a whole are resting at fair levels. High prices for cotton and wool in the last few years have discouraged consistent buying by the public of the manufactured products, but this year the quotations on the raw materials are favorable enough to permit satisfactory prices for the goods sold to the consumer. The public steadfastly refuses to pay exorbitant prices even though such prices are warranted by the economics of supply and demand, and in such instances, the manufacturer, the jobber and the retailer are the heavy losers.

Not only do the statistics indicate that commodity prices are fairly adjusted, but they show that the national income is equitably distributed between all classes of consumers. Employment in industrial lines is reported satisfactory by the Department of Labor and the Department of Agriculture announces that the net cash income of the American farmers increased $720,000,000 in the crop year of 1924-25 over the year of 1923-24. All that remains for the advertiser is to stimulate the circulation of this money by well-planned campaigns.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Financial markets reflected easier money conditions with a cheerful tone today.

Investments were in good demand because of a tendency toward cheaper money. Unfortunately, however, the more favorable credit conditions are due to depressed trade.

The jump in rubber was attributed to delays in certain supplies reaching you in time for September commitments.

In a letter addressed to Prime Minister Baldwin, the chairman of Swan Hunter and Wigham Richardson, Ltd., draws attention to the unsatisfactory condition of British industries and calls upon the government to appoint a royal commission to inquire into the matter.

Meanwhile the results of the recent trade-union conference at Scarborough, give further indications that our trade-union movement has been worm-eaten with Bolshevism.

NEW TRUST COMPANY IS CHARTERED

Will Handle Affairs of Business Men That Need Expert Attention

Organization of the Metropolitan Trust Company of California, with a capital of $500,000, was announced yesterday by A. H. Braly, president. The company has received authority from the State Banking Department to engage in business and will maintain headquarters at 609 South Grand avenue.

The new organization will specialize in insurance, living and investment trusts, Mr. Braly stated. "The trust company," he said, "is admirably equipped to relieve the busy executive of the burden of caring for accumulated capital. One form of trust service that is gaining wide popularity is the insurance trust. A man looking into the future may deposit his life-insurance policy, with cash or securities he has amassed, and have the entire group of investments handled so as to bring the greatest yield commensurate with safety."

EXEMPT FROM CALIFORNIA PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

LEGAL INVESTMENT FOR CALIFORNIA SAVINGS BANKS, TRUST COMPANIES AND INSURANCE COMPANIES

AVAILABLE AS DEPOSIT WITH STATE TREASURER TO SECURE FAITHFUL PERFORMANCE OF TRUSTS

President H. H. Braly summarizes from his letter to us as follows:

COMPANY: The Mortgage Insurance Corporation is incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operates under the provisions of the California Mortgage Insurance Act, which authorizes the issuance of these Insured First Mortgage Certificates. As required by law, the Company has a paid-up capital of $250,000 and in addition a paid-up surplus of $50,000. Operations are under the close supervision of the State Insurance Commissioner.

CERTIFICATES: These Certificates represent a participating interest in 94 first deeds of trust totaling over $500,000, which are deposited with the Trustee. These liens are secured by improved and productive California real estate, appraised at $1,033,993, or more than twice the amount of these Certificates. Under the Mortgage Insurance Act, all appraisals are made by appraisers approved by both the Superintendent of Banks and the Insurance Commissioner of California.

Principal and interest on the deposited liens are payable in monthly installments extending over a ten-year period. The maturity of these Certificates is so arranged that payments upon the deposited liens will at all times be sufficient to meet both principal and interest on the Certificates as due.

MORTGAGE INSURANCE: Each deposited deed of trust is accompanied by a policy of mortgage insurance insuring the payment of principal and interest thereon. In addition, the Company, in the trust agreement, guarantees that sufficient moneys will be paid to the Trustee to meet both principal and interest requirements on the Certificates as due. Adequate fire insurance policies covering all mortgaged property are deposited with the Trustee.

MANAGEMENT: Affairs of the Corporation are under the able management of the following officers and directors who have had many years' local experience in real estate, construction, insurance and banking: President, H. H. Braly; Executive Vice-President, Chas. B. Hopper; Vice-President, Arthur H. Braly; Secretary, F. S. Hollister; Directors: J. A. Jevne, Harold L. Arnold, T. W. Hendrick, Shepard Mitchell.

GREAT WESTERN TO SELL POWER STOCK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The State Railroad Commission today authorized the Great Western Power Company to issue and sell $1,000,000 of its 7 per cent preferred stock and $7,000,000 of its 6 per cent preferred stock for the construction of a high tension electrical transmission system from its Brighton substation in Sacramento county, to Merced. The line will link the Great Western system with the San Joaquin Light and Power Company's plant.

Safety and yield combined in high-grade realty bonds

BECAUSE of the growing recognition, among all classes of investors, of the soundness and stability of high-grade real estate mortgage bonds, we have become interested in a number of desirable issues. These include bonds secured by central city business property which provides a substantial income from responsible tenants over and above all interest requirements, and also bonds soundly secured by outlying income property.

We have prepared an illustrated booklet briefly describing seventeen issues of real estate mortgage bonds underwritten by this firm, and we shall be glad to mail you a copy of this booklet together with information concerning bonds now available, upon receipt of your name and address.

Building Boom Breaks All Records at Season of Year When Sagging Tendencies Normally are Expected—Ease in Money Stimulates Speculative Construction.

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—That building construction should proceed at an unprecedented rate after rents have turned downward should be a warning in sections of the country that are overbuilding.

Building activities ordinarily die down at this season of the year and until construction figures reached a new peak in August most people supposed that the March record would stand for the year. F. W. Dodge Corporation now gives the country somewhat of a surprise, accordingly, when it reports that building construction in August broke all previous records. New work started in the thirty-six Eastern States, which represented about seven-eighths of the total building volume of the country, last month, aggregated $589,890,200. This figure represents 11 per cent gain over July and 46 per cent gain over August, 1924.

RECORDS SMASHED

Perhaps something of the pace at which we are pushing our building program may be appreciated if we compare what has been done this year to date with what had been done up to this time last year. Construction started during the first eight months of 1925 totals $3,778,592,000, or a quarter more than had been undertaken up to September, 1924. Never in the history of the country has anything like such a building program been known.

The big August volume may be traced in part to renewed activities in and around New York City where, up to July this year, building had been comparatively slow here in the last two years. New York led the building boom by a year or two following the war, and activities had slackened by the time the wave had spread to the South and West. Apparently New York is starting up again. At least more building was begun in August around New York than had ever been reported before.

CHEAP MONEY AIDS

Anybody who studies the situation must be impressed with the prosperous condition of the country that is revealed by the volume of construction that has been under way now several years. Even the builders themselves did not realize the enormous rebuilding program that awaited the industry, once it had caught up on its program of building to meet the normal growth of the country.

It is possible to see these great constructive forces back of the building boom, however, and still to recognize that certain dangers may result if construction is pushed to a point at which the country become greatly overbuilt. Certain cities now report a surplus of idle buildings and rents appear to have turned from an upward to a downward trend.

Unquestionably the great building boom rests on a solid foundation in the post-war growth of the country, and may be accepted as an index of a rising tide of prosperity, but do not lose sight of the fact that much of the building has been of a speculative character stimulated by the availability of money at low rates.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Rails Feature

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A revival of demand for high-grade railroad liens imparted a strong tone to the bond market today. With these bonds leading the way, prices forged into higher ground on the largest turnover in several weeks, exceeding $15,000,000. The buoyancy of the stock market found a sympathetic response in bond trading, convertible issues readily following the upward trend of shares.

With the Seaboard Air Line Railway floating a new $10,000,000 bond issue to take care of its increased Florida traffic, attention was redirected to the road's securities. Bonds of its chief subsidiary, the Florida, Western and Northern, were run up 2¼ points, but some of the Seaboard's own issues eased off after an early period of strength. Other rail bonds which sold 1 to 4 points higher were Norfolk and Western convertible 6s, Baltimore and Ohio first 5s, "Big Four" 5s, New York Central refunding 5s and Pere Marquette 5s.

With the time limit for depositing St. Paul Railway securities under the reorganization plan expiring tomorrow, fluctuation of this road's bonds reflected uncertainty over the situation. Bankers will decide tomorrow whether the plan can be declared operative or whether another extension will be necessary.

Aside from the activity of rail issues, the most interesting feature of the day's trading was the demand for bonds of Wilson & Co. and the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, both of which are in process of reorganization. Gains of 1 to 2 points were registered by these liens, as well as by United States Rubber 5s and International Mercantile Marine 6s.

Public offering of the new Seaboard Air Line bonds, which are first and consolidated mortgage twenty-year 6s, will be made tomorrow at a price of 94 ½, to yield 6.40 per cent. The underwriting syndicate is headed by Dillon, Read & Co. The proceeds will be used to increase facilities of the Seaboard system.

Following are yesterday's high, low and shadow prices on bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each issue. The quotations are received Associated Press wires, and to expedite transmission the shadow price is omitted when same as the low, and both high and low are omitted when they are same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB

RADIO ISSUES UP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Trading broadened perceptibly in today's curb market, which moved irregularly higher despite sporadic profit-taking in several sections of the list. Revival of speculative interest in the radio shares in apparent celebration of the opening of the fall sales season was one of the day's features. Haseltine, Dubilier and Ware each showed net gains of about 1 point and most of the others improved fractionally.

Realizing sales checked the rally in motor shares. Franklin dropped nearly 4 points to 34 and Cleveland closed 1 5-8 lower at 23 5-8 after having duplicated the year's high of 26. Stutz closed fractionally higher at 17¼ after having attained a new peak at 18 3-8.

Oils displayed a much better tone with Prairie Oil and Gas, Prairie Pipe and Standard Oil of Kentucky showing net gains of a point or so.

Wheat Rallies on Argentine Frost Report

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—All deliveries of wheat sold at a new low on the present downturn early, with prime off around 1¾c from Saturday's finish, December touching 1.47 and May 1.52⅝, but the decline brought in a good class of commission-house buying and also short covering, and the finish was on a strong rally, with net gains of ¾@⅞c on the deferred deliveries, while September was ⅛c higher. September and December closed at the same price, 1.49⅝@1.49¾, with May at 1.52⅝@1.52¾. Corn showed independent weakness and lost ⅝@1⅛c, with September 95⅜c, December 83⅝@83¾c and May at 87⅛@87¼c. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower and rye 1⅛@1⅜c lower.

Frost and freezing weather in parts of the Province of Santa Fe, Argentina, where the new crop of wheat is said to be in the joint and in a position to be injured, had some effect on the market, and helped to offset the weakness in the West. Wheather was ⅝@⅞c lower and Minneapolis is lower to ⅛c higher, the Chicago-Minneapolis December difference being 1⅝c at the last, with Minneapolis at a premium.

A good part of the local strength came from short covering, with houses that usually act for leading eastern and local professionals aggressive on the buying side. It was easy to trade the buying, while the selling was hard to place. Sentiment among the pit element was more favorable to the buying side. Spot wheat at Winnipeg closed at 6d over October for No. 1 northern, being off 4c as compared with the future from Saturday. Liverpool declined ⅛@⅝d, with pressure of Russian and Canadian offerings a factor.

An increase of 3,709,000 bushels in the visible supply was about as expected, and made the total 27,720,000 bushels, against 78,949,000 bushels last year. Supplies on ocean passage increased 2,120,000 bushels for the week, and are down to 23,594,000 bushels, against 40,325,000 bushels last year.

Corn showed independent weakness, with some selling attributed to a local professional, which found support lacking. Trade was not large, and the market easily influenced. Spot basis was unchanged to ⅛c lower, with yellow showing the most decline, selling at 1⅛@1¼c over September. A decrease of 599,000 bushels in the visible brought it down to 6,390,000 bushels, against 4,389,000 bushels late year.

Houses with northwestern connections bought May oats against sales of December at 4¼c differences, while September weakened and went to 3½c under December, against 5½c at the finish on Saturday. Visible supply increased 1,072,000 bushels for the week, and is 63,212,000 bushels, against 39,712,000 bushels last year.

Commission houses sold December rye early, and the market was heavy throughout the day, with a lack of export demand. Hedging pressure continues limited.

Timothy seed, 4.25@7.25; clover, 20.00@27.00 per 100 pounds; flaxseed, 2.79 per bushel.

Smaller packers were fair buyers of lard early, while commission houses were fairly persistent sellers, and the close was at net losses of 12½@17½c. Ribs were off 25@25c and bellies were unchanged to 10c lower. Cash trade was only fair. Deliveries on September contracts were 190,000 pounds of ribs.

STOCKS GAIN ON ACTIVE MARKET

Prices Move Forward Under Lead of Motors

Industry Group is Pushed to New High Level

Sales Volume Slightly Less Than Two Million

[ST. A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Responding to the aggressive buying tactics of professional traders, stock prices bounded upward again today on total sales of just under 2,000,000 shares, the largest in about six weeks. Bullish demonstrations started in the motor shares, but soon spread to the motor accessories, rubbers, coppers, steels and tobaccos, over two-score individual issues breaking through to new peak prices for the year. The general industrial average also attained a new high record for all time.

There was no outstanding development in the day's news to influence the market movement. However, reports of expanding trade operations, an advance of $5 cents a ton in the price of pig iron in the Mahoning Valley district and the continued ease of money, despite the enlarged demand for funds in connection with taxes, dividend and interest payments on the 15th inst., all helped to create bullish sentiment.

WILLYS FEATURES

Willys-Overland common was again the sensational feature, running up 2 points to a new high record at 27 1-2 on total sales exceeding 370,000 shares, or approximately one-seventh of the day's entire business. Studebaker and Hupp also touched new 1925 peaks and General Motors duplicated its high.

A broadening demand for United States Steel common carried that stock up over 2 points to 125, a new high on the current movement. Urgent short covering in American Can pushed it up to a new record high at 249 3-4, but it fell back later to 247, where it was up one on the day. Baldwin closed fractionally lower at 121 5-8.

Buoyancy again developed in most of new high-priced specialties. Nash Motors soared 11 points to a new record at 450. General Railway Signal jumped nearly 8 points to 243 and International Shoe, National Lead, Pullman and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe showed net gains of 3 to 8 points.

RADIOS ADVANCE

Renewed accumulation of the radio shares coincided with the opening of radio exhibitions in this city. Radio Corporation was run up 4 1-2 points to 62, and American Bosch Magneto, which recently entered the radio business, was bid up over 2 points to 36 3-8, and then eased to 35 3-4.

Rails failed to participate in the advance to the same extent as the industrials, although Delaware and Hudson climbed over 3 points to 148 7-8. Atlantic Coast Line crossed 200 for the first time, Pittsburgh and West Virginia reached new high ground for the year at 83 7-8, and Northern Pacific at 72 3-8.

Call money renewed at 4 1-2 per cent, which rate was maintained all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. Demand sterling and French francs held steady around $4.84 3-8 and 4.49 cents, respectively. Norwegian kroner rallied nearly 1-2 a cent to 21.10 cents, and Danish kroner held firm just below 24.75 cents. Spanish pesetas dropped about 10 points to 14.53 cents. Fresh weakness cropped out in Polish zlotys, which broke 40 points to 17.50 cents.

NEW PRICE GAIN MADE BY COTTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The market was again strong and active today, with prices making another good advance from the bulges of last week. Covering of shorts was the feature here and at New Orleans, with Liverpool advancing 10 to 20 points more than expected from our advance of Saturday. This brought October contracts here up to 24.40 cents; December, 24.75 cents; January, 24.25 cents; March, 24.46 cents, and May, above 24.70 cents.

Insufficient rainfall from what had been expected over the Central and Eastern States over the week-end and too much rain in Texas and Oklahoma in the closing days of last week, caused much apprehension in the trade regarding possible further crop damage from those mixed conditions throughout the belt.

Some rainfall in Texas was heavy, several points having had two to two and one-half inches Friday and Saturday and other places, such as Mexia and Waco each over four inches.

Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and most of South Carolina are still in need of good general rains and cooler weather to prevent considerable further shedding of the crop. The Census Bureau's report today on American mill consumption for August, while a little under the highest estimates, was bullish.

The forecast is for showers in North Carolina and possibly also for Florida and Mississippi, but nothing of importance is indicated for either South Carolina, Georgia or Alabama for tonight or tomorrow. Only partly cloudy weather is forecast for the western half of the belt for tonight and tomorrow except local showers for Arkansas and Eastern Texas.

A great deal of profit taking in the afternoon caused prices to go off then about 20 points from the early high level, but there was still enough demand from newly converted bulls in the trade and among commission houses to absorb this sufficiently for the market to rally again in the later trading.

BONDS MAY FEEL CALL-RATE RISE

Moody Believes Further Advance to Have Little Effect on Stocks

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions in its current issue says in part:

There is little probability that the further rise of interest rates will become an important factor in the stock market, but it may influence the bond market at least temporarily. The net yield of high-grade corporation bonds, after deducting personal Federal taxes, even now is only a little above the ruling rate for time money.

Should money rates during the balance of the year advance about as much as is usual under the Federal Reserve system for years of this kind, they might in the peak year of the autumn average about 4 5-8 per cent.

Stock prices have recovered vigorously. Even the high-priced specialties are responding. Good standard stocks are not in a bearish position, because the financial situation is sound, and a profitable autumn trade is just beginning.

Motor shares are getting the benefit of the large production and sales of automobiles, and the expanding earnings. It looks now as though the boom might run into the spring.

Cotton mill profits are recovering; the outlook for earnings is better than for some years and the world's cotton crop promises to be large enough so that the mills can buy their raw material advantageously.

THE MORRIS PLAN

An Uncommonly Attractive Opening for an Experienced Bond Man

THE LOS ANGELES OFFICE of a well-known and rapidly growing Eastern organization which originates many attractive issues, has an opening for a live, clean-cut bond salesman with local experience, who can see the advantage of becoming associated with a house whose activities on the Pacific Coast are now in process of broad expansion, thereby insuring a bright future for the men who get in now and prove their worth. Such a man is wanted at once for city work, and possibly also a man for outlying territory.

The basis of remuneration will be satisfactory.

Your letter of application, which will be entirely confidential, should accurately state your experience, and should also tell why you are qualified for this very desirable connection. A personal interview will then be arranged.

HOW TO BUY STREET BONDS

Does the knowledge of Street Bonds that one man has alone constitute the bulk of experience back of the house from which you buy?

If so, would the house function the same, would your bonds receive the proper handling should the "bulk of experience" suddenly cease?

IT IS

decidedly important for you to know that the house has more than one experienced head. This house has six men whose combined specialized Street Bond experience equals more than one hundred years.

The Associated Oil Company has completed its Lloyd No. 31 in the Ventura-avenue field at Ventura, getting an initial production of 2354 barrels, actually gauged flow, during the first twenty-four hours, according to reports from the field. The well was completed at a depth of 4877 feet, and came in flowing through the drill stem. Gas production was estimated at 4,000,000 cubic feet per day, and pressure on the flow line was 890 pounds. Gravity of the oil is 29 deg.

Gas pressure, which is higher in the Ventura field than in any other field in the State, proved especially troublesome in this well, threatening continually to cause a blowout, and retarding drilling. It was necessary to use extra heavy rotary mud to control the well, which, because of the difficulty in landing tubing, was brought in through the drill stem.

Gets Two Wells

The Standard Oil Company has completed two new wells in the Huntington Beach field, it was officially reported yesterday, getting a total production of about 325 barrels a day.

Huntington Beach No. B-37 was completed on the pump, making forty-five barrels a day from a depth of 4427 feet. Huntington Beach No. B-25 was brought in flowing 180 barrels a day from a depth of 4455 feet.

Huntington Beach No. B-32, which was brought in about ten days ago in this field with an initial production on the pump of forty-five barrels a day, has increased to 130 barrels, it is officially reported.

Baldwin Well In

The Pacific Oil Company's No. 16 well in the southwestern part of the Anita Baldwin lease at Inglewood, went on production yesterday with an initial flow of 1400 barrels a day. The hole is down 2200 feet, and the oil is 33 deg. gravity.

Star Well Completed

The Star Petroleum Company, one of the first small companies to enter the Rosecrans field, has completed its second well in that district with an initial output of about 1000 barrels a day, about 75 per cent salt water. The well is in the central part of the field on the Shoemaker lease, and is down 4037 feet.

The Star has had intermittent production from its Shoemaker No. 1 for several months, getting a small daily output with frequent interruptions, due to sand and other difficulties which characterize the central part of the Rosecrans field.

Callender No. 8 In Union Oil Company's Callender No. 8 in the Domingues field was brought in yesterday with an estimated production of 700 barrels, according to official report. The well is a second-line Victoria-street well, located one-quarter of a mile west of Callender No. 1, the discovery well of the field.

The Union is preparing to swab its Callender No. 12, which is located almost exactly in the center of the lease, being the most westerly well in the field. No. 13 is down 4404 feet. One hundred and thirty-five feet of Smith screen and 4406 feet of three-inch tubing have been run in the well.

Test Deep Well

E. J. Miley will set casing in his Athens No. 6, world's record deep well at Rosecrans, today, it was officially reported last night. Bottom of the hole was 7570 feet when the night crew went on duty yesterday, and drillers expected it to be down about 7600 feet this morning.

The best four and three-quarters-inch pipe available has been obtained to run into the well. This casing will be landed on the bottom and a combination cement job put in through perforations at about 7300 feet. It will be the longest string of pipe ever run into a hole, although several heavier strings of pipe have been landed in this field.

At 7570 feet Athens No. 6 was within nine feet of the deepest hole in the world, which is a cable-drilled hole in West Virginia, which is said to be down 7579 feet. When Athens No. 6 passed 7319 feet it broke the world's record for rotary tools, and at 7579 feet will set a new record for depth regardless of tools.

Shows Increase

Wells in the Maxwell area of the Rosecrans field are showing an unusual tendency toward increased production, according to official figures for several recently completed projects in that area.

Among these is the Associated Oil Company's Higgins No. 1, which came in last week at the rate of about 1300 barrels a day, and is now making about 1500 barrels a day.

The Superior Oil Company's Maxwell No. 1, which went on production last week, has also shown a substantial increase, and is making about 300 barrels a day.

Deepen Pioneer Well

The Barnsdall Oil Company, whose Rosecrans No. 1 was one of the first completions in the Rosecrans field, was recompleted yesterday at an initial production rate of 1000 barrels a day, according to officials of the company. The well was brought in about a year ago at 4369 feet, making the high-gravity oil that is a characteristics of this area, but decreased to less than 100 barrels a day. A few weeks ago Rosecrans No. 1 was taken off production and deepened to 4764 feet.

Increases Output

Increasing its production, Union Oil Company's Chandler No 2 well in the Rosecrans field flowed a total of 2800 barrels into the tanks yesterday, it is officially announced.

The well came in Saturday, yielding 2600 barrels of 37 deg. gravity oil. The production has cleared up and now cuts less than 6 per cent emulsion of water, and this is expected to be reduced to less than 1 per cent within the next several days.

With Combined Electrical Resources of 783,605 Horsepower the Commonwealth Power Corporation Serves Over 360 Communities in Five States—Michigan and Tennessee Biggest.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A pioneer in the development of the transmission of power over high voltage transmission lines, the Commonwealth Power Corporation today controls one of the largest of the country's super-power systems. Operating properties under its direction market electricity and gas for lighting and power purposes to more than 360 cities and towns having a population of upward of 1,800,000, in five States.

In Michigan, its principal stronghold, the Consumers Power Company, which it controls, serves electricity and gas to 176 cities and towns, operating twenty-seven hydroelectric plants and twelve steam stations, while purchasing on favorable contracts the output of eight other hydroelectric plants. In all it makes available electric resources aggregating 236,505 horsepower.

Energy is carried to consumers by means of 1681 miles of high tension transmission lines, the bulk of which are of 140,000 volts capacity, and over 10,000 miles of distributive lines.

The capitalization of the parent company now consists of $13,489,600 in funded indebtedness, $36,010,100 in 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 979,895 shares of no par value common stock. This structure reflects the increases made to provide for the acquisition of more than 84 per cent of the second preferred stock and over 88 per cent of the common stock of the Tennessee Electric Power Company, and the issuance a short time ago of four shares of new common stock for each one share outstanding.

There are also outstanding 39,-394 option warrants entitling holders to buy 117,576 shares of new common stock at $25 a share before November next year, which if exercised would bring an additional $2,939,400 cash into the company's treasury.

Outside of Michigan, the company has operating properties in four other States, namely; Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and, as indicated above, Tennessee. Its Tennessee subsidiary owns or controls an extensive system of properties which are interconnected with those of other large companies, constituting an integral part of the super-power system of the South.

Combined electric generating resources in all five States consist of plants with a capacity of 783,605 horsepower, and the aggregate capacity of its gas plants is 87,835,000 cubic feet a day. The coal supply of its electric and gas plants is assured through the Utilities Coal Corporation, having high-grade mines in West Virginia, Kentucky and Illinois, which it controls.

AMONG LARGEST

The combined statement of earnings for the twelve months ended June 30, last, which gives effect to the acquisition of the Tennessee Electric Power Company, shows it to be among the largest earners in the industry. Gross earnings for the period totaled $40,561,003, and gross income after expenses, maintenance and taxes $18,023,170.

Net income after all fixed charges including interest and amortization of debt, discount and earnings on stocks of subsidiary companies not owned, was $4,475,-651, and the balance for the junior stock after provisions for preferred dividends, retirement and replacement reserves was equivalent to $2.35 a share on the 979,895 shares outstanding.

COAST ZONE ELECTRICAL TRADE GOOD

Increase in Large and Average Sales Reported in Weekly Review

Business on the Pacific Coast in all electrical branches is good, reports Electrical World, New York, being marked not only by spectacular single orders but also by good average orders. Railroad purchasing is heavy, including 50,000 pounds galvanized iron wire, 50,000 pounds of tie wire of the same, in addition to stock orders for miscellaneous material. Power company purchasing has included a $7000 pole order, a carload of fiber conduit, much miscellaneous roughing in material, and many small pole line hardware orders. General wiring business is good. Lamp sales are excellent for this season of the year, especially around San Franchsco on account of the Diamond Jubilee celebration. Household appliance business continues to be active.

Throughout the country generally central station companies and various industries are purchasing steadily, and it is the belief of electrical men that the volume of sales will be maintained at least for the rest of the year. Several large orders were placed during the week. Central station companies in the East purchased well over $1,000,000 worth of circuit breakers, voltage regulators, transformers, etc. A utility company also ordered 3,500,000 pounds of copper wire, creating a slight flurry in the copper market. Line extensions in the Southeast also have resulted in the placing of a large pole order, which will shortly be followed by orders for line construction materials. Sales of radio equipment and supplies have shown considerable improvement, and manufacturers and dealers are looking forward to a prosperous season.

In New England sales of voltage regulators have been outstanding. In the steady flow of sales of electrical equipment and supplies electric refrigeration is active and street lighting and industrial heating continue to gain ground in that section. Large sales of transformers, circuit breakers and other equipment totaling more than $1,000,000 were made in the New York district. In the Southeast sales are spotty, but on the upward trend.

Bankers Offer Certificates of Insurance Firm

An issue of $500,000 Mortgage Insurance Corporation insured first mortgage 6 per cent gold certificates will be offered today by Blyth, Witter & Co., and others at 100 and interest to yield 6 per cent for all maturities. The certificates mature serially every six months from March 1, 1926 to September 21, 1935, inclusive.

The certificates represent a participating interest in ninety-four first deeds of trust totaling $500,000 which are deposited with the trustee. The liens are secured by improved and productive real estate appraised at $1,035,993 or more than twice the amount of the certificates. Under the Mortgage Insurance Act all appraisals are made by appraisers approved by both the superintendent of Banks and the Insurance Commissioner of California. Every deposited deed of trust is accompanied by a policy of mortgage insurance insuring the payment of principal and interest thereon. The corporation is incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operates under the provisions of the California Mortgage Insurance Act, which authorizes the issuance of these certificates.

Under the California law the certificates are exempt from California personal property tax. They are a legal investment for California Savings Banks, trust companies and insurance companies, and are available as deposit with the State treasurer to secure the faithful performance of trusts.

PRAIRIE OIL BOARD PASSES DIVIDEND

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) Sept. 14.—The board of directors of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company today voted to pass the September dividend on the stock of the company. W. S. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the board, issued a statement saying that the present unsatisfactory state of the oil industry warranted the anticipation of greatly reduced earnings the remainder of the year.

SANTA FE HEAD TELLS BRANCH LINE PROJECT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FORT WORTH, (Tex.) Sept. 14. W. B. Storey of Chicago, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, confirmed the report that the main line of that system will be changed from a point on its present line in the South Plains region of Western Texas to Fort Worth, 250 miles. Surveyors are now working out of Post, location of the proposed line, it is possible that an interchange may be made with the Texas & Pacific, if the route now surveyed is not found feasible, according to Mr. Storey.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

PEOPLE sometimes wonder why more fine work is not produced.

The tendency is to place the blame on the producers. Yet it does not belong there. The producers make what the consumers can afford to buy. Most producers take part of their profits from the production of ugly necessities and use them to pay the losses involved in the production of beautiful luxuries.

There is no lack of consumers who want fine things, but there is a lack of consumers who can afford fine things. They want many fine things, but can buy only a few.

The general standard of excellence should advance a few notches each year. We might move forward faster if we would learn to get satisfaction from the ownership of a few fine things rather than many mediocre things.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—A brisk trade developed for yesterday's run, estimated around 1500, the bulk of which was steers, the she stock supply being small. A good clearance was made by the noon hour and prices generally were strong to 25c higher than Friday. Two cars of 1137 to 1185-pound northern steers topped for the day at 8.60. Most of the steers were Californias and the bulk cleared from 7.25@8.00, offerings being most numerous from 7.50@8.00, the latter price taking in three loads of 1134-pound Californias. A three-car string of light steers averaging 730 pounds realized 7.00. Several lots of common kinds sold down to 5.00, while a load of 840-pound weights went out for feeding purposes at 6.25. Saturday's load of 1075-pound northern steers moved 8.00.

The bulk of the stock was positive to good medium that cleared from 6.50@8.10, while a load of 1291-pound weights topping for very at 8.35, while a short load of 840-pound heifers made the same price. Common kinds, mostly Californias, were fairly numerous downward to 4.00. Canners and cutters held firm, the bulk clearing from 2.00@2.75. Bulls held fully steady, with beef bulls in broadest demand. The general run of bologuas cleared from 4.00@5.00 with canner kinds downspouted to 3.00, while most beef bulls sold from 5.25@5.75, with a few choice weights kinds up to 6.00.

CALVES—Offerings today were mostly small lots arriving with mixed shipments, there being as yesterday but one in hand. A good clearance was made at firm prices with a strong undertone prevailing at the close. A few choice milk vealers sold around 10.50, while the bulk of choice, common, medium and good kinds, cleared from 7.00@10.00, with a few very thin kinds and heavies down to 5.00.

HOGS—Active demand cleaned up yesterday's small supply for a Monday's run, at prices generally 50@75c higher than Friday. Five loads of good and choice 170 to 200-pound eastern butchers topped for the day at 13.00, while three loads of 175 to 191-pound weights, slightly mixed as to weight and quality, cleared from 14.50@14.65, with a load of very mixed hogs as to weights and averaging 147 pounds, going over for 14.75. A few lots of trucked in butchers, mostly light lights, sold for 14.00. Packing sows advanced 25@50c, the bulk going over from 12.50@12.90.

SHEEP—Active demand cleaned up today's heavy and ewe supply readily at sharply higher prices. The lamb supply consisted of a deck of 73-pound Californias at 14.65 and four decks of choice 79-pound Arizonas at 14.75, straight, while a double lot, 44 head of 110-pound Arizona ewes realized 8.00.

Wave of Buying Carries Stocks Up to New High Peaks

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Had the volume of the first hour been fully maintained to closing time the stock exchange today would have expanded its operations beyond the 3,000,000-share mark. As it was the day's transactions were extremely heavy, with the greatest individual movements again staged among the motor stocks. Distribution was industriously pursued throughout the five-hour session and, if one group shared to a greater extent than others, the palm doubtless would be awarded to the automobile shares. But the buying power in the market was large and, for the most part, stocks liquidated in profit-taking operations were readily absorbed. So far as the signs were concerned the Street appeared to have a free road although warning notes were sounded by conservative commission houses. A deal of pool accounts were lightened in the process of distribution, but none of them was closed, so far as could be ascertained. The rails, by comparison were behind the forward price march, but the general sentiment toward the carriers was firmly in favor of a higher trend. Statistically copper metal got a substantial boost, and among the oils there were signs of accumulation with prospects considered far for later participation, should the market continue to show strength.

Favorable Indication

The bettered position of money as revealed in the Saturday bank statement, encouraged the constructive element in the market with the hope that funds would remain plentiful and cheap for some time. Call funds renewed at 4 1-4 per cent held there.

Whirring Wheels

Ticker wheels were put to the test in grinding enormous transactions for the motors. Willys-Overland, which some weeks back had led the way for this group, again became favored of the market makers and in large volume sped ahead to a new top. That this company was likely to greatly benefit from Ford's delay in producing new-model cars was an underlying theory on which the Willys movement was based and the various stories of the company's activities, both in manufacturing and sales were almost unbelievable. Studebaker also poked its head up to a new high figure for the shares in their present form and the street appeared quite convinced that stockholders would benefit from the exceedingly strong cash position of the treasury before the end of the year. Hupp of the low-priced motors, was not far behind Willys in point of strength, although the latter maintained its lead in the question of price. Again it was motor day on the stock exchange and those issues lacking the same market backing as the favorites were dragged along in the general strength.

Added Attractions

There was a quick run-up in Packard shares, the stock crossing $40 for the first time in its history. Speculative fires here were flamed into action through the belief that a stock distribution was in sight. Stutz, on the curb, also enlivened the motor department of the exchange and was quite in line with what the street had heard for that stock. On Pierce-Arrow more than any other motor stock, was opinion greatly divided and, while there were persistent moves to tack up the issue, there was an equally strong effort to offset these views. The worth of the company's truck was conceded, but the earnings lately revealed were talking points on the opposite direction.

Heavier Leads

From its position of quiet White Motors were taken in a brisk forward swing and, at the same time, Mack Trucks spurted as this faction of the motor family was allowed to participate in the broad movement of automobile shares. The case of White had been quite noticeable following its reaction from record peaks several weeks ago. Accumulation had appeared in evidence at around 90 and the signal was ready for firing when the entire motor group got its second wind. Over Sunday, the underground wireless was busily engaged and predictions were heard that White was to resume its market prominence.

According to Program

Before the sun had crossed the meridian American Can had closely approached the price originally set for it, as the expected split-up of capital should occur. And while $250 a share had been the early talk, this had been revised upward by those having knowledge of the market program, and today's accomplishment, which set aside all former peaks, was substantial evidence of a task to be performed with many apparent elements of success. A week ago it was related that the short interest had been about squeezed from the Can position, but in the subsequent slow upturn, the professional desire to sell something not already owned, this technical necessity had been partially restored and the sailing made easier for the constructive effort.

Corrective Step

In moving into higher territory—the best since the present arrangement of the capital—American Tobacco was discounting steadily improving earnings. But, in addition, there was a further recognition of the fact that this stock, paying $7 dividends, earning as much more per share and with a strong surplus position, was entitled to participation in the gradually lessening yields shown elsewhere in the industrial list.

Steady Betterment

The drop in surplus stocks of refined copper was larger than had been expected and, for statistical strength, the industry had far to search to find the equal of August's improvement, approximately 22,000,000 pounds. Wire mills were known to be running full blast largely in reflection of utility expansion, and for other lines of finished products there also was good demand. Naturally commission houses looked for a change in the sentiment toward the copper stocks, especially those leaders which at the present time were earning considerable margins over their dividend requirements. Of the metallurgical group American Smelting and Refining and American Metal were strongly stressed. Anaconda was along the self-contained fabricators, while Kennecott was the principal choice among the out-and-out mining concerns.

SUGAR SITUATION ANALYZED

With the prospect of an increase of approximately 2,000,000 tons in the world's cane and beet-sugar crop over last year, the outlook is for a plentiful sugar supply and a continuation of the present low price in this country, according to a statement made yesterday by a leading sugar authority in Los Angeles.

Total world's production of beet and cane sugar for the coming season is estimated at 21,689,000 tons, an increase of 2,000,000 tons over last year. The coming Cuban crop, which will start moving about the middle of November, is estimated at 4,925,000 tons. The Porto Rican crop will probably be 420,000 tons. Hawaiian crop about 725,000 tons, and the Philippine crop 390,000 tons. The United States beet-sugar crop is estimated at 825,000 tons and the European crop is placed at 7,000,000 tons.

The consumption of sugar in the United States during the first six months of this year was approximately 3,000,000 tons, an increase of more than 500,000 tons over the previous six-months' period.

The price of refined sugar during the past two months has been the lowest since 1914. During the past week the price of refined sugar in New York markets increased from $5.60 to $5.70, and the raw sugar price moved down from $4.42 to $4.33, giving a spread of $1.42, which is about 30 cents higher than two months ago. The increased price of refined sugar in New York is attributed to the fact that refineries have been selling at a loss during that period, and an endeavor on their part to make a legitimate profit.

The spread between the raw and refined sugar price on the Pacific Coast is approximately $1.53, as the refined sugar price in San Francisco at present is $5.85, 10 cents higher than in New York.

The lowest price at which refined sugar ever sold was $4.05, on March 18, 1914. From that date until early in 1918, the price ranged from $4.05 to $9, the latter figure prevailing all during the war. On June 1, 1920, the highest price was reached at $26.30, which was followed by a decided slump to $8 on December 1, 1920. On April 23, 1921, the refined price had recovered to $10.35, later reacting until in July the price in New York was around $5.60.

The curtailment of production has been suggested for the cane and beet industry as is being successfully carried out in other countries, but this is found to be almost an impossibility. A large portion of the cane crop of Cuba is a volunteer crop. However, it may be possible to curtail the production of beets in the United States, but if the price continues on the toboggan, plantation owners will be forced to attempt the production of more profitable crops, in the opinion of sugar men.

Agrarian Loan Reassuring to German Bourse

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—The conclusion today of negotiations between the Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt and the National City Bank of New York for an agrarian loan of $35,000,000 has had a reassuring effect upon the bourse, says the Boersen Zeitung, which says:

"Although the fact cannot be overlooked that foreign countries charge a good price for their readiness to extend credit, yet transactions of this kind doubtless indicate a certain measure of confidence in Germany."

One interesting point in connection with the loan is that it is not subject to taxation. The security offered is regarded as exceptionally good and therefore the possibility of oversubscription is being discussed.

The loan, which will be offered in New York soon, at 93, is for twenty-five years. The Germans may repay it before 1950 in part or in whole, the first date for such possible repayment being 1935. It will bear 7 per cent interest with amortization of 1 1-2 per cent, due March 15 and September 15 of each year.

Santa Barbara Officers Named for Bank Posts

As a culmination of the recent purchase of the controlling interest in the Central Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Santa Barbara by the Americommercial Corporation, Orra E. Monnette, president of the holding company, announced yesterday that officers of the Santa Barbara institution will remain under the new administration in complete charge of Santa Barbara operations. Mr. Monnette and J. E. Randall, vice-president and trust officer of the Bank of America, met with the directors of the Santa Barbara bank last week to formulate a policy regarding real estate loans for the rehabilitation of business and residence property in that city.

T. Wilson Dibblee, former president of the Central Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, becomes vice-president of the Bank of America, and manager of the State street branch. F. A. Wright, former vice-president and cashier, will be made assistant cashier and assistant manager of the Bank of America. Gerald Y. Barber will be assistant cashier and assistant trust officer, and W. W. Tuttle and C. W. Feathers will be made assistant cashiers. At the Haley street office of the Santa Barbara bank, C. A. Chesterton will preside as manager and B. G. Nankine as assistant manager.

DETAILS OUT SOON IN LAGO PETE OIL DEAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Announcement is expected shortly of details of the plan agreed upon between the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company and large stockholders of Lago Petroleum Corporation for the formation of a new concern to be known as Lago Oil and Transport Corporation. The new company will acquire control of Lago Pete Corporation and also a controlling interest in Lago Oil and Transport, Ltd., now owned by Pan-American Petroleum and Transport. Lago Petroleum in which Pan-American has a large interest, produced 401,500 barrels of oil in August from the La Rosa field in Venezuela and shipped 300,000 barrels.

ST. PAUL RAIL LINE CRISIS DUE TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Reorganization managers for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway tomorrow will be called upon to decide whether sufficient securities have been deposited to declare the readjustment plan operative or whether it will be necessary to order a second extension of time for receiving deposits. Steadily growing volume of deposits was reported today by the bankers, who were further encouraged by approval from the French committee, representing holders of about $11,000,000 worth of the bonds. If the plan is declared operative, steps will be taken to bring an early termination of the receivership, which promises to be one of the shortest on record.

The military ban against the general use of radio receiving sets in Palestine has been lifted.

IMPRISONED FIVE DAYS IN FREIGHT CAR

Man Locked in While He Slumbers; Unconscious When Released

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BALTIMORE (Md.) Sept. 14.—Locked in a box car for five days without food or water, John P. Harrington arrived in Baltimore from a little town some place in the State of Washington. He arrived unconscious.

One week ago found Harrington in the State of Washington. He was sorting out some letters when he came across a picture of his mother. Though almost penniless at the time, his overwhelming desire to see his mother welled up within him and he started for his home in Tennessee.

Because of his financial status he chose the fast-freight route. On a siding in the little Washington town one night he found a box car bound east. He crawled in, went to sleep and when he awoke the doors had been sealed and the train was in motion. He shouted and kicked against the doors. No one heard him.

At intervals during the five days and nights, he said, whenever the train stopped he tried to attract attention but there was never any answer. Finally, weakened by loss of sleep and lack of food and water, he lacked the strength to shout aloud or pound on the door.

He then tore a tag from one of the sugar barrels with which the box car was partly loaded. On it he wrote: "Please open this door, (signed) John P. Harrington, 14 Kimball street, Concord, N. H."

Special Officer John P. Storts walking along a siding in the Claremont yards today saw the tag fluttering from the car. He looked it closely and opened the door. Harrington toppled out into his arms. The man was revived and taken to jail in order that he might have proper medical attention.

PRINCE LOSES SUIT TO RECOVER REMBRANDTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Prince Felix Youssoupff has lost his suit to recover two famous Rembrandts valued as high as $1,000,000 from Joseph E. Widener, Philadelphia banker and sportsman.

In an opinion handed down today, Supreme Court Justice Vernon M. Davis dismissed the suit brought by Youssoupff. The court held that the Prince was not entitled to delivery of the paintings, since his deal with Widener amounted to a sale with conditional right to repurchase, provided the Prince found himself financially able to keep and enjoy the pictures. The court ruled that the Prince had not complied with the conditions respecting his right of repurchase, and denies most of the essential contentions raised by the Prince.

The Prince had contended that he did not sell the paintings but that Widener loaned him $500,000 and took a chattel mortgage on the pictures as security.

On the plea of the Prince that he was under duress, Mr. Widener having taken advantage of the critical state of his finances to force him to part with the paintings, the court holds the evidence fails to show there was any duress.

SEEKS FREEDOM

Prisoner Asks Release From Jail Under Bond

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Sept. 14.—Several new phases developed in the Lee Camp murder case today. Fred Mills, convicted with Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown and J. H. Tipton of second-degree murder of Camp, applied for admission to bail, alleging that he is sick and that further incarceration will result in his being afflicted with tuberculosis. The application was set for hearing next Saturday morning. Mills, with the other defendants in the case, is a prisoner here in the County Jail, while his conviction is being appealed.

Preston Higgins of Oakland, attorney, who assisted in the prosecution at the murder trial, was substituted for Clark Clement of Lemoore, as attorney for Mrs. Pearl Camp King in her suits against Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown to obtain possession of her brother, Lee Camp's half of the Camp estate, valued at $89,000 and of the $130,000 worth of life insurance left by Camp to Mrs. Brown. Mrs. King requested the substitution.

This is the opening event in the fight for the Lee Camp estate, the trial being set for the 29th inst.

MISCONDUCT OF NATIONAL PARK DENIED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 14.—Charges of mismanagement of the Grand Canyon National Park and of government combinations with the Santa Fe Harvey system against the interest of the public are denied by Herbert W. Weekes, a Phoenix newspaper man who lately returned from the canyon. He states that at the canyon settlement keen resentment is expressed over the charges, which are declared to have shown personal animus on the part of Senator Ralph H. Cameron, who constituted the whole of the "Senatorial committee" referred to in the adverse report. Mr. Weekes in this connection refers to the claims made by the Senator upon lands along the Colorado River and on the Bright Angel trail, claims that now are being reviewed in the Federal courts, and Land Office, after contest by the National Park Service and by the Interior Department, this by way of an effort on the part of Mr. Weekes to show that the inspection might not have been undertaken with an entirely unbiased mind.

There were assertions that, "The committee found that the accommodations for tourists coming by automobile and not stopping at the hotel were very bad;" that no shelter was provided and the ground was bare of grass; that Fred Harvey has a twenty-year exclusive concession for the care of tourists; that unsightly tent houses are let "for a maximum of $6 a day;" and that a blacklist agreement exists between the government and the Harvey system.

Most of these charges are declared by Mr. Weekes to be decidedly in error. The automobile camp, it is true, was grassless, but "the cattlemen have noticed this failing for the past few years, for at least fifty miles in any direction." It was found clean and well kept, three minutes walk from the rim, instead of "a long way," not near the sewer opening, but a half-mile away. The park at no time has provided tents or shelter for campers. Water is furnished without charge, though brought in tank cars from Del Rio, near Prescott. A new camp is to be built this winter.

The Harvey concession has been let to the highest bidder, according to the terms of an act of Congress. The concession books are not audited by the park superintendent, as charged, this task going to a special certified accountant employed by the government. No blacklist was found existent, though if a man was "discharged by Harvey, it might be for causes that would render unlikely his employment by the park management."

The report, according to Mr. Weekes, is in retaliation, opposing "a fight waged against private interests in the canyon by the Park Service in the interest of the public." He declares that, "an unjust attack against its administration is an attack on the public and on public interest."

Cripple Girl's Death Declared Result of Attack

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Elizabeth Gore, 24 years of age, a cardiac sufferer and a cripple from partial paralysis in the left leg, was found dead yesterday in the yard in the rear of her home in Seventy-seventh street, where she had apparently met with violence.

From the evidence at first apparent, the detectives were doubtful how she had met her death. An autopsy was performed by Dr. Benjamin Schwartz. He found injuries which, combined with the cardiac condition, had caused death. Dr. Schwartz said that in his official report he would say that death resulted from a combination of assault and heart disease.

After questioning friends and neighbors of the girl, detectives of the homicide squad went out in search of two men who were seen in front of the house at 1 o'clock the preceding morning. Rose Apuzo, who lives next door, said that she had been in company with Miss Gore and two young men the night before. She gave the policemen the name of her companion, who has not yet been questioned, but said she did not know the second man.

LODGE LUNCH COUNTER DINING-ROOM CLOSED

SLEEPING ACCOMMODATIONS AT GIANT FOREST ALSO LIMITED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, Sept. 14.—Intending visitors to Sequoia National Park should note that the Giant Forest Lodge closes its dining-room and lunch counter at noon today. After today there will be limited sleeping accommodations at Giant Forest Lodge and visitors may obtain meals at the government mess until October 1, next.

The public auto camps at Giant Forest will be open for visitors with their own equipment until the Giant Forest Road is closed for winter which is usually not until end of October. However, after the first rains at end of September or early in October intending visitors should obtain information from auto clubs of road conditions.

The Giant Forest and Gen. Grant Park lodges together with all other park utilities in both parks will open for the 1926 season on May 24. Information about the winter season at Giant Forest will be published in a later bulletin after Ranger and Mrs. Magly take station at Giant Forest which will be about October 1, next.

FACES THREE-YEAR TERM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Sept. 14.—Raymond Stickling, late of California, is billed for at least three years in the penitentiary after a plea of guilty in the theft of an auto. Held here on a Coast charge, he escaped from the County Jail, hunted up a bundle of auto switch keys in a garage and then found a car that could be unlocked. He was caught a few miles out of the city.

REPUBLICAN FOR ROWELL AS SENATOR

Fresno Paper Will Back Its Erstwhile Owner for Washington Toga

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, Sept. 14.—The Fresno Morning Republican, of which Chase S. Osborn, Jr., is editor, tomorning will announce itself for Chester H. Rowell for United States Senator. Rowell, formerly of Fresno, but now a resident of Berkeley, has been engaged in public affairs for thirty years and has been in turn, publisher, magazine writer, United States Shipping Board member and California Railroad Commissioner. The editorial announcement for Mr. Rowell, which the Republican will print tomorrow morning, is in part as follows:

"Chester H. Rowell should represent California in the United States Senate. Mr. Rowell has that capacity for dealing with other men that will get for him and for his constituents the best service. He is an ardent advocate without being a bitter controversialist. Working for California and for the nation, he will be able to work harmoniously with his associate Senator and with his fellow-members without abandoning his own usefulness. He is the type of man who can deal with great and routine problems alike. Mr. Rowell knows California as do few public men. He has lived and worked for many years in Central California; he has been an active factor in business in the Bay District; he has had close relationships with men and institutions of the Southland. He is vigorous, aggressive, ready in thought and intelligent as well as active in his loyalty as a Californian."

HUGE PARCEL POST THEFTS UNCOVERED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Sept. 14.—Postal inspectors believe they have solved the mystery of the disappearance of parcel post packages worth between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 over a period of several years. Ten men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad to load parcel post mail into trains are under arrest and large quantities of asserted stolen merchandise have been recovered in the homes of the suspects." The plunder included revolvers, silks, women's wear, cameras and jewelry.

LIFE OF THE PARTY QUIT BY SPOUSE

Wife's Forbearance Taxed by Frolicsome Ways of Friend Husband

Altogether too frolicsome was B Franklin Mahoney at the party Mrs. Ann Mahoney gave in their home, according to the story she told Judge Gates yesterday when her suit for divorce was heard.

Along about seventh drink time, Mrs. Mahoney related, Mahoney retired for a few moments and came forth garbed in a bathing suit. Thus appareled he insisted upon treading a couple of measures with a Miss Ryan, and when the latter demurred, Mahoney got rough, his wife said.

"And if you don't believe me, why Miss Ryan is right here in the courtroom to prove it," Mrs. Mahoney concluded.

Judge Gates, however, did not feel it necessary to prove this story, as he held Mrs. Mahoney's other charges of drunkenness sufficient to justify a decree.

"He lost $400 gambling and spent $50 for liquor at Tia Juana once," Mrs. Mahoney said.

"That was a pretty expensive party," observed Judge Gates. "Could he afford it?"

"Well, I don't think anyone can afford to do that, but his income was $1700 a month from an estate," Mrs. Mahoney replied.

FOUR NEAR DEATH IN CRASHES

Three Men, One Woman Victims in Near-Fatal Traffic Accidents

Three men and a woman were perhaps fatally injured in a series of accidents in Los Angeles last night. In each case police held that the accidents were apparently unavoidable and no arrests were made.

Louis Laporte, 55 years of age, was struck down at First and Main streets by an automobile driven by R. D. McGibney, 3967 Willoughby street. He suffered a fracture arm and depressed frontal and basal fractures of the skull. A major operation was performed at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeons Dorn and Stewart in an effort to save the man's life. However, surgeons reported the man had but small chance of recovery.

Mrs. Evelynn Bowles, 22, 2255 West Fourteenth street, was knocked down by a truck driven by D. De Brunner, 3181 San Miguel street, Southgate, at Seventh and Hill streets. She suffered a fractured skull and severe lacerations. Her condition is critical.

When two automobiles collided at Orange Drive and Hollywood Boulevard, John Hayden, 46, 215 Aliso street, suffered injuries that may prove fatal. The injured man was riding, according to police, in a car driven by Ben Geltman, 1968 Sheridan avenue. A. S. Wilson, chauffeur, 1847 Camino Palmaro, was driver of the other machine figuring in the accident. Police Surgeon Chase treated the injured man at the hospital.

Struck down by an automobile driven by Walter Johnson, 1057 1-2 East Twenty-third street, while crossing the street in front of 1540 Industrial street, Louis D. West, 27, 601 Orange Grove Drive, Alhambra, suffered a skull fracture and other injuries. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital where his condition is said to be critical.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 14.—Heavy rains that deluged many sections yesterday and last night were responsible for two deaths and considerable damage to property, according to today's check-up.

The dead are Clara Timbell, 38 years of age, and Richard Stewart, 26, both of Lorain. The couple were forced to abandon their automobile in a flooded street, and while trying to make their way to safety, were blown over by the wind and drowned.

Scores of farms along the Cuyahoga River were inundated, while Cleveland, Toledo and Columbus report much damage from heavy winds and floods.

Appelate Court Confirms Guilt of Oil Swindler

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DENVER, Sept. 14.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today confirmed the conviction of Norton Howard Marr, Arkansas oil man, on a charge of devising a scheme to defraud in connection with the operation of his oil concerns.

Marr circularized the United States during the height of the oil boom at El Dorado, Ark., and, through advertisements, is asserted to have raised approximately $2,000,000. His victims were scattered throughout every State, it was charged.

In his decision, Judge Lewis said:

"The surprising thing is there were so many gullible people who had in hand the great sums that he induced them to contribute."

MOUNTAIN LION KILLED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, Sept. 14.—Ray Thompson and Elmer L. Haney of Montrose are the first hunters of the 1925-26 season to claim credit for killing a mountain lion in the State. They killed a seven-foot lion on the Big Cimarron River in Montrose county. The animal had levied a heavy toll in its last week at the sheep camp of B. Lathrop.

FOUR HELD AS ALCOHOL DISTILLERS

Quartet Seized in Raid on Antiquated Residence Equipped With Stills

Moonshining stripped of its frills was charged in court yesterday to James Cooper, Albert Hagendorn, Frank Weinstein and Joe Brookman before United States Commissioner Turney by a quartet of Los Angeles police officers.

The four defendants were being examined to determine if there was sufficient evidence to hold them for the Federal grand jury. After testimony by the policemen, R. G. Lucas, Thomas P. Washburn, L. W. Olmstead and P. C. Wilson, they were held by Commissioner Turney under $2000 bond.

"Plain alcohol was their product," Washburn related, "and every barrel of mash costing $15 was worth $50 after being subjected to the distilling process."

Olmstead testified he "flat-footed" through the dark hallway on the second floor of the antiquated family residence at 1035 West Washington street that Cooper was declared to have rented from D. G. Phillips, part owner, the evening of the raid last Wednesday and met Brookman. The latter's greeting was:

"S-s-h! The 'cops' are in front."

"Yeh, and they're in here, too," he testified he replied.

Conversation indulged in while waiting the arrival of the police patrol disclosed, according to the testimony of Olmstead, that Brookman had advanced approximately $2000 to Cooper to install two large stills found on the second floor of the house; that Hagendorn and Weinstein were merely employees of the "company" and that Cooper was the rental agent.

SUSPECT IN HAYWARD MURDER KILLS SELF

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

AUGUSTA (Me.) Sept. 14.—Harry A. Kirby, in jail here since last May, charged with the murder of Miss Ada Hayward, committed suicide today by slashing his wrist with a razor blade. On the night of May 19, last, Mrs. Emma Towne was rescued from her burning cottage on the shore of Lake Maranacook in Winthrop, and was found to be suffering from two bullet wounds. She told the authorities that a man had shot her, set fire to the cottage and abducted her niece, Miss Hayward. Four days the latter's body was discovered in a cottage which Kirby had occupied, and on May 25, Kirby was arrested.

NEW HOPE NOW OFFERED TO THOSE WHO ARE ILL OR IN PAIN

"Wilshire's I-on-a-co"—a marvelous method of combatting pain and disease, requiring neither drugs, diet, baths, massage, sweating or any other discomfort, is now available for free trial on the part of any sufferer. Regardless of the failure of other forms of treatment to relieve you, you owe it to yourself to test the seemingly miraculous power of "Wilshire's I-on-a-co."

Lumbago

J. J. HENGEN, 723 N. Orange Drive, Los Angeles, Sept. 9th 1: "Tonaco has produced astonishing results in restoring my strength. I can now work all day without tiring, whereas before I could hardly do any work without being immediately fatigued. My general health is much improved and lumbago in my back has been relieved."

Equally good results have been obtained by "Wilshire's I-on-a-co" in cases of arthritis, asthma, rheumatism, goitre, indigestion, blood disorders, etc.

The "I-on-a-co" is personally backed by Garford Wilshire, well-known as the originator of the Wilshire district.

Free Treatment

Bring a clipping of this advertisement to any of our offices and we will give you a free treatment of "Wilshire's I-on-a-co" without obligation. Or send for free booklet. To people unable to call at office, we will be glad to send a representative to give a home treatment—free.

MAJOR CHEST GROUP NAMED

W. Ballard Heads Advance Gifts Committee

Chief Departments Now Have Leaders

Will Begin Its Duties Immediately

Orra E. Ballard was yesterday named chairman of the advance gifts committee of the Community Chest. The appointment was announced by Oscar Lawler, general chairman of the campaign, in which the naming of heads of the major departments of the organization completed the directorate committee and the various house committees are the final steps of the advance organization. Heading these departments are Ben R. Meyer and Frank P. Doran.

HEADS OF TEN DAYS

Although the second annual Los Angeles Community Chest appeal does not open until November 3, when a campaign will be launched, the gift committee will begin its work immediately.

Between ten to twenty more days of studying their intention and conferring with the Chest this week and next is sure to result in early start by the gift workers is absolutely dependent, it is the opinion of Mr. Ballard.

Approximately 138 charitable and welfare organizations of the city will benefit by the Chest this year, it is said, and women gave $1,000 more with an increased goal and the expected increase of 20 per cent it is estimated by officials that $1,500,000 or more possible will contribute to the Chest in the forthcoming drive, thus setting a new mark for this city. Last year there were 40 givers.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Mrs. G. Andrews, Joe T. Ryan, Burkhyte, William Burkhyte, Mrs. George A. Brock, Mrs. Robert Buchanan, Frederick Buchanan, Frederick Burbidge, J. G. Bullock, Dr. Robert J. P. Burkhard, Mrs. Charles P. Burke, Mrs. Baldwin, L. N. Bridges, R. F. Bruce, H. Cole, Rt. Rev. J. Bertram Bigelow, Bishop of Los Angeles and Diocese of San Francisco, and 60 more names. Funeral at Byrne Brothers' chapel, 10 a.m.

TINSMAN. Nonie G., September 8, at Stanley sanitarium, wife of the late Dr. Tinsman. Funeral services Tuesday afternoon from the Armstrong chapel, 703 West Washington street. Interment Inglewood Park Cemetery.

VAN DE CARR. September 13, at 612 S. Alvarado street, widow of the late Henry Van de Carr, aged 72 years. Funeral at Byrne Brothers' chapel, Figueroa at Washington, Wednesday, 10:30. Interment at N. Y.

WELSH. John Henry, September 13, at 2411 South Figueroa street, beloved husband of Mrs. Welsh of this city, and father of Mrs. Henrietta M. Welsh of Los Angeles, at the Second Church of Christ Scientist, 10th and Hope streets, Wednesday morning, 11 o'clock. Interment Forest Lawn.

WINSHEIT. Minnie G., funeral services will be held Tuesday, at 3:30 p.m., at the chapel of Pierce Brothers, 2237 West Adams street, at 2 p.m. Interment Hollywood Cemetery. Services at 2 p.m. at Hollywood Memorial Park Cemetery. Services at Hollywood Cemetery.

WHITTINGHAM. September 13, at 937 Hundred and Fourth street, Mrs. Clarissa Whittingham, aged 67 years. Remains at chapel of Mortuary of Monrovia. Funeral notice later.

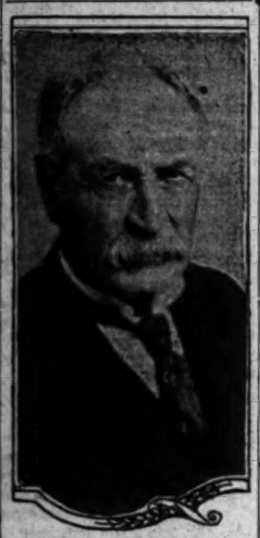
WATER CHIEF CELEBRATES

Mulholland Observes Seventieth Birthday and Long Overdue Vacation in Additional Work

Having celebrated his seventieth birthday by what he chose to term a week's vacation, Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Municipal Water Bureau was scheduled to return from Sacramento this morning to his duties in Los Angeles.



William Mulholland

Mr. Mulholland, who has been chief engineer of the water system serving the city of Los Angeles since 1886, had not taken a vacation for thirty-five years, according to records in the Municipal Water Bureau and the testimony of his associates.

Realizing that Mr. Mulholland would apparently continue to overlook the matter of a vacation, the Board of Water and Power Commissioners several weeks ago solemnly adopted a resolution instructing the chief engineer of the water bureau to take the vacation he was entitled to. In view of the fact that he was to reach his seventieth birthday anniversary the 11th inst., the board felt that he might be willing to mark the occasion by taking a few days off.

Two weeks ago Mr. Mulholland notified the board that he desired to be absent from the city for about a week, starting Tuesday, the 8th inst. The board members chuckled and confided to one another that the impossible had occurred; Mulholland was to celebrate his seventieth birthday by taking a vacation—only a week, to be sure, but still a vacation.

BOARD SURPRISED

But the board members experienced another surprise when they were informed that he desired to be away from the city in order to make a professional visit to Oakland and Sacramento, where he has been retained as a consulting engineer in connection with two hugh domestic water projects.

Leaving Los Angeles last Tuesday, Mr. Mulholland hurried to Oakland, where he is a member of a consulting board of three engineers who are supervising the construction of the $35,000,000 East Bay water project. This project provides for the construction of an aqueduct and other necessary water works to bring mountain water to the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley as well as a number of other municipalities in the East Bay district.

After two days spent in intense engineering studies in connection with the East Bay water district project, Mr. Mulholland boarded a train for Sacramento to attend another meeting of a consulting board of engineers now working out the details of the new water development project for the city of Sacramento.

RECEIVES TELEGRAM

As he left the train last Friday morning, Mulholland was handed a telegram from his assistants in the Los Angeles Municipal Water Bureau. The telegram was one extending him best wishes on the occasion of his seventieth birthday.

Then he remembered that he had planned to take the day off to celebrate the occasion of his passing the three-score-and-ten milestone. But his associates on the board of consulting engineers were waiting. He stuffed the telegram in his pocket and hurried to the conference. Conferences were followed by inspection tours, the last of which was completed just in time for Mr. Mulholland to catch a train last night for Los Angeles.

Yesterday, before leaving Sacramento, he wired his assistants in the water bureau that he would be back at his desk this morning.

LONG WITH SYSTEM

Mr. Mulholland, it was recalled yesterday, has been connected continuously with the water system serving Los Angeles since 1877, or more than forty-eight years. Starting with the City Water Company in 1877 as a water diverter on one of the water lines serving the then small town of Los Angeles, Mulholland rose rapidly and was made chief engineer of the system in 1886. In 1902 the city purchased the private water company and retained Mulholland as its chief engineer.

Mulholland gained world-wide fame as an engineering genius when he conceived and successfully constructed the Owens River Aqueduct, which is declared to be the longest and most spectacular water supply system in the world. During the course of his service as chief engineer of the city's water system he has built it up from a small town utility serving about 3000 consumers to a gigantic and intricate institution serving water through 214,000 separate services.

GOOD TIMES FOR LABOR PREDICTED

California Commissioner Says Industrial Survey Indicates Prosperity

A buoyant labor market and increases in the number of men employed in California industries are predicted in a forecast for the next six months issued yesterday by State Labor Commissioner Mathewson. Chief Deputy Barker, in charge of the Los Angeles office, gave out the forecast and said it indicated business prosperity.

The forecast shows, it was said, that of 416 industrial establishments, 259 factories, employing 51,440 men, will continue the same number during the next half-year, eighty-nine factories employing 10,505 men will make increases ranging from 10 to 50 per cent and that sixty-eight, which are seasonal industries, expect to decrease their working force. Factories which expect to put on more men include automobile factories, machine shops, foundries, furniture and fixture makers and railroad car shops.

The State Public Employment Office, during the past four months, it was said, had found places for 10,863 more men than during the same months of 1924.

Reduced Train Time From East Given Approval

Resolutions favoring the shortening of train schedule time between Los Angeles and Chicago and protesting against the scheduled rates raised by the telephone and gas companies here were passed unanimously last night by more than 500 apartment-house, hotel and bungalow court owners at a meeting in the Walker Auditorium, 730 South Grand avenue, as members of the Co-Operative Apartment and Hotel Association of Southern California.

Repeatedly he found a job, only to be hounded by the stigma of his asserted theft and find himself discharged.

The man who finally confessed to having stolen the money and whose silence for eleven months cast Sims into disrepute, is C. L. Twedell, 34 years of age, who was one of Sims's closest friends.

Here are the brief facts of the story: Sims was manager of a local theater. Twedell, as a friend, frequently called upon him. Last October he visited him for the last time. Sims had to leave the office for a moment. He asked his friend to watch things for him. In his absence, Twedell confessed yesterday, he reached into an

GAINS FORESEEN AT UNIVERSITIES

Enrollments Expected to Set New Records

Southern Branch Looks for 6000 Attendance

Although registration of students at both the University of California, Southern Branch, and the University of Southern California will continue for several days, a preliminary count at the two institutions yesterday gave every indication that new high totals will be reached this year. Authorities at the University of Southern California said they expect an enrollment of at least 12,000, more than 3000 over last year. The Southern Branch registration will be at least 1000 more than the 5032 of last year, it was said.

Up to noon yesterday a count at the Southern Branch showed that 1742 freshmen had registered, and 2804 upper classmen, or a total of 4546. The enrollment of freshmen started Saturday, with the old students beginning their enrollment yesterday. Registration will continue during the week and the recorder's office said that by the end of that period 6000 students are expected at the Southern Branch.

University of Southern California authorities estimated that this year's freshman class will reach the 1500 mark, or approximately 500 greater than last year. On the campus it is expected that 6000 students will be in attendance and with the downtown dental and law schools and metropolitan college a total enrollment of 12,000 is expected. Last year the total number was 9989. Freshmen began registering at U.S.C. last Thursday and enrollment of old students was scheduled for yesterday and today.

TRUANCY IN HIGH SCHOOL DECREASING

Gain of 91 Per Cent Shown for Last Four Years in Report of Official

An increase of 91 per cent in the daily attendance at the high schools for the last four years is shown in an analysis recently made by Asst. Supt. Gould.

"This does not mean high school students enrolled," said Mr. Gould yesterday, "it means the actual number of boys and girls in school every day. For the year 1921-22 we had an average daily attendance of 14,000 pupils in the high schools. With the end of June, which closed our school year for 1924-25, we had an average daily attendance of 26,800."

Total enrollment for all grades, including the evening high schools for Friday of last week, which was the first week of the new term, was 177,487, this is an increase of 6851 over the enrollment at the close of the first week of school in September, 1924.

Elementary schools show 118,541 pupils enrolled, junior high schools, 16,788; senior high schools, 24,600, and evening high schools, 11,513. The peak will not be reached until the first week in October, according to school executives.

LEGION INVADES CATALINA

State Convention Will Open Officially Today With Interest Centering in Election of Officers

BY KYLE PALMER
Times Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AVALON (Catalina Island) Sept. 14.—Landing under a heavy bombardment of cheers the expeditionary forces of the American Legion of California took all objectives in good order here today and dug in for the big offensive of the seventh annual State convention which opens tomorrow for a session of three days.

Approximately 2500 Legionnaires and members of their families constitute the army of occupation. The inhabitants have capitulated gladly and more enthusiasm, exuberance and noise than this small island community has ever experienced prevails.

ELECTION INTERESTS

Centering around the election of a successor to Department Commander Nathan Coombs, more high-powered political, wire-pulling and frenzied caucusing than could be discovered in one of the national conclaves of the major political parties is receiving the chief attention of the delegates. To an amateur in such matters it would appear that the race for commander lies now between Philip Dodson of South Pasadena, Leonard Wilson of Los Angeles, Harold Ferguson of Hollywood and Allen Bixby of Pasadena.

A fight is developing on the present plan of representation on the State executive committee, which is now determined, according to the eleven Congressional districts of California. Those opposing this plan advocate the creation of five districts, each to be represented by a vice-commander.

Extensive consideration is being given by various special committees to different phases of the problem of the disabled veteran. Under the chairmanship of Walter Garrison, the State welfare committee will report on suggested legislation for veteran relief and for changes in procedure in the United States Veteran Bureau.

TO OPEN CONVENTION

Department Commander Coombs will call the convention to order tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and the address of welcome will be delivered by Frank G. Falloonn, chairman of the convention committee, and William E. Knost, commander of the Los Angeles county council, will deliver the greetings of the Legionnaires and citizens of Los Angeles.

The proceedings of the afternoon session tomorrow and of both sessions Wednesday will consist largely of committee and other official reports. Election of officers will occur Thursday afternoon.

Reports to be delivered tomorrow include those of George J. Hatfield, national executive committeeman; Department Adjutant James K. Fisk, Frank H. Nichols, chairman of the California State veterans' welfare board, and convention committees.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Forty and Eight Society occurred today. Guy Poulsen of Fresno was elected Grand Chef de Gare, succeeding E. (Snapper) Ingram. Other officers elected were Grand Chef de Traine, W. C. Woodward; Grand Commissaire Intendent, A. T. Flannigan; Grand Conductor, F. L. Grouard.

ADDRESSES MASONIC CLUB

Stanley B. Wilson, former member of the State Board of Education, will address the Masonic Club of Los Angeles at noon tomorrow on "An Inventory of Our Civilization." The club orchestra will furnish music.

Carthay Center to Unveil Huge Pioneer Statue

Descendants of many of the most famous pioneers in the history of California will be honored guests at the unveiling Saturday afternoon at Carthay Center of a huge statue dedicated to the memory of "The California Pioneers of '49."

Ramona Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, will have charge of the dedicatory ceremonies. Senator Shortridge will address the crowd.

One of the features of the afternoon will be a costumed pageant showing the different stages of progress made in California since Cabrillo discovered San Pedro Bay in 1542.

STREET TAX APPROVED

The proceedings for the opening, widening and extending of Park avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Glendale Boulevard were advanced by the City Council yesterday which approved the assessments for the work. Park avenue, when opened, will be used by the Pacific Electric cars between the new tunnel under Biltmore Hill.

PROTEST ON PAVING WORK CAUSES QUIZ

Council Will Investigate Quality of Pavement Laid on Rimpau Boulevard

As a result of protests of property owners against the quality of the pavement recently laid on Rimpau Boulevard from Country Club Drive to Pico Boulevard, the City Council yesterday, on motion of Councilman Ash, ordered an investigation of the matter and in the meanwhile withheld approval of the contractors' bill of $52,709 for the work. Chief Inspector Rook said that the pavement was five inches of concrete with a one and one-half-inch Warrenite patent pavement surface.

Headed by H. B. Abbott, the protesting property owners told the Council that the pavement is broken in many places, that a number of automobile accidents have occurred by machines running into these holes, and invited the Council to inspect the work. The hearing was postponed until next Monday morning and in the meantime the members of the City Council's Public Works and Finance committees will inspect the new pavement, which was accepted by the city on August 4, last.

COMMERCIAL BOARD TO MEET AT BILTMORE

The first fall meeting of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles will be conducted at noon tomorrow at the Biltmore, according to announcement made yesterday by E. G. Judah, managing director of the organization. Among the features of the program will be a demonstration of the Teletype by Leroy C. Bishop and an address by Chief of Police Heath. Musical selections will be given by Donald L. Egget. All business men are invited but reservations should be made today.

FLUGRATH WEDS CANADIAN

Actresses' Father Marries After Six-Weeks Romance; Honeymoon to be in Honolulu

Viola Dana and Shirley Mason, motion-picture actresses, knocked the tradition of the hard-hearted old step-mother into two or three cocked hats last night when they acquired pretty Maris Marguerite Bourgeois, of Quebec, Can., as their step-mother.

Miss Bourgeois and E. A. Flugrath, father of the film stars, were married at Miss Dana's home, 1020 King's Road, in a quiet little home wedding with only a few close friends present. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Gregory Lines of the American Catholic Church.

GIVES RIGHT AGES

Miss Dana herself corrected what might be characterized as some "wise cracks" appearing in the press in the past as to the ages of the bride and groom. According to the little film star, some accounts had it that her father was 59 years of age, or more, and that the bride was "somewhere around 20 or 22 years of age." This was all wrong. As a matter of fact, her father is 57 years of age and the bride, Miss Dana said, is 30. The bride gave her age as 28 when the marriage license was taken out Saturday.

At any rate, they made a pretty picture as they stood in the drawing-room—Mr. Flugrath prim, white haired and rather short in height, and Miss Bourgeois, tall, comely, with jet-black hair, the bloom of youth herself, with the bishop in his flowing vestments and head-dress.

The bride wore a gown of white miracle satin and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. Walter S. McAllister was best man, and Mrs. Harriett McAllister was matron of honor. Dr. C. W. Lukens gave the bride away. The wedding march was played by Harold Coombs, pianist of the motion-picture studio world.

PLAN HAWAIIAN TRIP

Following a honeymoon trip to Honolulu the couple will be at home at 1289 Sweetzer street, where Mr. Flugrath has been maintaining his residence.

Among those who were present at the wedding, other than those named, were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaw (sister of Viola Dana;) Maurice (Lefty) Flynn, husband of Viola; Mrs. Dr. Lukens and Harlan Fengler.

The wedding was the culmination of a brief romance that began six weeks ago when Mr. Flugrath met Miss Bourgeois at the Beverly Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. McAllister.

Riverside Man Will Appear at Forest Hearing

Francis Cuttle, president of the Riverside Water Company of Riverside, will go to Washington as a representative of the Conservation Association of Southern California at a hearing before Director Lord of the national budget on forestry appropriations. The hearing is the 28th inst.

The American Forestry Association will ask Director Lord's approval of Federal and State co-operative fire protection and for further appropriations for national forests.

Mr. Cuttle will take with him resolutions and letters of approval from various forestry and conservation associations favoring the expansion of national forestry work.

ROOSEVELT CHAPTER GATHERS FOR SMOKER

For the purpose of stimulating recruiting, several hundred members of Roosevelt Chapter, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, gathered last night at Foresters' Hall for a special entertainment and smoker. Among those who addressed the gathering were: Judge Crail, Joe Crail, Sheriff Traeger and Congressman Fredericks. The entertainment committee consisted of Walter Leighton, S. W. Skidmore and Capt. T. Siminoff.

REABURN'S DISMISSAL PROTESTED

Civil Engineers Denounce Action as "Injustice to an Honest, Efficient Servant"

Declaring that the removal by the Board of Public Works of D. L. Reaburn as engineer in charge of the widening of Cahuenga Pass and the extension of Beverly Boulevard was "an injustice to an honest, conscientious and efficient public servant, "the Los Angeles section of the American Society of Civil Engineers denounced the board's action in resolutions read to the board yesterday.

The resolutions declared that it was against public policy to break up an organization in the public service which had made the record that Engineer Reaburn's forces had made for the construction of Mulholland High Way and the other improvements totalling more than $4,000,000. This resolution was ordered filed by the board, as has been done with a large number of similar protests received. The board's action was taken during the absence of Commissioner Eldridge, who, on his return, protested the board's action.

The City Council last week blocked an effort to ratify the action of the board and declined to abolish the positions of construction engineer for Mulholland High Way, Cahuenga Pass and Beverly Boulevard held by Reaburn. This action, if taken, would have made difficult the reinstatement of Reaburn urged by the property owners in the districts which have bonded themselves to pay for the improvements of which Engineer Reaburn had charge. The projects, by order of the board, are now in charge of Chief City Inspector Rook.

TO TALK ON DELINQUENTS

"Care of the Juvenile Delinquent" will be the subject of a talk by Miss Edna Mahan, superintendent of Juvenile Hall at the regular meeting of the Medical Woman's Society of Los Angeles tomorrow. The meeting will be conducted at the Windsor Tea Room, Brack-Shops, 527 West Seventh street, at 12 o'clock.

The Lancer

By Harry Carr

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—New York stores are buying toys for the Christmas trade.

I spent an hour with a wholesale toy salesman, and he told me all about it.

Soldier toys, he said, have passed out. Little boys aren't interested in them any more; and the mothers of little boys see to it that they do not become interested. The salesman told me that A German toy house sent over a very wonderful army of lead soldiers as a sample. It has never been taken out of the box. The salesmen refuse even to try to sell it to retailers.

NEW BABY DOLLS

The type of dolls also has changed. A few years ago the favorite doll was the young lady with the bisque head and the flaxen curls and the regular young-lady wardrobe.

This kind of doll is now passe. The only kind popular with little girls is a baby doll—apparently only a few days old. The doll clothes are now baby layettes exclusively.

FORTUNES LOST

This change in dolls, for instance, has almost wrecked the German doll trade.

Until the World War we bought most of our toys from Nuremburg. The interruption of trade started a great toy industry in the United States.

The Germans seem to have a very slim chance ever of regaining the lost trade.

This is especially true in view of the fact that the most popular toys for boys are now mechanical—steel contraptions with which they can make bridges, office buildings and the like.

WORLD POWER

What is true of the toy situation is also true of fine cutlery. We make knives and all sorts of finely tempered cutting instruments better in America than in Europe.

It does not take the seventh son of a seventh son of a prophet to see that it will not be long until America virtually owns the world commercially.

Our people have to look forward to a time—not so far distant—when we have practically all the money in the world and all the power to rule.

It isn't so much a question of what we are going to do with this money as what this money is going to do with us.

The only country that ever before had as much world power as we are going to have was Imperial Rome.

Rome grew rich, as we are growing rich, and died from fatty degeneration of the soul.

COPY OF BRYAN WILL RECEIVED LOCALLY

A copy of the will of the late William Jennings Bryan was received at the County Clerk's office yesterday from Miami, Fla., the legal residence of the former Secretary of State. Upon examination of the document it was found it was not properly attested and was returned to the Florida city. The contents of the will were not ascertained, but it is believed it was sent here for probate because the late commoner owned property in Los Angeles county. A son, W. J., Jr., is an attorney here.

THE SINNER'S SONNET

BY E. D. CAHN
[Copyright, 1925]

The road is long, as they say in the east,
But at least it has many corners and this very Fortunate fact is what keeps all the lives of all
The little Horners in the world from getting flat.
You never know as you journey down the street
Just who you are going to meet around the turn
And though for strife you may not yearn you quickly
Learn that you often have to go to bat for all of that.
It's at the cross-roads where the dirty work will Lurk and it's just around the bend that things begin

EXPLOSION AT CONSUL'S HOME

Police Launch Investigation in Mystery Blast

Incinerator Demolished in Yard of Japanese

Cook Hurt as Detonation Rocks Neighborhood

A heavy explosion in the rear yard of the home at 1723 Wilton Place, which had been occupied until last Saturday night by the Japanese Consul, K. Wakasugi, caused Hollywood police yesterday to begin an extended investigation into the cause of the blast.

The explosion came shortly after 10 a.m. V. M. Ueyama, who had been employed as cook at the Consul's home for about two months, had just put fire to some rubbish in the incinerator and was poking the flames with a stick when the blast came.

The force of the blast knocked the cook to the ground, burning him painfully about the face and left arm. Not a vestige of the incinerator, which had been built but a short time before of reinforced concrete, remained in place.

DEBRIS SCATTERED

Debris and great pieces of the concrete were scattered for more than a score of feet in all directions but the floor of what had once been the incinerator appeared as if it had been swept over by a broom.

The fire department was promptly summoned but they found that nothing except the incinerator had been damaged. They gave the cook emergency treatment for his burns and wounds and departed.

Detective Lieutenant Hack of the Hollywood division was assigned to investigate the blast. He found that the room which had been occupied by Mr. Wakasugi prior to his departure Saturday night had been cleaned out Sunday and many of the things found there dumped into rubbish heap and carried out to the incinerator. It is the belief of the detective that some mixture, possibly for use in taking spots from clothing, had been left behind by the Consul, and that this exploded in the incinerator when the fire reached it.

CONSUL RECALLED

Mr. Wakasugi has been recalled to Japan, leaving Saturday night. Ken Tsurmi, Vice-Consul, is now the acting consul and occupied the home where the blast occurred. He arrived home shortly after the explosion, but could offer no theory to explain it aside from the possibility that it might have been caused by a cleaning fluid dumped into the incinerator. Both the cook and chauffeur were equally in the dark as to the source of the blast.

Mr. Tsurmi stated that T. Ohashi, former Japanese Consul at Seattle, who is now in Japan, has been appointed Consul to Los Angeles, and will arrive here either late in October or early in November.

DAREDEVIL ROCKS BOAT AND FALLS

Balloon Stuntman Breaks Wrists in Thirty-foot Drop from Ferris Wheel

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 14.—While hundreds of feet above the ground, J. Knabenshue, professional balloonist, felt perfectly at home. Not once in his career of ballooning did he suffer a mishap. Tonight he fell thirty feet from a ferris wheel on the Long Beach pier.

According to the police report, Knabenshue, who lives at 2906 West Eighth street, Los Angeles, was attempting to add zest to the less exciting ride of the ferris wheel by swinging the car. With him was Carl Dunther. The car swung out too far and Knabenshue, losing his balance, fell to the ground, breaking both wrists, sustaining a possible skull fracture and possible internal injuries. Dunther succeeded in maintaining a hold until the car reached the ground.

The injured man was removed to the Seaside Hospital where it was stated he will recover. Knabenshue has been performing stunts for a motion-picture company and has an interest in a captive-balloon concession on the pier.

WEDDING IN SKY THRILLS BRIDAL PAIR

Not to Mention Judge and Witness—But Heights Don't Bother Bridegroom

For an added thrill marry your girl on the edge of a six-inch girder on the skeleton of a sky scraper.

There wasn't a thrill in a church wedding for Buddy Cameron Mason, 16-year-old movie stuntman. And then again his bride, Virginia Morene Clarke, 23, a Hollywood school-teacher, didn't believe that being a professional daredevil was as dangerous as the bridegroom said it was.

But the bride knows better now.

So does Judge Walter S. Gates.

And Deputy Sheriff George Olds, who witnessed the marriage is satisfied that professional daredevils are taking more chances than jaywalkers at Seventh and Broadway.

The wedding was during the noon hour, eight stories above Broadway on the steel skeleton of the new Orpheum Building.

The skyscraper ceremony was arranged when Miss Clarke informed Mason that the perils of his profession were greatly exaggerated.

"I'll go anywhere that you will," the bride stated.

"Fine, we'll climb to the top of the new Orpheum Building and be married, the bridegroom replied.

They did.

Judge Gates followed with Deputy Sheriff Olds, who volunteered to act as best man.

The Hollywood school-teacher and the movie stuntman were pronounced man and wife with a score of steel workers clinging to their perilous positions as witnesses.

Judge Gates doesn't believe that skyscraper weddings will prove popular.

Film Actor in Court Denies Wild Driving

Lige Conley, film actor, yesterday pleaded not guilty to a reckless driving charge. Police Judge Pope transferred the case to Police Judge Richardson's court, where a jury trial will be conducted at a date not yet fixed. On the 8th inst., according to police, Conley drove his machine into the rear of a car that had made a boulevard stop at Sunset Boulevard and Vine street, throwing a woman out. He was arrested by Detectives Reynolds and Vanaken, who declared he had been drinking.

WAR LEADER WILL SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Col. S. G. Jones to Address Army Association Men on "The Reserve Corps"

The man who safely transported more than 1,000,000 troops to France during the World War, sending as sending as many as 10,000 men a night across the English Channel, will be a guest of Los Angeles Friday night at the City Club in the opening fall season dinner meeting of the Los Angeles Sector, Association of the Army of the United States.

Col. Samuel G. Jones

He is Col. Samuel G. Jones, adjutant-general of the Ninth Corps Area headquarters, who holds four distinguished decorations for his service in the World War. Col. Jones will address military leaders here on "The Reserve Corps." He was active in Washington following the World War in the creation of the reserve component of the United States Army under the National Defense Act.

Dr. Arthur E. Hoare, veteran of the Gallipoli campaign, will speak on "The Tragedy and Triumph of Gallipoli."

Maj. Reynold E. Blight of Los Angeles, will speak on "National Defense, Axioms and Application."

The meeting will be designated reserve officers' night, in honor of the Reserve Officers' Association which just completed a State convention here. Dinner will be at 6 o'clock. Col. Perry W. Weidner, president of the Los Angeles Sector, will preside.

CANADIAN VANGUARD COMES IN

First of Winter Tourist Hosts Shows Astonishment at Summer Weather

Astonished at the midsummer weather still existing in Southern California, the first contingent of Canadian tourists arrived here yesterday. Among the number were John Hooper, president of the Canadian Tourists' Society; Director C. G. Connell, from Toronto, Ont., and a party from Vancouver, all of whom will spend the entire winter in or around Los Angeles.

The reason of the early influx was the desire to see a part of the California Diamond Jubilee, as well as to arrange for headquarters here.

The Canadian Tourists' Society having affiliated with the American Tourists' Association, the former takes charge of the tourist doings here, whilst the latter has control for the summer gatherings in the Far North and East.

Radical changes were adopted by the joint bodies for the coming season, among which will be weekly outdoor Canadian Province gatherings, similar to those held by the State societies. The official bulletin of the society will be printed as an official organ for the tourists "in order to give the tourists' viewpoints and to put the right facts before the tourists of the world, who will listen to unbiased comment from their own class."

President Hooper said the first gathering of fraternal meeting of the clans, under the society's auspices, will be that of the Provincial get-together in three weeks for the people from Ontario Province. This will be followed by another meeting for all the people who have ever lived in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Quebec and the maritime Provinces.

MORE RADIO AID GIVEN STRICKEN

Santa Barbara Profits by Extension of Show

Admissions and Pledges Swell Relief Fund

Shortridge Asks People to Keep Promise

Pledges and admission fees aggregating $2116 were the result of the extension over Sunday of the National Radio Show for the benefit of the Santa Barbara Emergency relief fund. Of the total amount $1039 already has been received and when the pledges are all in, the full proceeds, minus less than $100 for expenses, will be turned over to campaign headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce.

Of the pledges, that of the J. A. Daley Stores, Inc., was the largest, amounting to $300. Telephones rang constantly on Sunday announcing new pledges after the broadcasters had made public the plan of extending the show one more day for the benefit of Santa Barbara. Contributions of $100 each were pledged by J. K. Funk, Dr. Frederick A. Speik, C. W. Young, Charles Garriston and two persons who did not want their names to appear.

ELEPHANTS AID

Admission amounting to $6 were paid by Oliver Carr of Selig Zoo for himself and his nine elephants, and Muriel Frances Dana, child entertainer, paid $7, one for each year of her life. Benjamin Prentice, who holds the candy concession at Olympic Auditorium, offered to contribute all profits coming from next Thursday night's business, while Paulais, holding the soft-drink concession at Sunday night's radio show, turned over his profits for the day, amounting to $37.

The co-operation of the radio show was greatly appreciated by the campaign leaders. "The relief fund organization owes a debt of thanks to Waldo T. Tupper, the badcasters and the show, as well as to every exhibitor and the radio trades associations," commented Campaign Manager Morris. "The wide advertising given the fund drive was of greater value even than the money obtained."

TIMES SENDS $4706

The largest single contribution reaching campaign headquarters yesterday was $4706, representing money donated to The Times subscription fund during the last several days. In addition, a check for $1000 was received from the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, another from the Venice chamber for $612, and a remittance from Beverly Hills, representing the first installment on its quota.

The total amount of contributions in Los Angeles county up to noon yesterday was $172,805, according to the records of Manager Morris. Of this amount Los Angeles city has contributed $135,029, and the county outside Los Angeles, $37,773. Contributions from sections of Southern California outside Los Angeles county have amounted to $54,934, so that the total received in Santa Barbara from the southern part of the State to date amounts to $227,736.

A report received yesterday by Mr. Morris from Dr. H. S. Pritchett, chairman of the Santa Barbara campaign committee, gave the total received from all parts of the State by his committee up to noon Saturday as $362,769. Saturday's receipts in Santa Barbara, the report stated, aggregated $28,628, which came from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, with the exception of $574, received from the Chamber of Commerce of Pacific Grove.

SHORTRIDGE IN PLEA

The situation in Santa Barbara was commented on yesterday by Senator Shortridge upon his arrival in Los Angeles yesterday after a visit in Santa Barbara.

"It's most emphatically up to California to make good on her promises to Santa Barbara," declared the Senator. "The reputation and good faith of the State are at stake and we can't afford to fall down in raising this emergency fund, which is so sorely needed.

"In fact, the $1,100,000 fixed as the goal in this campaign is barely enough to meet the most pressing needs. It would have been better if we could have raised $3,000,000, for the damage in Santa Barbara was of such extent as to impose an enormous burden upon its citizens.

"Having effectually prevented the people of Santa Barbara from appealing for aid outside the boundaries of the State by our promise to assist them ourselves, the duty now rests on every citizen of California to do his bit in making this promise good."

RAH RAH BOYS DRIVE 'EM WILD

College Jazz Bands and Ukulele Wooings During Wee Small Hours Cause Neighbors to Ask Officials to Invoke Curfew for Children in Order to Get Sleep

A college boy's band playing at 3 o'clock in the morning and a ukulele Lothario wooing his co-ed sweetheart at midnight with the nasal twang of his stringed instrument aroused so much ire instead of peace in the hearts of householders near a local university that they complained to the City Prosecutor's office yesterday.

Four angry and highly indignant citizens, declaring that they could not sleep without stuffing their ears with cotton and hiding their heads under their pillows, asked that an investigation be made and something done about the situation, according to Deputy City Prosecutor William Krowl.

Promising them that his office will do its best to stop the disturbance, and will invoke the curfew law for children if necessary, Deputy Krowl ordered the investigation.

"It's not so bad if the band stops at 10 o'clock or thereabouts, but when some lovesick sheik twangs a mournful ukulele sonnet under the rose arbor in the neighbor's yard at midnight, and residents of the fraternity house next door play a set of drums and numerous horns at full blast until 3 o'clock, it is worse than unbearable," one of the complainants said.

"If you cannot do anything else please have the boys play lullabies," another is credited by Deputy Krowl as having said.

After listening to the complaints, Deputy Krowl remarked that the old adage about music having charms to soothe is all wrong when it pertains to jazz after midnight. It's the same stuff that makes the wildcats wild nda causes the majority of the neighborhood rows that come to the attention of his office, he declared.

SOUTHLAND PRAISED BY CITY VISITOR

Italian Military Attache Sees Similarity to Home in Brilliant Sunshine

Premier Mussolini has effectually squelched Bolshevism in Italy, and the country has made more progress under his rule than during any previous period of equal length in its history, Col. Augusto Villia, military attache of the Italian Embassy in Washington, declared upon his arrival at the Biltmore yesterday.

Col. Villa came to Los Angeles after attending the Diamond Jubilee in San Francisco, where he appeared as the representative of the Italian government. He has held the post of military attache only a short time, and this is his first visit on the Pacific Coast.

"Your Southern California reminds me much of Italy," he said. "You have the same brilliant sunshine and the waters off your coast have exactly the same color as the Mediterranean."

Commenting on conditions in Italy, Col. Villa said that country is now carrying out an extensive program of improvements, which includes road building, harbor development and the construction or reconstruction of many public edifices.

"Everybody is at work and no signs of discontent are apparent anywhere," he said. "Mussolini still continues to be popular with the majority of the Italians, and if he remains at the head of the government long enough the result of his work will be seen in a completely rehabilitated country."

Col. Villa was met at the station by representatives of the local Italian Chamber of Commerce, headed by its president, F. M. Andreani.

SUBTUNNEL PROMOTERS TO REFUND

Steps Taken to Return Stock Subscriptions in Second-Street Tube Deal

What probably will be the swan song of the Tunnels Transportation Company—which lost its franchise when its vice-president, W. B. Hedges, set a trap for asserted bribe-taking Councilmen—will be intoned today at the State Corporation Commission. Deputy Commissioner Adams will hear what the company has to say on its application to return to stockholders money received in stock subscriptions.

The company took this preliminary step to probable dissolution of its own accord. It is considered probable that the application will be granted.

The company obtained from the old Council a franchise to construct a pedestrian tunnel containing a moving sidewalk, under the Second street tunnel. The passage of the enabling ordinance through the new Council was blocked by the Downs-Fitzpatrick scandal and the franchise finally was revoked.

BLIND JUSTICE REGAINS SIGHT

open safe and took $195 in bills. Sims returned to his office and found his friend gone. He thought nothing of the matter and went on with his work. That evening he discovered the shortage. He duly reported to his employers. His explanation that he did not know what had become of the money was ridiculed.

The Fyles Detective Agency was called in, and after a careful investigation they confronted Sims with the theft. Sims felt humiliated and ashamed at being accused. He was told that unless the money was forthcoming he would probably go to jail.

Frightened at the prospect of being cooped up behind the bars of the City Jail he announced that he would rather put up the money than go to jail. He gave up his savings to do so. He was then discharged. Penniless, he went into the streets to seek other work with the shadow of his false accusation ever present at his shoulder.

He went to San Diego. There he obtained work as manager of a theater. But this good fortune did not last long. An agent for the bonding company under which Sims had held his position in this city learned that he was the same man. He soon found himself again in the street. For two months he was out of work. Then he got work here, but was discharged again because "he couldn't be trusted."

And then the subconscious mind of justice began to work. Sims bumped into his "friend" on Hill street. He abruptly accused him of having stolen the money. The latter at first denied his guilt, but on learning the difficulties through which Sims had gone, finally broke down and confessed. Twedall was arrested and formally charged with the theft of the money.

Following is the decision of the court:

"The defendant is fined $250, with the alternative of fifty days in jail. He is to be released to the custody of Probation Officer James Ed Berry, on the conditions that he take work offered him by a friend; that he pay Mr. Berry $5 each and every week for fifty weeks. The $250 thus collected is to be applied as follows: (A) To repay R. P. Sims in full for all sums lost by Sims because of Twedell's offense; (B) to repay Sims's bonding company for all money lost through the same offense; (C) to pay the balance into court as a fine."

And in addition to this, the decision goes on to state "that Twedall must go to each friend of himself and Sims who knew of the trouble and tell this friend that he, Twedell, and not Sims, stole the money, and that at any time that he should overhear any slighting remark about Sims's character Twedell must speak up in Sims's defense."

EPISCOPALIAN SOCIAL WORKERS TO BANQUET

Bishop Johnson, Bishop Stevens, Councilman Otto Zahn, Miss Dorothy Wysor, Dr. Miriam Van Waters and Miss Louise Drury will speak at the second annual supper of the trained social service workers of the Episcopal Church this evening in St. Paul's Cathedral house at 6:15 o'clock. The honor guest is to be Very Rev. Charles N. Lathrop, executive secretary of the national department of Christian social service of the Episcopal Church. There will be a round-table discussion relative to mutual support of the church and her trained social service workers.

SANTA BARBARA FUND

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and deliver to the authorized agents of the California Development Association any sums sent to this paper as contributions to the $1,100,000 fund to be raised by the association for emergency and charitable work in stricken Santa Barbara.

The Times itself started the fund with a donation of $10,000 and takes this occasion to urge all loyal Californians, individuals, organizations, companies, etc., to give to the extent of their abilities. The need is urgent. Santa Barbara has pluckily refused eastern help in the belief that California will take care of her own. Let her be not disappointed.

Contributions may be made through any bank or newspaper, the Chamber of Commerce or the California Development Association, Garland Building, Los Angeles. If sent to The Times, checks should be made payable to the Santa Barbara Fund.

Up to 4 p.m. yesterday contributions received by The Times were as follows:

Gas

Public Hearing

At ten o'clock on the morning of September 23th, will be held a public hearing of the application of the Southern California Gas Company for an adjustment of the rates charged for mixed gas distributed to the territory in and around Los Angeles.

The rates for gas are so high they were ten years ago, yet there has been an increase in the cost of labor, material, and gas, as well as the amount of investment required for each customer. For this reason the Southern California Gas Company has asked for the establishment of just and equitable rates.

HORT CONCERT GIVEN OVER KHJ

...siclassical and Popular Program Presented

...f of Police Heath Will Talk Tonight

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Patrons of the tower studio of the Times last evening were delighted that the station had made one of its rare exceptions to its policy of being silent every Monday. The splendid two-hour concert presented through the courtesy of the Auto Center was given spontaneous greeting as one of the really highly meritorious broadcast programs regularly featured over this leading station of the west.

The two hours that the station was on the air from 8 until 10 o'clock, being silent all afternoon and the fore part of the evening, was divided. Mary Newkirk Bower, soprano soloist; Mona Content, contralto pianist; Catherine Jackson, violinist; the Colombian Trio, composed of the talented Hernandez brothers, Helen Mead Little, flutist, and Joseph Heindl, popular 'cellist, gave the entertainment for the first portion of the program, which was more of a classical and semi-classical concert.

POPULAR SELECTIONS

From 9 until 10 o'clock, the hours were greeted with an array of popular selections through the efforts of another group of the station's favorite performers. Included in this group were Sam ..., monologist; Kathryne ..., saxophone; Jules Buf..., pianist and composer; Art ..., novelty entertainer, and the Colombian Trio.

The recent reappearance of the Colombian Trio was received with more pleasure by the patrons than they have proved themselves to be the most popular broadcast team from KHJ. They have returned from a very successful tour of Mexico, having appeared in practically all of the larger cities of the neighboring country.

This introductory program by the Auto Center, given with the sponsorship of Lail's Auto Body and the Union Oil Company, served to mark the opening of their new and highly modern structure at 144 South Hope street, where they have established a complete sales and general automobile service, with all of the latest devices.

HEATH TO TALK

Capt. Cleveland Heath of the Los Angeles police department is to be heard over the air from KHJ at 8:30 tonight, giving a fifteen-minute talk on the general movement throughout the city and State to lessen the flood of death and street accidents. Arrangements for the police official's appearance were made through the safety departments at Sacramento, which are directing the prevention movement throughout the commonwealth. HEATH TO TALK

Captain Cleveland Heath of the Los Angeles police department is scheduled to be heard over the air from KHJ at 8:30 tonight, giving a fifteen-minute talk on the general safety campaign throughout the city and how to lessen the flood of traffic and street accidents. Arrangements for the police official's address were made through the various departments at Sacramento, the latter directing the prevention campaign throughout the commonwealth. His talk will be given over the splendid concert arrangement through the courtesy of the Broadway Department Store, which is giving a group of favorite selections from the world of comic opera.

This evening's children's hour program will be especially notable as it will mark the second anniversary of the coming of Queen Titania, the fairy of KHJ, and the weekly appearance of Charles Leslie Hill, who is a great favorite at the studio.

Inquiries already have been pouring into the studio concerning the three concerts to be given by the Chamber Music Society of San Francisco, world-renowned players, who will appear next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings from 8 until 10 o'clock through the courtesy of the Los Angeles Soap Company.

Special recognition was given yesterday by the officials of the radio show, which just closed in the Ambassador Auditorium, to Leighton's Arcade Cafeteria orchestra, directed by Jack Cronshaw, which volunteered its services Sunday afternoon at the exhibition as their contribution toward the relief of Santa Barbara.

Announcement that station WOK has been authorized by the government to increase its power to 5000 watts was made in Chicago this week. This station, which is located at Homewood, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, was opened in July and was granted a Class-B license three weeks ago. It is said to be the largest battery-operated station in the world. Three other stations authorized to increase their power are WHO, Des Moines, to 5000 watts; WEAF, owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, New York, to 4500 watts, and WGY, Schenectady, to 3000 watts.

Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Meet for Annual Election

Following a dinner at the City Club yesterday, the annual election of the Cabrillo Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, was conducted. The following officers were elected: Dr. T. M. Savage, Navigator; Dr. A. C. Germann, M.D., Captain; Frank J. Barry, Admiral; Joseph B. Brady, Pilot; Charles F. Du Fresne, Comptroller; T. F. Neddermann, Scribe; Victor Guilbault, Purser; R. B. Knipscheer, Inner Sentinel; Pat Kirby, Outer Sentinel.

Speakers at the meeting made many suggestions for constructive work planned to be undertaken by the new officers of Cabrillo Assembly during the ensuing year. Charitable work, free medical services to the needy, the big brother movement, aid to wards of the Juvenile Court and more comprehensive programs at meetings of Third Degree Councils were among the suggestions touched upon by the speakers.

The retiring officers, particularly Navigator Sir Knight Frank J. Barry, were praised for their faithful attention to duties, and for putting the assembly in a condition to do much constructive work during the coming year.

Burial Rites for Pioneer Mining Man Tomorrow

Funeral services will be conducted at Pierce Brothers' chapel at 2 p.m. tomrorow for Charles Arthur Hoyt, 53 years of age, Mr. Hoyt, a mining engineer and metallurgist, was a pioneer of the cyanide process of extracting gold and silver from ore, and his life was bound up with the mining history of Colorado, Montana, Arizona and California. He died Sunday night at his home, 612 St. Paul street.

A graduate of Harvard and of Columbia School of Mines, he came to Colorado in 1869 and began the practice of his profession, continuing until twelve years ago, when he retired and came to Los Angeles to live. He was born in Deerfield, Mass., of one of the oldest New England families, being a direct descendant of David Hoyt, who came from England in 1630.

He was married in 1870 to Laura Josephine Briggs of Albany, N. Y., who died four years ago. He leaves two sons, Henry B. Hoyt of Butte and Arthur T. Hoyt of this city, a motion-picture actor. The funeral services will be followed by private cremation.

CANDIDATES INITIATED

Sixteen candidates were initiated at the installation of Rebecca Lodge No. 386, I.O.O.F., Saturday night at the temple in Maywood. The lodge started with fourteen charter members. The installation was in charge of May Reynolds and Cyrus Palmer. The degree staff of Huntington Park lodge assisted in the ceremonies.

CITY'S PART IN JUBILEE APPLAUDED

Mayor Rolph Gives High Praise for Part Taken in Great Parade

The people of Los Angeles were congratulated by Mayor Rolph of San Francisco on the showing this city made in the California Diamond Jubilee parade, in a letter received yesterday at the office of Mayor Cryer. Mayor Rolph wrote as follows:

"I wish to congratulate the people of Los Angeles for the splendid co-operation which you gave our State's great birthday party.

"Permit me to congratulate the people of Los Angeles upon the splendid showing which your city made in the magnificent parade. The float which Los Angeles provided was exquisitely beautiful, and a great deal of favorable comment was elicited by the drill which your motorcycle policemen presented during the progress of the parade up Market street.

"San Francisco was delighted to have you, and we only wish your stay could have been longer. Come again soon, all of you, and permit us to demonstrate again the real affection in which we hold you."

SPAIN'S WISDOM

You can say one thing about Spain's record in Morocco. It will not incite other nations to go great lengths to get Spain into any entangling alliances.

THE BILL PASSING

Congress is great for passing bills, but, after all, this little job is done even more thoroughly and efficiently by the small boys who daily jaunt from door to door.

MOST ADORNED

A returned visitor says Paris decrees shorter skirts and no stockings. It looks as if pretty soon about the only things the girls will have all dressed up will be their faces.

UNFRIENDLY ACT

Those Americans who are trying to establish branches of the Ku Klux Klan in Germany should be firmly repressed. The war is over and Germany already has troubles enough.

BUT NOT OLD-TIME PAY

OUT ON STRIKES

Just three years ago everybody was being made aware of the fact that the coal strike was a dead loss to all parties. The miners and operators both lost and the consumers footed most of the bills. This strike is only a repeater.

NEVER TOO OLD

A Chicago woman 76 years of age has secured a divorce and been married again this year. And the worst of it is that nearly every other woman who reads of that will think "She couldn't possibly be any younger for her age than I am."

AT THE RINGSIDE

It doesn't make much difference whether the word "obey" is in the marriage ritual or not. The little lady will do as she pleases, anyhow. Furthermore, in an era of supposedly complete equality of the sexes the woman should not be expected to do anything not required of her mate.

LOOKING BACKWARD

The year that California was admitted to the Union it took four months to get a letter from Boston to San Francisco. Now they are figuring on cutting the air-mail schedule down so as to make it in about thirty hours from New York to Los Angeles. It took a stout courtship to stand up under the strain of waiting four months for a letter from the loved one.

SCIENCE IS GRAND

In the National Museum there is the fossil remains of a dwarf camel that was born 2,127,500 years ago last Tuesday. The reason they are so certain of the date is that the number was stamped on a glacier that was moving out at the rate of nine feet every 1,000,000 years. The tag on the camel's hump was found to correspond. This they get from a school of correspondence.

FINE RAIMENT

It costs more than twice as much every year to apparel our ladies as it does to garb our men. In New York City alone there are factories working on women's wear with a production value of over $1,000,000,000 a year. It costs more than twice as much to dress the women of America as it does the men, but it is surely worth while. We are getting the worth of our money. We love to have our ladies likened to the lilies of the lawn.

NETHER LIMBS

According to further fashion advices from Paris, the French women are persistent in going without stockings. They are determined to make bare legs even more fashionable than they are. On the other hand, the makers of hosiery are still on the job. Most of the stockings they make nowadays are of nude or flesh tints. A woman can wear them and convey the impression that she is bare-legged and yet her flesh has that luxurious protection a layer of silk can impart.

RACE PROBLEMS

A magazine article cites the fact that the percentage of foreign-born people in Argentina is twice as great as in this country, although America is the great melting pot. There are over 500,000 Italians in the single city of Buenos Aires. Under the immigration laws, however, none may come to Argentina save farmers and skilled mechanics. These make desirable citizens. They work rather than talk and they are not forever agitating against the government. A selective rather than a restrictive immigration is perhaps the better form. It is better to coax the people we want than to try to regulate those we do not.

HOW BOOMS REACT

After visiting Florida recently a prominent Omaha merchant, head of the Retail Association of that city, in an interview in the Omaha Evening Bee, warned the people of Nebraska not to invest their money in the Peninsular State. "All the crooks, grafters and real-estate sharks of the country," said this trustworthy informant, "have flocked to Florida. If one does business with them he is likely to find that he has been trimmed. While trains coming into Miami were crowded, it was impossible to get accommodations on the trains leaving Miami. There are more people leaving the city than coming in." The merchant said further that living costs are high in Florida, land values "out of sight" and work scarce.

This is but one in hundreds of recent reports of the land boom in Florida. Felix Isman, one of the best-known real-estate men of New York, had an article in the Saturday Evening Post telling of the frenzied state of affairs in which land speculators had "cleaned up" millions of dollars at the expense of many innocent investors and warning the public against this method of land-buying.

It is extremely regrettable that Florida, a beautiful State with a mild climate and splendid natural resources, should now be in the throes of one of those demoralizing experiences—a land boom. For it is the history of all such fictitious, ephemeral and misleading indications of prosperity that they react terribly upon the community, giving it a name for false promise and unfair dealing from which it may not recover for many years. Victims go abroad spreading tales of deceitful lures and grievous losses which put the locality on the blacklist of the homeseeker and cause him to settle almost anywhere save in the place where so many have been badly "stung." It is injurious to those who remain, for they must live through the parlous years of reaction, adjustment to lower standards and strenuous efforts to get back to a normal state of affairs.

One of the keenest of the growing pains of Los Angeles was the boom of 1887, which for years retarded the substantial development of the city in a way which the old-timers recall with a shudder. There is as much difference between a land boom and the solid development which Los Angeles has enjoyed during the last five years as there is between a house of cards and a house of granite.

Wild speculation is one thing, safe and sound investment is another. The Wallingford stuff, with its florid prospectuses and its inflated values, is not the foundation upon which real prosperity is built. No community can afford to risk the inevitable reaction that follows like a blight every soaring land boom. Short of a far-sweeping tidal wave, one of the worst things that could have happened to Florida is the present boom, for, when it collapses, as collapse it must and soon, it will leave ruin in its wake and turn many of the friends of the State to foes.

From that sad condition of affairs Florida will rally, rise and prosper. But there is bound to be a period, and probably a long and harrowing one, in which she will suffer the effects of the present inflation. Land values cannot be boosted to such absurd levels as $10,000 to $15,000 a front foot in a city like Miami, with only 50,000 population, without a subsequent collapse. But, after passing through the purgatory of depression, Miami and the other boom cities of Florida doubtless will return to their normal state. And this is as devoutly to be hoped for as the present situation is to be deplored.

A MODERN SAMSON

Incomprehensible as it may seem, the president of the American Federation of Labor has written a letter to the American Woolen Company, declaring that organized labor will appeal to the next Congress to reduce or remove entirely the import duties on woolens. Recently The Times called attention to the fact that the New England textile mills were compelled to reduce the wages of their 25,000 employees to meet foreign competition, as a result of the vast importation of woolen goods under the 1922 tariff. If the low wages paid European workers and the present import duties make it impossible for the New England mills to continue the high wages previously paid, how could it possibly be done if the tariff is reduced? The Wall Street Journal remarks that "Mr. Green, president of the federation, like Samson, would be pulling down the pillars of the temple upon his own head," and goes on to say that if the import duties on woolens or cotton goods were removed, or even considerably reduced, the reduction in wages "would not be the 10 per cent of which Mr. Green complains, but 50 per cent or more, and a large part of them would be out of employment."

The imports of woolens for eleven months of last year were over $18,500,000, as has been stated, owing to cheap European labor and inadequate protection to our home industries. Entirely ignoring this vital fact, the Memphis Commercial-Appeal sneers at the argument that the tariff "keeps up a high standard of living among workingmen." The New York World also rushes to the aid of organized labor with the statement that the tariff schedules were "rammed down the throat of the public on the plea that they would maintain wages," like its Tennessee contemporary, not daring to publish the disastrous figures that show clearly the fallacy of its position.

The Boston Post is authority for the statement that most of the New England textile mills have reduced or passed dividends and the shares on the market have been lower than for many years, which is said in refutation of the statement of the president of the Federation of Labor that "the textile industry has paid higher dividends than any other." Green's letter is probably nothing more than a bluff, for, as the Washington Star puts it, "the importation of more cheap foreign textiles might permit organized labor to have revenge on the mills for reducing wages, but it is difficult to live on revenge and it would scarcely increase the earnings of the workers."

The New York Journal of Commerce terms it "a bold-faced effort to bludgeon the producers of cotton and woolen cloths," and adds that "removal of the tariff would simply reduce the demand for workers."

Adequate protection of home industries against cheap foreign labor and low-grade living conditions is a cardinal doctrine of the American people and no amount of bluster and misrepresentation of the facts can change their attitude. The fruit growers of California have the same interest in the question as the textile mills of New England and the varied manufacturing interests throughout the United States.

The New York Times thinks President Coolidge "will have a hard time keeping the tariff in the background." Certainly, if any progress should be made in the self-destructive effort of the Federation of Labor and its vote-seeking Democratic backers to tear down American industries, President Coolidge will shirk no responsibility necessary to protect them. He will only be advocating a principle that has so often received the unqualified indorsement of the voters of this country.

RIDING HOBBIES

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, novelist-spiritualist, is reported by a United Press dispatch from Paris to have made some remarkable statements in an ex-cathedra interview. The famous Sherlock Holmes yarn-weaver has acquired a reputation as a leader of spiritualistic thought which places him among those leaders who aspire to Sir Oliver Lodge's triple crown. Incidentally, the interview throws a light on clews which led the detective novelist to roam into fanciful realms calculated to arouse the spellbinding attention which his fiction always elicits.

He said: "Joan of Arc was unquestionably a medium and a very great one. She had spells, she had visions, she heard mysterious voices. She went into trances and she came out of them in a manner almost exactly identical with our own observations of the characteristics of modern-day mediums. I bow in reverence to the memory of the great inspired medium, Joan of Arc; other spiritualists should do the same. She had her limitations, as have our own mediums. But Joan of Arc exceeded modern mediums by being able to turn her ability to very practical ends."

The impersonation of Sherlock Holmes rested entirely on the contemplations of a mind reveling in vagaries of a highly strung imagination which clothed fictions of the brain with the garments of reality. Spells, visions, mysterious voices and trances, conjuring up possible situations and then connecting them with links of fabricated facts of detection, were the method on which the author built his breath-taking creations. Sound business tactics of a masterly publicity agent helped to make the Sherlock Holmes series the great financial success they were.

Sir Arthur proceeds in the same manner to reach out his hand toward the most prominent pedestal in spiritualism as he attained it in fiction literature. Will he succeed. If his attempts are crowned with the anticipated victory spiritualism stands convicted from the beginning as a house built on sand. For the tiara of the spiritualistic pope will rest on a cranium which shelters a purely imaginative brain.

This estimate of the reported interview needs no apology. The statements speak for themselves. The method of publicity is equally apparent. For it must be remembered that the occasion which called forth the dispatch is the international congress of spiritualists in Paris. France has not quite recovered from the recent canonization proceedings in Rome in which Joan of Arc was listed in the canon of the saints; so that the glories of the "Maid of Orleans" are still fresh in the memory of the French people.

The afterthought which Sir Conan Doyle adds to his eulogy on Joan of Arc may, however, prove the feet of clay on which he is trying to construct his throne. In the same interview he asserts: "Some animals, especially dogs, are susceptible to spiritualistic influences. . . . Dogs often whine with fear when brought into a haunted house. When a dog stares fixedly he may be gazing at something you cannot see—something physic." Allowing that the last word "physic" may be incorrectly reported for "psychic" the reference is a particularly unfortunate comparison with the French national and religious heroine. To place Joan of Arc side by side with a dog in an array of prominent mediums may appeal to the author of "The Hound of the Baskervilles," but it will not find the desired reaction on the minds of the French people.

SIGNS THAT CHANGE

In an eastern city a leading resident announced his purpose to give a banquet to all dwellers who had been in business for fifty years in his community. It was an old town and he expected to have quite a celebration and a flood of reminiscence. But the dinner was a frost. Only one man showed up. It is possible that there were others eligible, but it must be admitted that there are few business houses that survive the wear and tear of half a century. The signs on any city street will show an almost complete change within the span of a generation. There is nothing so permanent in this world as change and uncertainty.

SOUTHERN VOICES

Mississippi finds that she has everything that Florida has in the way of winter lure for northern capitalists and threatens to do a bit of advertising of her own. Florida's boom is the result of paid publicity and this is something that no district can monopolize. So Mississippi and other States will try a whirl.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS

How happy is the African,
Who does not need to scheme and plan
To stuff his skull
With data dull
Which builds the sum of learning.
He sleeps beneath the summer sun,
Hunts lions when the day is done,
And larks and plays
And goes his ways
All tedious studies spurning.

The African is not employed
In contradicting Mr. Freud
Nor racks his brain
For years, in vain
To master evolution.
For he has found that life is sweet
If one can get enough to eat,
And work enough
To get a tough
Enduring constitution.

He does not sit up late at night
To trace the planets in their flight,
He takes his chance
On ignorance,
Which fully satisfies him.
The happiest of men is he,
And so, indeed, he'll always be—
Carefree and dumb,
Till white men come
And try to civilize him!

LETTERS TO The Times

Comparisons

SANTA ANA, Sept. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Rev. C. F. Aked, in a recent issue of The Times on "America, World Crime Center," says there were 170 murders in Los Angeles last year and eight in London. With equal populations this would mean 750 murders for Los Angeles against eight in London. In Great Britain, we are told, there is one murder a week against thirty-six for the United States.

The undersigned lived for many years in Great Britain and felt when reading that terrible indictment against our country that the causes were not all stated nor the remedies adequate.

Fundamentally, government is for the protection of the person and property of its citizens against invasion. In Great Britain, therefore, the emphasis of the law is upon crime and its sure, sharp and sudden penalty upon the murderer and the robber. It differentiates, however, sharply between crime and those habits which are called vices, realizing that these kill or cure themselves and are mostly matters of good taste or form to legislate against which would be to weaken the distinction between crime proper and irregular personal habits.

In the United States criminal law loses its emphasis and power because what is legitimately criminal and innately invasive of the person and property of others is not distinctly differentiated from what is made a crime by law and which is not in itself a crime, such as drinking a glass of beer or, in Tennessee—teaching evolution.

There is great confusion of thought, especially among the religious sects, as to the difference between crime and habit, also between the legitimate functions of government and those of churches. They fail to see that government is a matter of law, religion a matter of belief. That personal habits are strictly personal matters and, as long as they are non-invasive of the person or property of another, are not properly the concern of the government. To make them so is to give a criminal character to good citizenship and to invade the person of the citizen and to place him on a level with the murderer and the burglar, thereby giving to government the quality of tyranny and weakening its power against crime proper.

When laws confine themselves to the crimes of criminals and cease to concern themselves with the private habits of the citizen they will become more respectable and respected and there will be fewer criminals in the land.

HENRY J. WEEKS.

In Ulster

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Recently the United States warship Pittsburgh visited Belfast, North Ireland. The crew of over 800 men were entertained to a banquet by the Lord Mayor of Belfast, to another banquet at his castle by the Marquis of Londonderry, the Lord Lieutenant of North Ireland, and a third entertainment by Sir James Craig, the Premier.

The men were taken on excursions around the shipyards, also around the linen factories, also into the country. There was given upon leaving to each sailor a box of the finest Belfast linen handkerchiefs.

The officers were, of course, entertained also.

It was only one ship, but it was treated as an opportunity to show that the ancient loyalties of the English-speaking race, though today widely diverse, are the stronger for this diversity based upon the highest moral ideals in the hearts of men. And if men are patient and wise as Abraham Lincoln was, so today we can build a broader and more general communion of human fellowship and human service. A. MORESBY WHITE.

California's Chance

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Dr Charles F. Aked's courageous article, "America, World Crime Center," on the editorial page of The Times this morning calls for unstinted praise. It contains a message that should be proclaimed from the housetops. It has needed saying for a long time. I could wish that it might appear as a leading first-page article of real news in every important newspaper in America.

I should like to shout amen to his main thesis—that the courts are largely to blame for lawlessness in this country and that crime in America must stop!

The criminal records of England and America are in striking contrast. Let me quote some of the facts that he has taken from Leigh H. Irvine's new book, "The Follies of the Courts."

"In England and Wales there are about fifty murders a year," writes Dr. Aked. "In the United States there are 10,000." Allowing for difference of population, the proportion would be 10,000 in the United States to 200 in England and Wales. Making a similar allowance for population, we find that Los Angeles has 750 murders to London's eight.

The cause of this marked difference lies in the law's delay and the administration of justice in American courts. "The administration of law by American courts," he says, "is the worst in the civilized world." It is a humiliating admission. English courts, on the other hand, are noted for the swiftness with which justice is meted out. In America we are soft-hearted and softer-headed. By our slow methods and easy sentences we actually further crime.

If California wishes to make a name for itself in American history here is her chance. Let her be the pioneer in reforming legal procedure. Other States will follow.

Crime must stop! Lead the way, California! H. G. BLACK.

of $700 Revealed for Doubtful Decrees

[illegible] dozens of men and women [illegible] ment socially in Los Angeles [illegible] have been preparing quiet- [illegible] obtain ready-made "five to [illegible] days' time" divorces in Old [illegible], was discovered yesterday [illegible] the arrest of Mrs. Reba Wylie, [illegible] two proprietors of the Mex- [illegible] Service Bureau. Mr. Wylie, [illegible] partner, H. E. Grace, is said [illegible] in Mexico, was arrested in a [illegible] furnishe [illegible] duite of offices in [illegible] Byrne Building, 253 South [illegible] way. There, according to [illegible] were Lieutenants Canto and [illegible] lengthy lists of An- [illegible] who are awaiting their [illegible] to obtain divorces in Mexico [illegible] found.

[illegible] were confiscated by Canto [illegible] Hermanns which, after paint- [illegible] pretty word picture of the [illegible] city of Cuernavaca in the [illegible] of Morelos, declared:

[illegible] Residence Established in [illegible]. Absolute Divorce in Five [illegible] Days. All Transactions [illegible] Confidential. Save Time, [illegible] and Annoyance Starting

KEEPS SILENT

[illegible] Wylie, a woman about 40 [illegible] of age, refused to make any [illegible] to the police, and was [illegible] after depositing $250 cash [illegible] Complaints will be issued this [illegible], Deputy City Prosecutor [illegible] stated last evening.

[illegible] the Mexican Service Bu- [illegible] has been in operation since [illegible] April and has obtained scores [illegible] decrees for Los Angeles men [illegible] women. Grace is said to han- [illegible] the Mexican end of the opera- [illegible] while he is an attorney, living in [illegible] Mexico.

[illegible] "customer" of the bureau [illegible] received, Canto and Hermanns [illegible] to deposit $100. A wire from [illegible] Angeles office to Grace [illegible] Mexico, and the attorney im- [illegible] that he would begin court action [illegible] to establish legal residence in Mex- [illegible] ico. The total cost of the "absolute [illegible] decree" averaged about $700.

[illegible] investigation of the Wylie wom- [illegible] was said, will be based on [illegible] 158-a of the Penal Code [illegible] declares advertising to ob- [illegible] divorces illegal. No names [illegible] made public by the investi- [illegible] officers, but it was stated [illegible] that several witnesses are ready to [illegible] testify regarding the manner in [illegible] which they obtained divorces [illegible] from the bureau.

[illegible] additional arrests are ex- [illegible] today, the police having [illegible] in custody of two other "divorce" [illegible] operating here in similar [illegible] manner.

[illegible] whether the divorce decrees al- [illegible] obtained by patrons of the [illegible] will be recognized as valid [illegible], according to Fried- [illegible]. The California courts al- [illegible] have ruled that similar de- [illegible] obtained in Yucatan are in- [illegible]. The arrest of Mrs. Wylie re- [illegible] the case last spring of Dr. [illegible] Angelo Crespo, who sold [illegible] Times men a Mexican di- [illegible] decree for $300 cash and [illegible] while awaiting trial on a [illegible] variety of charges, jumped [illegible] of $2000 and fled to Central [illegible].

DIVORCE MILL DENIED

[illegible] declaring that the business she [illegible] conducted was in any sense a di- [illegible] mill, Mrs. Wylie at her home [illegible] night declared the Mexican [illegible] Bureau was just what its [illegible] name implied; that its function [illegible] was to supply uninformed Ameri- [illegible] cans with expert advice regarding [illegible] their affairs at a nominal price. [illegible] She was arrested on a technical- [illegible] charge, pending an investigation of the [illegible] bureau to show that there is noth- [illegible] illegal or out-of-the-way [illegible] in the business," she de- [illegible] clared.

[illegible] Especially, Mr. Grace and I be- [illegible] came interested in the Mexican [illegible] divorce laws when we were sm- [illegible] oking in the offices of a steam- [illegible] ship company in Yucatan. There [illegible] were scores of Americans come [illegible] to Merida who were abso- [illegible] lutely ignorant of the Mexican [illegible] laws and customs. We believed [illegible] we could be of service to [illegible] those who sought divorces in Mex- [illegible] ico. We could give them expert [illegible] advice where they went to Mexico, [illegible] because they usually fell in- [illegible] to the hands of the unscrupulous. [illegible] It is no secret that we charged [illegible] a large amount for securing a divorce in un- [illegible] contested cases. This amount represents the [illegible] cost of the divorce and in- [illegible] cludes railroad fare, Mexican court [illegible] fees of $250 and other inciden- [illegible] tals.

[illegible] It is also untrue that we urged [illegible] people to go to Mexico to get a [illegible] divorce or encouraged married [illegible] people to separate. Those who had [illegible] made up their minds to get a di- [illegible] vorce in Mexico we wanted their [illegible] business, true, but at the same [illegible] time we have advised many not to [illegible] take the step.

[illegible] There are no facts to sustain [illegible] the charge that we had sent [illegible] couples from Los Angeles or that [illegible] the names of prominent peo- [illegible] ple were found on our files. The [illegible] fact is that the lenient divorce [illegible] laws of the State of Morales went [illegible] into effect only last July. Since [illegible] then, naturally, we had more [illegible] business and they were increas- [illegible] ing, but the number was not [illegible] large.

The plaintiffs asked an injunc- [illegible] tion on the ground that they pur- [illegible] chased property in the city under [illegible] the impression that the canals [illegible] would be maintained as [illegible] waterways, were deeded to [illegible] the Abbot Kinney Com- [illegible] pany, the clause that they [illegible] be used solely as public [illegible] forever, and that the [illegible] furnished fire protection and [illegible] sewage system for the territory [illegible] which they run.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE CRIME WAVE

We still confront the wave of crime, and hens are stolen every night; unholy villains spread their crime in stark defiance of the law. Now in the fair and cultured land some men have formed a gang band and they will bravely try, at least, to drive this crime out of the land. They've pledged themselves to spare no pains, to carry on their grim crusade to law and order hold the reins, all the statutes are obeyed. $700 Revealed for Doubtful Decrees

Scores of men and women, most socially in Los Angeles and who have been preparing quietly for their ready-made "five to one" divorces in Old Mexico, discovered yesterday that a group of Mrs. Reba Wylie, one of the proprietors of the Mexican Divorce Bureau, Mr. Wylie, H. E. Grace, to said to be a Mexican, was arrested in a series of raids on offices in the Bradbury Building, 353 South Broadway. Mr. Wylie, according to Commissioner Canto and Chief Davis of Ensenada, are awaiting their trials on charges of conducting fake divorces in Mexico.

Canto declared:

"Divorces Established in Mexico Divorce in Five Days. All Transactions Confidential. Save Time, Money and Annoyance Starting Here."

KEPT SILENT

Wylie, a woman about 40 years of age, refused to make any statement to the police, and was released after depositing $350 cash bail. She will be issued this morning by City Prosecutor Cleveland last evening.

Chief of the Mexican Service Bureau was in operation since 1920 and has obtained scores of divorces for Los Angeles men and women. Grace is said to have been one of the operators, and is an attorney, living in Ensenada.

Information of the bureau was received from Cantu and Hermann Arnulf $100. A wire from Wylie's office to Grace and the attorney immediately began court action to establish legal residence in Mexico. Most of the "absolute" decrees amount about $700.

Raid of the Wylie woman's home will be based on violation of the Penal Code relative advertising to obtain divorces illegal. No names were made by the investigators, but it was stated that arrests are ready to be made in the manner in which they obtained divorces in the bureau.

Additional arrests are expected, the police having evidence of two other "divorce mills" operating here in similar manner.

Validity of the divorce decrees already obtained by patrons of the bureau is recognized as valid in Mexico, according to Friedman. California courts already have ruled that similar decrees obtained in Yucatan are invalid. Mrs. Wylie returned here last spring of Dr. Angelo Crespo, who sold decrees for $100 cash and $200 on a Mexican divorce coming trial on a charge of perjury, jumped bail and fled to Central America.

DIVORCE MILL DENIED

Declaring that the business she conducted was in any sense a divorce mill, Mrs. Wylie at her home yesterday denied that the Mexican decrees were less what its name implied, that its function was merely uninformed Americans expert advice regarding divorce at a nominal price. She was arrested on a technical charge pending investigation of the matter, declaring that there is nothing illegal or out-of-the-way about her business," she declared.

Both Mr. Grace and I believed in the Mexican divorce when we were employed in the office of a steamship line in Yucatan. There we met hundreds of Americans come to Mexico who were absolutely ignorant of the Mexican laws. We believed we were of service to them by obtained decrees for Los Angeles men and women. Grace is said to have been one of the operators, and is an attorney, living in Ensenada.

Hogarth's painting, "The Rake's Progress" was recalled yesterday in Judge Summerfield's court when Mrs. Florence Calhoun presented a similar portrait of her husband, Louis Calhoun, to back up her demand for temporary alimony pending her divorce suit.

"He started gambling, Your Honor," said Mrs. Calhoun. "Then he took to drinking. Then the first thing I knew he was running around with a girl named Pat Miller. And then he passed a bad check and got sent to the county road camp. I waited till he got out and then sued him."

Calhoun was not present to deny he had that much so Judge Summerfield awarded Mrs. Calhoun $10 a week. Her attorney is A. P. G. Steffes.

RAPPAPORT SENTENCED TO PRISON

Former Lawyer Appeals When Given Term of Three to Thirty Years

Though he announced to the court before sentence that he was "broken in health and finances, and considered this court one of last resort," Max Rappaport, formerly an attorney, yesterday filed notice of appeal when Judge Reeve declared he must spend three to thirty years in prison. Rappaport was recently convicted on three counts of embezzlement in connection with the asserted looting of Rosecrest Farms, Inc.

In sentencing him Judge Reeve declared Rappaport had given three differing versions of the Rosecrest Farms dealings, one before the bar association, one before the grand jury and one in court.

"Perjury is one of the worst of offenses, particularly for an attorney who is sworn to uphold the law in every respect," said Judge Reeve.

Rappaport was accompanied to court by his wife. He told Judge Reeve he had no money with which to prosecute an appeal, and was so ill that he undoubtedly would die in prison if sent there. When the appeal was filed Judge Reeve said he will require $25,000 bail for Rappaport's release.

Senator Shortridge Explains Santa Barbara County Project to Save Bathing-Beach Site

Steps to provide Santa Barbara county with a public playground and bathing beach on the coast off Goleta, a few miles northwest of Santa Barbara, were taken yesterday by Senator Shortridge after a conference last week with the Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors and the local farm bureau.

The project was explained by the Senator upon his arrival at the Biltmore yesterday on private business and to be present at the banquet of the Los Angeles Builders' Exchange, which will take place at the Biltmore this evening.

IDEAL BEACH SPOT

"The tract which it is proposed to open up as a public beach and playground is known as the Goleta Sand Spit," said Senator Shortridge. "It forms a sort of peninsula and, due to the tranquillity of its waters, it is an ideal bathing place.

"The tract is still government land and, last January, at the instance of Santa Barbara interests who desire to subdivide and sell this land, President Coolidge signed an order withdrawing the land from the jurisdiction of the Interior Department preliminary to its sale to private individuals.

"Opposition to this disposition of the land was entered by the Santa Barbara County Farm Bureau and other interests, and at their invitation I visited the tract last Friday and looked over the situation. I have addressed a communication to Secretary Work of the Interior Department, asking that the matter be held in abeyance until July 1, 1926.

TO TAKE ACTION

"In the meantime I shall ask for a recision of the withdrawal order and seek legislation whereby this sand spit may be sold or leased to Santa Barbara county to be held and maintained as a recreation camping ground free to the public.

"In my opinion, this ground should not be allowed to pass into private ownership for speculative purposes but should be used for the benefit of the public. I have not as yet heard from Secretary Work, but expect to receive his reply by wire in a day or two."

Arthur M. Loomis also will talk. The dinner will start at 6 p.m. with the business session scheduled for 7 p.m.

Police Enlisted in Search for Missing Youth

Raymond W. Reid

The youth, a senior at the South Pasadena High School, and one of the most brilliant students of the school, disappeared from home while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Reid, were away. Friends of the boy stated that they had not seen him and were unable to explain his absence. He had but little money with him at the time he vanished, according to his father.

He was described as five feet four and a half inches in height, with a fair complexion and brown, wavy hair, parted at the side. At the time he disappeared he wore a blue serge suit, blue broadcloth shirt, tan oxfords, a soft gray hat and possibly a pair of shell-rimmed glasses.

The missing youth speaks Spanish fluently, his father stated.

Reduction of Bail Denied in Narcotic Case

United States District Judge Henning yesterday denied a plea for reduction of bail of $20,000, under which George Smith, negro, asserted king of Central avenue dope peddlers, is held on charges of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act. Smith was remanded to jail while his attorneys were trying to raise bail money.

At the time of Smith's arrest by Federal agents Thursday, he was at liberty in bail of $15,000 on two Harrison Act charges. United States Commissioner Turney held him to answer Saturday, and set his bail on the new charge at $20,000.

Failing in their efforts to obtain reduction of the bail, Smith's attorney obtained a continuance to Thursday for a plea.

MONOPOLY BY WIFE DENIED BY HUSBAND

"No woman has any right to a man all by herself," declared Hardy G. Koen, according to his wife, Essie D. Koen, who was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Gates. Mrs. Koen, who is a school teacher in Eagle Rock, said her husband thus justified himself when she accused him of philandering with other women.

It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—ending an old-time embarrassment.

It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense.

You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

8 in every 10 women in the better walks of life have adopted it. Which proves its benefits.

It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

KOTEX

PROTECTS—DEODORIZES

1 Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorized.

2 No laundry. Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.

3 Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped—help yourself, pay the clerk, that is all.

DISREGARD FOR LAW ASSAILED

Constitution is Theme of Women's Club Speakers

Impassioned Plea Made for Observance of Rules

Native-Born Given Blame for Peril to Nation

BY MYRA NYE

A judge in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county fined a convicted bootlegger $500 one week. The next week at his gun club the judge entertained the bootlegger as his guest and served him as many cocktails as he cared for, saying they were made with gin from his own cellar stock accumulated in the last two years from bootleggers.

These statements made by Mrs. George M. Clark, member of the Board of Education of Los Angeles, yesterday, prefaced an address at the first session of the season of the Woman's City Club on "Teaching the Constitution and American Principles in Our Schools." The address was a part of an entire day's theme marking the beginning of Constitution Week: "The Constitution of the United States of America."

Other speakers were Mrs. Edward Winn, chairman of municipal citizenship, who was also chairman of the program; Mrs. W. W. Stilson, who reviewed the history of the Constitution and Dr. George H. Rice, who spoke at the more formal session of the afternoon with Mrs. J. T. Anderson presiding.

"I saw the fine of $500 pass from one hand to another. I knew of the serving of gin from one of the guests," said Mrs. Clark. This is not an unusual thing. But how hard it makes it to teach the youngsters in our schools respect and honor for law and the Constitution when they are so flagrantly disregarded by those of influence and power?

"I will recognize no law that interferes with my happiness. I will park when and where I want to. I will travel as fast as I like wherever I like." Mrs. Clark challenged this universal statement by asking. "Do you think it is the foreign born, the ignorant or even the criminal who is assuming this attitude? No, it is the native born, the college graduate and even the churchman.

"How can we hope for the sacredness of our Constitution if this spirit of lawlessness is allowed to prevail among adults. It would seem as though some horrible peril were imminent, that we must go through some crucifying experience as a nation before we awaken to the realization of the example we are setting our children."

Mrs. Winn, in an impassioned plea for preserving the integrity of the Constitution, said: "Do not think that there is no danger. Only last week as I was walking through Pershing Square I heard these words: 'The Constitution protects the rich and powerful. It makes slaves of the wage earners. Down with the Constitution.'"

Illustrating by fact the false position of this soap-box orator, Mrs. Winn told of a train load of immigrants who came from New York to Minnesota.

"Few of them could even ask for a drink of water in English," she said. "Their sole possessions were in their pockets and in small bundles tied in red handkerchiefs. Today they and their children are merchants, rich farmers. Some of them have gone to Congress and two of them have been Senators. Is there any other land under the shining sun where this could be true?"

In this connection Mrs. Stilson said that it is true a few wise men objected at first to signing the Constitution, saying it provided only for those already in power, and she quoted the reply of George Washington, chairman of the committee in the Constitution. "The amendments that will be added," he said, "will correct this seeming fault."

"And history has borne out his statement," said Mrs. Stilson. "But of over 2000 amendments proposed, only nineteen have been ratified. This reluctance to add too many amendments is another safeguard to the Constitution," she added.

The next session, Monday of next week, will be in charge of the committee on international relations. Dr. Glenn Levitt Swigett will be the speaker on "Our Relations With Mexico," having just returned from a visit to the southern republic.

FORMER AUTO RACER LOSES GUNS TO THIEVES

Harlan Fengler, former board speedway race driver and now owner of a Hollywood garage, reported to detectives of the Hollywood police division yesterday that a thief had entered his home and carried off clothing and other valuables worth $700. The burglar, who jimmied a side window in affecting entrance to the house, took two rifles, an automatic pistol and a shot gun, Fengler informed Detective Lieutenant Everett Hack. The former racer lives at 1122 South Wall street.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

COMMON EYE TROUBLE

STYE (HORDEOLUM)

Styes are due to an infection of the oil glands at the root of the eye lashes. Usually there is something that has lowered the resistance so that the pus germs causing the infection have gained a foothold. Those subject to styes should go to an oculist to see if glasses are needed, and should have a general health examination. The health should be built up to par and kept there. That means, of course, correct diet, sufficient sleep, exercise, fresh air and a proper mental attitude.

LOCAL TREATMENT

When you first feel the sting in the eyelids, pull out the eyelash that seems at the point of the greatest sting and massage the spot with a clean finger. Sometimes this massage is effective in aborting a stye because it opens up the hair follicles, ousting some of the germs, and bringing more blood with its protective forces there. (It was undoubtedly the message that gave rise to the old superstition that rubbing with a wedding ring was good.) Yellow oxide of mercury, 1 per cent, which can be bought in little tubes at any drug store, can be massaged in at night. The eye wash (given later) can also be used once or twice a day. If the stye gets a good start you can't abort it. For this, use hot compresses as often as possible until it comes to a head. Don't squeeze it until it is thoroughly "ripe" and then gently. If it is very bad, it may be better to have it lanced. Keep up the eye wash treatment and a tiny bit of the ointment for two weeks or so to prevent another from forming.

PINK EYE

"Pink eye" is a very contagious form of inflammation of the conjunctiva. (the delicate membrane that covers the eyeball and lines the eyelid.) This disease is known technically as acute epidemic conjunctivitis.

It is caused by a germ known as Kocha-Weeks bacillus, or the pneumococcus germ. The eyelids become swollen and red and there is a profuse mucus-like discharge, which may go on to a pus-like discharge. The secretion accumulates during the night and dries on the edges of the lids during sleep and the lids itch and smart. As pink eye is very contagious, all precautions should be taken that the secretions are not transferred to others.

May, in his text-book on the eye, states that ice compresses should be applied for from fifteen minutes to one hour, three times a day, and the eye should be irrigated several times with the following wash, which he says is superior to the ordinary boric acid wash:

EYE WASH

Take a moderately heaped teaspoonful each of bicarbonate of soda (ordinary baking soda,) borax and table salt; dissolve in a quart of boiled water; add a full tablespoonful of glycerine and filter. (You can filter by pouring solution through a cotton-stuffed funnel.)

This wash is good for washing the eyes after exposure to the wind and dust, after automobiling or golfing and is much to be preferred to the various eye washes that are sold in drug stores and which may contain ingredients that may injure the eye after continuous and prolonged use.

GRANULAR EYE LIDS

True, granular eye lids is a very serious disease known as Trachoma. It is very contagious and is very common in Russia, Poland, Hungary, Italy and the Orient. It is often called the Egyptian Ophthalmia because so many of the Egyptians are thus afflicted. In America it is common among the foreign population. It is not uncommon among the native Americans, especially in some parts of the Middle West.

Trachoma is passed on from one to another by the secretion which comes from the inflammation. Towels, handkerchifs, fingers, et cetera, all act as transfer agents. The more profuse the discharge the greater is the danger of infection.

According to May, the cause of Trachoma has not been isolated. It is uncertain whether it is caused by bacteria (microscopic plant life) or protozoa (microscopic animal life.) There is much that can be done for the disease if it is treated early by an eye specialist, but it is not a case for home treatment.

REALTY MAN HELD GUILTY OF SWINDLE

Convicted on Charge of Keeping Money Given by Widow for Lease

H. L. Deaton, a real estate operator, was convicted in Judge Crail's court yesterday of charges of embezzlement of cash and bonds totaling $7500 given to his care by Mrs. Suda G. Homan, an aged widow. He will be sentenced Thursday.

According to the charges, Mrs. Homan had Deaton draw up a proposed lease on an apartment-house at Twenty-seventh street and Budiong avenue and turned over $2500 in cash and $5000 in bonds of the Cleveland Discount Company, to pay for the lease. The lease was drawn up but, according to testimony of Hyman Alpert, owner of the apartment-house, it was not satisfactory and the deal was not completed. Deaton, notwithstanding the failure of the deal, did not return the lease money to Mrs. Homan, it was asserted.

The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan.

TITO SCHIPA ARRIVES FOR OPERA ROLE

Tenor Goes on to Bay City After Establishing His Family Here

Tito Schipa, grand opera tenor, who conquered the city last year with the Los Angeles Opera Company and will return for more conquests in October with the California Opera Company, stopped in town on his way to San Francisco yesterday. He tarried just long enough to have his picture taken a few dozen times, greet his little brother, Carlo, who is making enogh to have the family name shine in pictures, and deposit his beautiful titian-haired wife and baby daughter in a Los Angeles bungalow to await his return to open the opera at the Olympic in October.

Tito Schipa

Mrs. Schipa declares her preference for Los Angeles without hesitation and says that in view of the fact that she gains a pound a day here, she never wishes to leave. Unlike the modern American wife, Mrs. Schipa does not want a career of her own and says frankly that she does not play or sing a note, but is a terrible critic.

Schipa came here directly from Ravinia Park, Chicago, where he sang fifteen performances. He will sing "Manon" and "Barber of Seville," here.

Nothing seems to disturb the Schipa good-nature, not even long journeys from Chicago to the Coast interrupted only by newspaper men and photographers.

SYNAGOGUE READY FOR HOLY DAYS

Sinai Congregation Will Conduct Services in New Fourth-Street Building

Members of Sinai Congregation, the largest conservative Jewish temple in Southern California, will conduct services during the High Holy days in their newly-built synagogue at Fourth street and New Hampshire avenue, according to announcement made yesterday by Dr. Mayer Winkler, rabbi of the congregation.

"The new synagogue, with its auditorium capable of seating 1500 persons, and its educational facilities for social, intellectual and spiritual purposes, will fill a long-felt need for followers of traditional Judaism," said Dr. Winkler.

The synagogue will also have a magnificent social hall, one of the finest of its kind on the Pacific Coast, with arrangements for drama and dancing, a dining-room unique in appointments and decorations, and schoolrooms to adequately accommodate 500 children. There also will be provision for motion pictures. The corner-stone for the synagogue was laid last April.

De Mille Mare Takes Prizes at Two Fairs

While the name De Mille is most usually spoken of in connection with motion pictures and motion-picture production, it has recently attained fame in the realm of horsemanship.

Golden Lady, a mare owned by Cecilia De Mille, daughter of Cecil De Mille, has won blue ribbons, cups and prizes at the Stockton (Cal.) Horse Show and the Sacramento (Cal.) State Fair.

Golden Lady won the California Diamond Jubilee $1000 stake at Sacramento and the Chase Virden $500 stake for three-gaited horses. Golden Lady also won the Stockton State prize and the $1000 Hotel Whitcomb stake for three-gaited horses at Stockton. In addition to this Golden Lady shared the first prize with Satinette in the three-gaited pair chase.

LINCOLN HIGH TO TEACH UPHOLSTERY

Lincoln High School enjoys the distinction of being the first high school in California to offer furniture upholstery as a vocational subject. Under the direction of Alexander MacKenzie, pupils are taught how to make upholstered chairs, sofas, davenports and all kinds of overstuffed and show-wood furniture. Pupils have the privilege of purchasing the articles made, thus becoming the owners of good furniture for the cost of the materials, while at the same time learning a well-paid trade. The course is also given on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

MURDER TALE PROVES MYTH

Gibboney Admits He Did Not Kill Button

Was in Taft Night of Crime, Police Declare

Weary of Life and Feared Suicide, He Explains

Six years of effort to fasten upon himself a crime he had not committed collapsed in an instant late yesterday afternoon and now the State of California will not oblige Harry W. Gibboney by hanging him by the neck until dead. For Gibboney, after sticking stubbornly since Wednesday to his story of the murder of Night Watchman Claude L. Button eleven years ago, broke down and cried that his tale was all a myth.

Gibboney had wanted to die and it was his intention to have the State perform the action which he was too proud—or, perhaps, too timid—to perform himself. Last night Gibboney, a nervous old man at 51, thought the State might still do something for him by giving him work with a road gang. But it is likely that today the City Jail doors will open for him and he will be out again in a world of which he is weary, with the problem of his existence still on his own hands.

ALIBI ESTABLISHED

Since last Wednesday, when he gave himself up to police, Gibboney stood unwaveringly by his confession of the night watchman's murder. Eleven years ago, he declared, he had killed Button in a dispute over a $35 baseball pool. It had preyed on his mind and now he wanted to take his medicine. Five hours' continuous interrogation by acting District-Attorney Fitts and his assistants failed to shake the story.

The end came late yesterday afternoon in the office of Harold Davis, chief of the homicide bureau of the District Attorney's office. Assisting Davis in the grilling were Detectives Winn and King of the District Attorney's staff and Detective Lieutenants Dryden and Stevens.

Again and again Gibboney declared he was a murderer. Then—

"Button was killed on the night of July 31, 1914," he was told. "Detectives Winn and King have established the fact that you were that night in Taft, Cal."

Gibboney broke. He gave way to hysterical tears, sobbing out the truth of a story he had labored for six years to create.

STORY A MYTH

"My murder confession was all a myth," he cried. "I just wanted to die, that's all. For six years, ever since my wife left me, I've wanted to die. Several times I planned to make away with myself, but I couldn't go through with it. I was too proud to go out that way. I saw that my only chance was for the State to do what I couldn't."

Bit by bit the story of the last six years of Gibboney's life came out. During those six years, as far as any practical purpose was concerned, Gibboney was out of the world—he so abhorred. For he lived in a world of the imagination alone, a world overshadowed by one tremendous obsession.

During those years death and disappearance occupied all his thoughts. Sometimes he planned to get himself hanged for the murder of Button, whom he had known when both were employees of the California National Supply Company. Sometimes he simply planned to go away where no one would know him.

VISITED WAREHOUSE

Once, at Signal Hill, he gave a farewell banquet to relatives. He said he was going to Trieste. But he did not go. Two months ago he rented a car and abandoned it. He got the idea that he had disappeared. But for some reason or other he never was able to drop out of sight.

He had worked intermittently at the task of taking Button's murder upon himself. Twice he made trips to the warehouse at 1516 Mozart street where the watchman had been slain and carelessly asked questions about the crime. His last trip had been about the time he abandoned the car.

Occupied only by his mental schemings he drifted from job to job and at last to destitution. He had been compelled to give up his room in a downtown hotel a few days ago. It was then, he thought, he might as well go through with his confession and have the State remove him from a world which held only misery for him.

MEMORIZED DETAILS

He was worried, too, he said, about the family from which he has been separated. He intimated he had been trying to contribute toward the support of his 17-year-old daughter, who lives with her mother at Santa Monica. His wife, he said, had left him six years ago and three years ago had divorced him. Once, it appeared, she had caused his arrest for failing to help support the girl.

Gibboney had memorized the details of the murder in thorough fashion. Only the Taft alibi established by the detectives and an error in saying he had found his weapons on the second floor, whereas the stake with which Button's skull had been crushed had been taken from a railing on the first, tripped him up at the last.

The District Attorney's office decided to keep Gibboney in custody overnight while attending to the fag ends of the case. Officials are at a loss as to just what might be done for him. Vehemently, in the course of his examination, he insisted that he was sane. He merely wanted to die and he wanted the State to kill him. Now, he thinks, work with a road gang might give him something to occupy his body and mind. Six years of effort to appropriate a crime have crumbled into dust. He doesn't want to go back to life, emptier now than ever with nothing to scheme for, alone, without ambition and without funds.

STEPPING OUT OF YESTERDAY

Edith was two years the younger—well say forty-three. But her hair was graying and still dressed in the 1905 style. Florence—well, Florence was bobbed and everything that goes with it.

So by-and-by Florence was gazing quizzically at "dear old Edith," still looking so like yesterday.

"Your gown's all right—nice little ensemble. Your hat would be good if it went down farther on your head," mused Florence. "I wonder what it is?"

IS IT BOBBED HAIR?

"What what is?" laughed Edith. "Oh, I know what you mean. I look forty-three and then some, while you look younger than you did when you were married. Does bobbed hair do all that?"

"No, surely not. There's something else. Ah, I have it. Why, you blessed dear, you have on black stockings. Black stockings . . . dear heart, we haven't worn black stockings for ages," grianed Florence. "That is one thing you have at least five years of yesterday adorning your legs."

Florence fetched a pair of the new pinky tans and made Edith put them on. "Bravo. Now we have you down to 38," beamed Florence.

"But aren't they a little flashy on me?" gasped Edith anxiously. "Dear me, I feel dreadfully leggy."

Edith took out her handkerchief. "Oh, shade of our maiden aunt!" laughed Florence. "If the dear isn't still using a white handkerchief with a real lace edging!"

"What's the matter with it? This is the third handkerchief that lace has been on," said Edith proudly.

"I believe you. But, darling, darling, we have not used lace-edged white handkerchiefs since

GABBERT TO FIGHT FAKE REALTY MEN

New State Commissioner Asks Board Aid in Keeping Dishonest Men from State

Vigorous action against dishonest real estate men throughout California was promised by J. R. Gabbert, newly appointed State Real Estate Commissioner, in an address yesterday noon at a luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Realty Board at the Biltmore Hotel. Mr. Gabbert also announced that headquarters of his department would be maintained in Los Angeles, instead of at Sacramento.

More care by examining board in passing upon applications for real estate licenses without sufficient knowledge of the applicant's fitness for the business was urged by Mr. Gabbert. "It is much easier to keep incompetent and dishonest men out of the profession than to get them out once they get in," he said. "It shall be my policy to see that the real estate business is conducted upon a high plane and I ask the co-operation of all reputably realty organizations such as the Los Angeles Realty Board."

Other speakers included William May Garland, who made a plea for added support to the Santa Barbara Relief Fund. Mr. Garland urged those who already had given to give again.

Harry J. Culver, first vice-president of the Realty Board, who recently returned from a European tour, reviewed his trip, and Mason Case, chairman of a committee in charge of an outing to be held at Catalina Saturday and Sunday, told of the arrangements for the affair.

The meeting was presided over by President C. C. C. Tatum and was attended by more than 300 realty board members.

LEASE FOR NEW BEACH CLUB TAKEN

Deal Involves 220 Feet on Santa Monica Front for $2,422,500 Consideration

Almost $2,500,000 is involved in a ninety-nine-year lease on Santa Monica beach property, disclosed yesterday by A. L. Gore, secretary of West Coast Theaters, who announced that Gore Brothers, Sol Lesser and C. L. Langley had leased 220 feet frontage on Marine Terrace and Appian Way, facing the Pacific Ocean, to the Breakers Corporation. The erection on the property of a new beach club to be known as The Breakers is planned by the corporation. The final negotiations were completed yesterday afternoon.

The new club will be within half a block of the Edgewater Club and the Casa Del Mar Club.

The monetary consideration for the ninety-nine-year lease is $2,422,500. Work is to be begun at once, according to Lewis. Ground-breaking for an eight-story building, which will include 310 sleeping apartments, dining-room, grill, plunge, tunnel to ocean for bathers, gymnasium and all modern improvements is set for January 1, 1926.

The membership committee has established temporary headquarters in the Spring Arcade Building.

STATE BARRED TO BOY SLAYER

Judge Banishes Youth as Crime Punishment

Father Given Custody of Young Murderer

Juvenile Accused in Death of Six-Year-Old

Choosing banishment from the State forever in lieu of a probable additional sentence to a penal institution, Paul Daedler, 15 years of age, who was brought into Juvenile Court on a charge of murder in December, 1923, was ordered released to the custody of Judge Archbald, who dictated the boy is to be permanently removed from the State.

Daedler and William Forrester, who is now in the Preston State School, were accused of the brutal slaying, December 5, 1923, of Arthur Martinez, 6, in a deserted warehouse building in Pasadena. According to the authorities, the Martinez boy was bound with wires and then shot through the head by his asserted attackers. The child's body was found stuffed into a hole in the floor of the abandoned building.

Both Daedler and Forrester were accused of the murder, but after making an asserted confession of the crime, later repudiated their stories in Juvenile Court. The Court declared them both wards and committed Daedler to Whittier State School and Forrester to Preston.

Daedler was to have come before the court again when he arrived at the age of 16 for further determination of the case. The order securing the boy's release was obtained by Louis O. Daedler, father of the boy, who, it was stated, will take his son east to start life anew.

Film Star Must Pay for Damage to Rented Home

Ahmed Abdullah, widely known physical trainer, is entitled to $827 from William Russell, film star, for damage done his home while Russell was a tenant in it, Judge Jamison ruled yesterday.

Testimony in the proceedings was heard two weeks ago, the court taking the matter under advisement. Abdullah asked for damages, which, with interest, totaled $10,000.

STORK LEAVES DOUBLE ORDER AT ROSS HOME

Rugby Ross, Deputy County Clerk and son of the late Abner L. Ross, founder of the Rossiyn Hotel, was receiving congratulations yesterday on the arrival of twin daughters to his wife at the Alhambra Hospital. Mrs. Ross and the babies were reported doing well last night. Ross is clerk in Judge McLucas's department of Superior Court. The Rosses reside at 808 Robinson street, Hollywood.

TEN FOR ONE FRAUD CASE TRIAL TODAY

Hennessey and Hibbs to Face Court After Delays In Rail "Merger"

After several continuances, the trial of Thomas Hennessey and Harry D. Hibbs in the famous "ten for one" railroad merger case, will open in Judge Hahn's court today.

Hennessey and Hibbs are said to have secured more than $500,000 from local men of means for use in preliminary arrangements for a giant railroad merger, which, they are accused of promising, should return $10 for every dollar invested.

The delays have been due to Defense Attorney Paul Schenck's appearance in another case which has now been concluded. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Hamner and Fricke will prosecute.

Sentencing of "Barber Bert" Held Up Week

Upon request of his attorney sentencing Bert Bursterna, known as "Bert the Barber," on a charge of operating a nuisance at the Sorrento Club, 1348 West Sixth street, was postponed yesterday for a week by Federal Judge Henning to permit arguments on motion for a new trial.

Bursterna was convicted last week, and Joe Santenielli, lessee of the premises where, early this year "Farmer" Page shot and killed Al Joseph, will go to trial next month on the same charge.

Thomas P. White, attorney for Bursterna, filed motion for a new trial with Judge Henning, but asked and was granted the privilege of withdrawing the appeal papers before arguments are scheduled to be heard.

LABOR SUIT ENDED AS CHORUS GIRLS GET JOB

The case of five young chorus girls against the Roy Rogers Musical Comedy Company now playing a vaudeville engagement was dismissed yesterday at a hearing before Deputy Labor Commissioner Barker, when the girls announced they had signed contracts to stay in Los Angeles and no longer want their fares paid to their homes in Philadelphia. The case originally came to the attention of the State Bureau of Labor several days ago when the girls, Marion Bornmann, 16 years of age; Mildred Bornmann, 17; Cecelia Greer, 20; Marjie Brinkley, 19, and Ruth Framme, appeared at the local offices and filed a complaint. Rogers said the act is owned by David R. Zablosky of Philadelphia, and that he is only the manager. He declared the question of misrepresentation of salaries as the girls charged was a mistake.

US HOUSEKEEPERS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

All sorts of people like to make rude remarks about us modern housekeepers.

Really, to listen to them, one might suppose it was no use building homes any more, because there aren't any nice wives and mothers left to run them.

Or nice aunties or sisters or daughters or anything.

But maybe we just don't brag about it as much as we used to. Anyway there seems to be a lot of housekeeping going on in this town—and it isn't all being done by grandma either.

In fact, grandma has learned a trick worth two of that. It is grandma who belongs to the clubs and the D.A.R. and the Colonial Dames and the United Daughters of the Confederacy and all those jolly things that show how well born she was and what a nice family she came from . . . And who mostly has a nice daughter or daughter-in-law at home to do all the pesky housekeeping.

If you hear any grandmas remarking sighfully that housekeeping is a lost art, it is ten to one it's grandma who has lost it.

Why, bless you, we women still have such a passion for housekeeping and are so superbly proficient in it (Yes, we are, so there) that even when we blossom out into careers, we nearly break our necks and our hearts insisting upon doing the housekeeping as well.

Lost art, indeed! Why, it is the most progressive and lively art extant. Twice as easy—and twice as hard as it used to be, too.

Easier ways of doing things—nifty little inventions and all that—but hedged about with all sorts of fancy palaver and paraphernalia, the like of which grandma never dreamed of.

What we consider a plain, ordinary home meal today, for instance, would have been considered a stylish banquet when grandma kept house. And what we consider a nice modest home today—the sort we almost feel we ought to apologize for, would certainly have been considered a stylish residence in days gone by.

And in grandma's day help was cheap, plentiful and meek. Say, what the help used to stand for! I have my own ideas about just how competent grandma's housekeeping would have been in those good old days if help had been—well, as uppishly helpish as it is nowadays.

We modern housekeepers are largely our own help—and I insist we compare favorably with the highest-priced help that's going—and manage to be club women, society ladies, welfare workers, business women and goodness knows what besides.

I can really rather find it in my heart to wish that modern women were inferior housekeepers. Then I might have a chance to shine. I could stand out as a superior exception. But for the life of me I can't seem to find a home that isn't run better than my own—and I vow mine is quite as well run as most grandmas' homes were, at that.

I am prepared to admit that we modern housekeepers get a good deal of inspiration from masculine brains and big business. The dear men are always thinking up new ideas for us and publishing them lavishly. But then it is because we are such fine, progressive housekeepers that they are inspired to inspire us, as it were.

Just read the advertisements on this page, for instance. Would they take all that sumptuous interest in us and our labors, if we weren't bright and responsive? You bet they wouldn't—it wouldn't pay 'em to.

Yet every week on Tuesday this page simply bristles with happy suggestions, and confident appeals to our recognized housewifely virtues and tastes. And they know we know . . . they don't talk to us like poor, inefficient ignoramuses, whose homes are just hit-or-miss affairs, but as housekeepers in good standing, who can't be bulldozed.

I kind of like it myself—even if my conscience does prick once in a way and the compliment seems a bit stretched.

Anyway, that's a pretty good way to encourage us to be even better housekeepers than we are. Nagging us and telling us we are not as good as grandma used to be is apt to be sort of discouraging . . . and we don't believe a word of it, anyway—'cos we know grandma.

Eastern Star Show Boosters to Open Drive

An intensive campaign to make the Eastern Star Fashion and Home Exposition, scheduled for the Ambassador Auditorium October 5 to 10, inclusive, the greatest affair of its kind in the Southland, will be launched at a boosters' banquet at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Odd Fellows' Hall, Washington and Oak streets. More than 500 active workers are expected to assemble.

Warren Williams, fomer judge, will deliver the principal address, and officials of the Eastern Star, including Maude Dezell Bradley, Past Worthy Grand Matron of California and director-in-chief of the exposition; Connie V. Adair, president of the 1925 Matrons' Association of Southern California; Russell Bresse La Fontaine, Worthy Grand Patron of California, are scheduled to explain the plans for the function. William Osterholt, superintendent of the county constabulary, also will appear.

The commercial and industrial firms of the Southland are coloperating to the fullest extent in aiding officials in the plans for the exposition, material support having been given by the Star Piano Company, the Fitzgerald Music Company, the Western Electric Company, the Los Angeles Show Print Company, the Electrical Products Corporation, the Postage Meter Company, the Pacific Desk Company, the Los Angeles Desk Company, the California Desk Company and the Burroughs Adding Machine Company and others.

Benz Sentenced for Driving Car into Churchmen

George A. Benz, who pleaded guilty to driving an automobile through a crowd near Angelus Temple, injuring several, last January, was denied probation on a charge of driving while intoxicated yesterday by Judge Keetch, and was sentenced to a year in the County Jail. Several persons, members of the congregation of Aimee Semple McPherson's Church of the Four Square Gospel, were injured, but all recovered.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Works argued against extending probation to Benz. The injured persons appeared to testify against or in favor of granting probation to the youth, although they did not press charges against him.

PAVING BRINGS JOY

Southwest District Plans Six-Day Street Carnival

Civic organizations and business men of the Southwest district are planning a celebration to mark the paving of Vermont avenue from Manchester avenue to Gardena and the completion of the $3,000,000 southwest storm drain, it was announced yesterday by H. W. Bohrman, secretary of the Greater Vermont Avenue Improvement Association. Both projects are rapidly nearly completion.

Plans include a six-day street celebration, sponsored by the Southwest Athletic Association, October 12 to 17. On the night of October 15 the Improvement Association will conduct a banquet at Gardena in the Community Hall, which will be attended by city and county officials and representatives of civic and business organizations from Los Angeles Harbor to San Fernando Valley.

COURSE IN SCREEN TECHNIQUE OFFERED

A twelve-week course in screen technique will be given under the auspices of the University of Southern California, at metropolitan college, in the Transportation Building. Under the personal direction of Delmar J. Edmondson, theatrical editor of California Sports, this course will not only include instruction in continuity writing and practical training for literary work in motion pictures, but also will compare the technique of screen plays with stage plays, and exercises will be given in original screen criticism, adaptation and development. A course in short-story writing also is to be given during the fall quarter at metropolitan college, to meet on Monday nights for a twelve-week period under the direction of Lynn Clark.

BUILDERS ON STUDY TOUR TO SEE CITY

Forty Municipalities Will be Visited in Survey of Industry

A nation-wide examination of the building industry by itself will begin within thirty days, it is announced. Five groups of builders will visit forty cities and meet for a summarizing conference at Dallas, Tex., October 5, 7 and 8. The group which will study Los Angeles conditions starts from Chicago and visits Denver, Salt Lake City, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and El Paso en route.

Ethical practices in private construction work will be one of the matters to be studied. It is planned to eliminate certain financing methods, it was said, which result in fictitious building costs being presented to the public as an excuse for high rents. Waste of public funds by governmental units handling operations without competitive contracts will be studied also, it was announced.

out of a closet and attacked her. Mrs. Parks said she had called Mrs. Turner to her home to repay a loan; that the meeting of the two women, who had become enemies, was accidental and that the fight resulted from Mrs. Turner slapping Mrs. Day in the face.

Mrs. Turner's screams attracted Police Officer A. W. Hamilton, at whose home she lives, and he rescued her, but not until after her eye was blackened. She complained to authorities and Investigator Stockland issued the call for the parley today.

Friends of Mrs. Day, whose husband is a policeman, said they fear that if the battle goes to court all the glory of her victory may be lost in a revocation of the suspended jail sentence, and so, heavy, heavy hangs over her head and a treaty this morning may come instead of further war.

POLICE SEEK ACTOR ON ATTACK CHARGE

Police are looking for Mi Stanton, film "heavy," charged with attacking Mrs. Peggy Rathburn, on a bench warrant issued yesterday when he failed to appear for trial in Judge Kosteh's court. Bail was set at $1000. Mrs. Rathburn, whose address is the Biltmore Apartments, charged that Stanton had attacked her after promising to help her get into motion pictures. Stanton has denied her story.

THOMPSON TO SIT AT IMPERIAL

Judges Shifted Because of Bitter Feeling Over Cases in Valley

Because of bitter political controversy in Imperial County, Judge Thompson of the Los Angeles County Superior Court is sitting in El Centro this week and Judge Cole of Imperial county is hearing Judge Thompson's calendar in Los Angeles.

The two cases to be heard by Judge Thompson, around which most of the political turmoil centers, are the proceedings for the recall of the Imperial County Supervisors and accusations against four members of the irrigation district commission.

Recall petitions against the Supervisors have been circulated, and Judge Thompson will hear a petition for an injunction restraining the County Clerk from certifying that the petitions are sufficient. In the case against the irrigation commissioners he will rule on demurrers to charges that public funds have been misappropriated.

Feeling over the political situation has run so high that the two Imperial county judges felt they were disqualified, and it was for that reason the exchange was effected.

AMERICA'S FIRE BILL GROWING

Loss from That Source Last Year $1044 a Minute; Outlook Dark

America's bill for fire waste last year was $1044 a minute, an annual loss of $548,000,000, exceeding all previous high records, according to figures compiled by the actuarial bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, quoted in a bulletin issued by the insurance department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The total amount of property destroyed during the year was equivalent to more than half the annual interest on the national debt.

The total amount of fire loss in Los Angeles during 1924 was $1,792,615, compared with a total of $2326,-733 in the previous year.

"Although the fire losses of the United States continue to mount," says the bulletin, "it is not necessarily an indication that they cannot be reduced."

ARTISTS OF NOTE WILL AID DRIVE

Famed Stars Will Appear on Olympic Program for Santa Barbara Benefit

With Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink presenting two groups of her best songs, John Barrymore appearing in costume in his finest scene from Hamlet, and other world-famous stars on the bill, this Thursday evening at the Olympic Auditorium promises to be one of the greatest in the annals of Los Angeles entertainment.

The celebrated artists are appearing at this benefit performance in aid of the Santa Barbara Mission. Tickets are on sale at the Birkel Music Company and the Olympic Auditorium.

The following artists will appear: Mme. Schumann-Heink, with Miss Eleanor Scheib, accompanist; John Barrymore; Miss Frances White, Orpheum headliner, in popular songs; Miss Marjorie Dodge, internationally known soprano; Gillman Williams, baritone with Madeline Heineman, accompanist; Miss Lina Basquette, former Follies star, in entrancing dances; the California Grand Opera Chorus of ninety under the direction of Alexander Bevani; Rin-Tin-Tin with Lee Duncan, his trainer; the Cocoanut Grove Orchestra, under the direction of Ray West; Senora Alma Real, Mexican prima donna, and her Mexican orchestra under the direction of Jose Arias; Valerie and Serinoff, acrobatic dancers; Roderic White, violinist; Miss Natalie Kingston, in one of her striking dances. Master of ceremonies and announcers are Monte Blue, Bert Lytell and Syd Chaplin. Many of the leading motion-picture stars will make personal appearances.

Tickets will be $3, $1.50 and $1, reserved, with $000 unrestricted seats at 50 cents.

Two Bids for Air Mail Contracts Received Here

Though more than a dozen applicationcs for bids were taken out here by individuals and organizations interested in the air mail contracts between Los Angeles and Salt Lake and between Los Angeles and Seattle, only two actual bids were received by Postmaster O'Brien, it was learned yesterday.

More may have been sent direct to Washington, and if so they will be opened today by Postmaster-General New in company with those forwarded by Postmaster O'Brien.

Operation of air mail service between Salt Lake and Los Angeles will link the Queen City of the Pacific Coast and eastern cities with mail service many hours faster than available heretofore by sending the mail to San Francisco by train and then east by regular means.

A far greater saving of time is made by establishment of the Los Angeles-Seattle air line, and it will mark an era of fast business exchange on the western coast.

SANBORN TO START NEW WORK TODAY

Assistant Superintendent of Playgrounds Will be in Charge of Athletics

Maj. Henry R. Sanborn, who was recently appointed assistant superintendent of municipal playgrounds, will assume his new duties today, according to announcement made yesterday by Charles S. Lamb, secretary of the Playground Commission.

Maj. Sanborn will have charge of all recreation and athletic activities of his department and already has made elaborate preparations for the carrying out of the commission's plans to place Los Angeles among the leading cities of America in playground and recreational activities.

During the World War Maj. Sanborn saw service with the Canadians and later with the American Expeditionary Forces, where he obtained the rank of major and was chief of staff for Brig.-Gen. John J. Bradley.

Following the armistice he studied for the ministry, and from 1921 to 1923 served as chaplain at the submarine base at San Pedro. During this period he was in charge of all athletics. He also served as chaplain on board the U.S.S. New York and in addition directed the athletic activities of the crew.

He resigned from the Navy during 1924 and accepted the pastorate of the Church of the Good Shepherd, corner of Fifty-first street and Vermont avenue. Retiring from that position during June, last, Maj. Sanborn again took up his favorite work of directing athletics, being associated with the Boy Scout movement in Los Angeles.

One of Maj. Sanborn's first moves as assistant superintendent of playgrounds will be to prepare for a score of Halloween celebrations, to be conducted at different municipal recreation centers.

VETERAN CATTLEMAN CITED FOR CONTEMPT

John Foley, veteran cattleman of the Tehachapi range, yesterday was cited before United States District Judge Henning for contempt. He was found guilty and will be sentenced next Monday. In March, 1924, Foley was ordered by Judge Bledsoe to obtain a permit before sending cattle through the Santa Barbara National Forest from one of his ranges to another, but refused to do so, according to the charge against him. Foley, whose address is Gorman, had nothing to say in court.

ENGLISH FRUIT MARKET FIRM

Increased Exports Seen for Californian Crop

Depression Fails to Halt Popular Demand

Points Out Limitations of British Field

California fruit growers may still rely on Great Britain as an important market for their products, despite the depression that has reigned there for some time, according to Hugh D. Butler, American trade commissioner, representing the United States Department of Commerce in London.

Mr. Butler, now visiting in Los Angeles, is making his headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, where he is conferring with manufacturers and exporters relative to British market conditions and trade outlook generally.

"It is significant that many American products, including raisins, which is one of your important crops here, have gained a popularity in Britain during the last five years far in excess of the vogue they had prior to the war," said Mr. Butler.

BUILD UP BUSINESS

"No monopolye gave the exporters of these goods any advantage. They built up the business along typical American lines by introducing to the English consuming public high-grade products, which they advertised and disposed of by American methods of salesmanship.

"While the success experienced by these lines does not necessarily indicate that all forms of American exports would be equally successful on the British market, it does furnish encouragement to all American producers to make a careful investigation of the possibilities of selling their goods in England."

Mr. Butler pointed out, however, that he did not wish to be understood as asserting that the British market is susceptible of the unlimited expansion one looks for in some of the newer markets.

"But Great Britain possesses certain advantages that make her a desirable customer," he said. "Perhaps chief among these is the long-standing reputation for reliability enjoyed by the British business man. The return of sterling to par has greatly stabilized British markets, and the addition of 1,000,000 square miles to British territory has increased the empire's trade potentialities.

"On the other hand there are a number of negative factors of serious consequence to the British position. The heavy taxation has been gradually lessened, but it is still a heavy burden. Unemployment has been reduced in the last several years, but still stands officially at 1,350,000. The country, with its large industrial population, has demonstrated its extraordinary staying power in the last ten years, and has come out a bit exhausted, but it is still in the ring, both as a customer and as a competitor in the world markets."

NEW COUNCILMEN SEATED

Zahn and Jacobson Applauded as They Take Places of Downs and Fitzpatrick

Amid the applause of friends and fellow-members of the Council, Otto J. Zahn and Carl I. Jacobson, who were appointed to the place made vacant by the suspension of Councilmen Downs and Fitzpatrick, assumed their duties in the Council yesterday.

Councilman Zahn will represent the Tenth District, formerly represented by Downs, and Jacobson will represent the Thirteenth District, from which Councilman Fitzpatrick had been elected at the June election. Councilman Zahn will assume the chairmanship of the Building and Safety Committee, which had been held by Downs, and Councilman Zahn will be chairman of the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, of which Fitzpatrick was chairman.

President Workman welcomed the new Councilmen, on whose desks there were floral tributes from friends, and Councilman Jacobson in his first speech expressed pride at being a member of the Council.

"Nearly 4000 voters of the Thirteenth District," said Councilman Jacobson, "showed their confidence in me by writing my name on the ballot, and I shall endeavor to discharge this trust placed in me to the best of my ability. Those voters who wrote my name on their ballots stand, as they know I stand, for the Constitution of the United States, for the American flag and for the observance of our laws. Therefore I am not a dangerous man, and I shall strive to serve my city and my district in the public interest and for the public good."

Councilman Zahn also briefly thanked the Council for its welcome.

STEUBEN BIRTH DATE TO BE CELEBRATED

The anniversary of the birthday of Gen. Steuben, Revolutionary War hero, will be observed by the Los Angeles Unit No. 78 of the Steuben Society of America, tomorrow evening with a banquet at the Alexandria. United States Senator Shortridge will be the principal speaker.

MICHIGAN PICNIC SATURDAY

The Michigan Association of Southern California will offer a popular program next Saturday, the 19th inst., in the picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove Park. Among the speakers will be Hon. J. P. Beck, formerly of Saginaw. A wide-open invitation goes to all the Wolverines to meet the old friends again. Col. F. M. Rubles, president of the Federation of State Societies, will be another speaker, and both Dr. and Mrs. Hiner will be on the program.

BEAUTY CAST FOR FILM ENVOY ROLE

Senora Dolores del Rio

ACTRESS TO PEN TALE OF SCREEN LIFE

Beauty from Mexico City Being Trained for Star Parts by Carewe

Senora Dolores del Rio, leader of society in Mexico City, who is now in Hollywood to play in motion pictures, will act as ambassadress for the films to her country through the medium of a series of signed articles on her experiences for the Mexican press.

The first article will be based upon her reception in the film capital and her first roll, that of a French adventuress in Edwin Carewe's "Joanna," which will be a First National picture.

The senora declared yesterday she is anxious to creat good feeling for America and American motion pictures in Mexico. It is her desire, she said, to wipe out the last of the prejudices created by the early producers who were in the habit of typing Mexicans as villains in their films.

Although this practice is now a thing of the past, there still remains a little coolness on the part of the Mexican people to American films, according to the senora.

According to Carewe's present plans, the senora will soon be a star in her own right. She will first be given smaller roles until she has gained screen technique.

Mud, Mosquitoes and Mules Mess Marital Menage

It was in a swamp in the State of Mississippi, famed for magnolias, mosquitoes, and mules, that she encountered the euphonious but discomforting combination, Mrs. Alcorn declared.

Intense mental suffering resulted and she moved to California, hoping that the untying of the knot may erase from her memory the mental pictures of "mud, mules and mosquitoes."

MISSOURIANS TO MEET

President James A. Lang of the Missouri contingent has announced an entertainment for his State society rally tomorrow evening in the Flower Auditorium at 1720 South Flower street. The live-wire bunch from Kansas City will supply the program and dancing and refreshments will follow. A special feature is the prize award to the latest arrival. An open invitation is extended all Missourians, resident or visiting, to join in the fun and meet old friends.

PREFERS JAIL TO UPHILL WORK

Vagrant Who Refused to Push Wheelbarrow Given Rest Cure

As Officers Kuns and Church were about to arrest Justin G. Pratt, 26 years of age, of the Plaza, as a vagrant Sunday night, a benevolent stranger intervened and offered Pratt a job at $4 a day, it developed yesterday in Police Judge Richardson's court. The officers desisted when Pratt agreed to employment.

But yesterday, they averred, they found Pratt sunning himself in his accustomed place and haled him in.

"Why didn't you go to work?" asked Police Judge Richardson.

"They wanted me to push a wheelbarrow," replied Pratt.

"Well, that's honest work," said the court.

"Yes," said Pratt, "but they wanted me to push it uphill."

He was sentenced to serve ninety days.

Urban Academy

The Great Outdoor School

GREAT—because from its very foundation the URBAN is an all-round school which not only develops the intellect but pays equal attention to physical exercises and above all character training—a school that teaches its students to love work and pursue it with zest and accept the challenge of battle whether it be in the class-room, the swimming pool, the riding ring or on the campus.

GREAT—because of the sports that are as much a part of the daily curriculum as arithmetic or grammar—Boys of today very badly need the discipline and social loyalty of good private school and desperately need to be placed in a challenging society which can correct egotism and develop Esprit de Corps and in no way can this Esprit de Corps be so well developed as by the Urban method of well balanced and intensely interesting sports in the open which render the brain keen and quick to respond to instruction and which develop concentration, quick decision and unerring judgment—the traits that make for success in all of life's undertakings—the traits that develop character and the man of character is a self starter. He carries his own power and is not like a wheel barrow which is only moved when pushed from behind.

GREAT—because no pains or expenses have been spared to secure the best faculty obtainable—small classes, individual instruction and supervised study—the best and most sanitary equipment, and a well balanced diet of the best quality.

GREAT—because of the marvelous location, the beautiful buildings—two new units have been added—a three-story brick building, representing an investment of a quarter million dollars, and an Olympic tiled swimming pool equipped with the latest heating and filtration systems.

San Diego Army and Navy Academy
"The Coming West Point of the West"

Opening Day, Next Thursday, Sept. 17th

Notice: Because of the continued interest in his Academy, Col. Thos. A. Davis, President, will extend his stay at the Alexandria Hotel through today, the 15th, and will be on the Mezzanine floor from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

On account of the increased enrollment for the Fall Semester, it has been necessary to add 12 new bungalows, now nearing completion.

The Academy is the outstanding preparatory school of the west. It prepares for Colleges, West Point and Annapolis, with a Lower School for Younger Boys. It has always enjoyed the University of California's highest scholastic rating, Division "A." It is the first private school on the Pacific Coast to secure West Point accrediting. Its military training and discipline are conducted under War Department supervision. It has always stressed Christian character training and fostered real Americanism.

$800 will cover practically all necessary expenses, except uniforms and textbooks.

LIBEL OF PATENT MEDICINE ORDERED

"Sure cure for rheumatism, stiff joints, etc.," the label avers, but a telegram received yesterday by Donald Armstrong, assistant to the United States Attorney, instructing him to libel eleven and one-half cases of "Volta Powder" in a local warehouse, implies otherwise. In fact, the message from the Sample Bureau of Chemistry at Washington states the powder is nothing but a mixture of sulphur and iron oxide and a violation of the pure food laws. The powder was shipped from Philadelphia on May 1, 1924, and only recently came under the observation of the Federal authorities. It is manufactured by the Volta Company of America at Philadelphia.

CARPENTER HURT IN FALL

J. W. Fallnesbee, 65 years of age, a carpenter employed on a new building at Hollywood Boulevard and Las Palmas avenue, was seriously injured yesterday when he fell from the second story. He was treated at the hospital of Dickey and Cass. Physicians said he had received a fractured skull and other injuries about the head and body.

The practice of enslaving girls is still being carried on in many Asiatic Mohammedan states.

ALL IN FUN

NOT A BROW-WRINKLER ON ORPHEUM BILL

By Grace Kingsley

A typical silly-season bill trots the boards at the Orpheum this week. Which means that it is all in fun. Real fun, too, for the matter of that—not a high-brow headache anywhere.

Making a home run in particular is Hal Skelly, in a pigmy musical comedy called "The Chump," in which Hal kids, hoofs and sings with the usual returns in Hal's case. Peggy Hope is a baby vamp, who gets the house to remember what its hands are for, while Eunice Sauvain registers like a taximeter on a millionaire.

Frances White remains the genuine top-marker, even though she does do the same act she had last week, which is just a bit stingy of her, as she has a lot of new songs in her system. Wish Frances would bob. She could still have something of the same effect in hair-do, and at the same time get out of the horse-and-buggy period. She is forever a joy to me, whether bobbed or unbobbed.

The singing of warm mamma and sweet papa songs is Frank De Voe's specialty, whether about the fascinating Lulu—"When she goes in swimmin', strong men faint like women"—or about the caliente papa—"One kiss from his sweet lips sends my conscience off on trips." He just held them in the hollow of his hand yesterday, made them listen and like it. One might refer to De Voe as the male Sophie Tucker.

You'd think you were in Ireland to watch that bill! There's the comic Joseph B. Stanley. He's really a Joe, he's that little. I'm telling you—little, but right there with all the oh-my stuff. He has another nice Irish lad along, and two charming girls, and "Waiting" is as good a name as another for their clever little sketch, which is an excuse for a comic drunk scene, some stepping, a bit of jollying and a whole lot of charm.

The Lind Trio-O are the regular, old-fashioned, down-to-the-old-church-on-Friday-night male quartet, such cut-ups, b'gosh, but singing so awfully well the comedy seems painless. In fact, some of the crowd seemed to like it.

Letting out the speedometer are Kismet Sisters and company in a strong-arm act nicely staged and neatly played; while on the recessional end are the Empire Comedy Four, who do some clever ladder-stilt walking, dressed up with some novel and whimsical bits of comedy. Jim Toney and Ann Norman remain a big hit on the bill a second week.

DOLORES COSTELLO'S PARAMOUNT CONTRACT

The cast announcement today for Fanny Hurst's $50,000 prize contest story, "The Mannequin," which Paramount will produce, contains news of a momentous event in the career of Dolores Costello.

Dolores, daughter of Maurice Costello, and a real beauty, is to play the lead, chosen by Jesse L. Lasky for that purpose. James Cruze who will direct the picture, may further pride himself on the splendid quality of his cast, for in addition to Miss Costello, he is to have Zasu Pitts and Warner Baxter.

"The Mannequin" is the prize story in the national contest conducted by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and a weekly magazine. Miss Hurst recently left Hollywood, after aiding in preparations for the screening of the novel.

The choice of Miss Costello for the leading feminine role, and of Zasu Pitts and Warner Baxter for featured parts, came after a number of prominent players had been considered. James Cruze's recommendations on the cast were in a large measure responsible for the decisions. Production is scheduled to begin the 21st inst.

"STRONG MAN BONOMO" CONSIDERS CONTRACT

To sign or not to sign is the question with Joe Bonomo, the screen's strong man and declared Apollo of a New York contest a few years ago, is considering these days. Joe's contract with Universal is about to expire, and with this momentous date approaching several executives who have been watching this daring chap's work have made overtures for his services elsewhere.

Meantime, it is said that "Uncle" Carl Laemmle has wired from overseas that Joe shall be retained at Universal with a new and better contract. So the matter is more or less "up in the air" at the moment.

However, it appears probable that this popular young player, who has worked steadily and surely from "double" and stunt man to potential stardom at Universal and proved his box-office value undoubtedly in his latest chapter play, "The Swiss Family Robinson" or "Perils of the Primitive," will be retained for a new serial story which Edward Sedgwick is about to start.

Whether this will result in the obtaining of a new long-term signature remains to be seen, and Bonomo himself is saying nothing as he works away at his training quarters at Universal, keeping himself in the pink of condition for requirements of the coming picture.

CINDERELLA PLAYERS PLEASE

Tom Gerunovich, San Francisco dance king, and his orchestra, scored an instantaneous hit at the Cinderella Roof, where they played their opening engagement last night. Vera Gordon, Bill Desmond, Lew Cody and other stars of stage and screen were there to greet the new melody makers, whose dance inviting syncopation kept the crowd dancing until 1 o'clock. The night was a real triumph for the Bay City band considering that Los Angeles dancers are about the hardest to please anywhere. "We know that Angelenos know rhythm," Gerunovich said, "and my band will strive to give them plenty of it."

LIFE OF MENDELSSOHN

A series of photoplays depicting the life of famous music masters, such as Mendelssohn, Verdi, Puccini, Handel, Bach and Grieg, will be run on the screen at Loew's State Theater. The first of the series—"Mendelssohn," is now running at Loew's State, with a special score written by Gino Severi, leader of the Loew's State Music Masters.

This "Music Masters Series" is attracting music lovers in great numbers. The series is being presented by James A. Fitzpatrick.

Merrymakers at Majestic

Ruth Renick and Edward Everett Horton
Appearing in "The Sap," now in the third week of its run.

M'GREGOR HILLSTREET STAR

So conspicuously good is "The Happy Warrior," the photodrama at the Hillstreet this week, that instead of being a coattraction with the vaudeville it far surpasses it in general interest.

Of course, J. Stuart Blackton's name signed to any production is a sort of guarantee in itself to seasoned movie goers and in this case he surely manages to live up to the reputation. The interest in the film lies, however, in the work of Malcolm McGregor. We've been hearing considerable lately about the hidden talents of this young man but until now it is quite apparent he has never had a director who could or would bring them out.

He fairly vibrates with youth and exuberance. He carries one along at such a lively, vigorous pace that one is almost breathless keeping up with him. Given the same happy combination of director and story, it is quite safe to predict that this brawny young man with the hearty, boyish grin will be, in another couple of years, a veritable idol enshrined in the heart of every two-fisted lad in the country, to say nothing of the hearts of the sisters of these same lads.

In the vaudeville Justine Johnston was easily the outstanding attraction for the eye. But somehow or other the hand at the curtain didn't sound quite so emphatic as one would imagine.

When it comes to out-and-out popularity, George Whiting and Sadie Burt evidently have the proper recipe, for they were quite easily the favorites of the bill. Again and again were they encored and their "Collegiate" song was a riot. At a hazardous guess the dainty and attractive little dancer with them, Virginia, would seem to bear enough resemblance to be a daughter.

Franklyn D'Amore got away to a slow and rather stupid start. If he would dispense with the front-curtain chatter before he really begins the act proper, his stock would increase in value. Probably the most tremendous feat of physical strength is that which he performs over the back of a chair. Carleton and Ballew were delightfully entertaining with their songs and dances, while Robbie Gordone, trapeze artist, and Berg and English performed some rather amazing feats of agility.

Director for Lloyd Began as Ball Player

Nine years' association with Harold Lloyd gave Fred Newmeyer, codirector of Lloyd's supreme triumph, "The Freshman," which is now breaking all house records at Grauman's Million-Dollar Theater, an insight into comedy producing possessed by few directors in the motion-picture industry.

Newmeyer broke into the business in a peculiar manner. Ten years ago he gave promise of being one of the best minor-league pitchers to make the "big show." He was signed by the Philadelphia American League team and, after giving every promise of making good, had the misfortune to throw out his left shoulder. Although he visited some of the finest bone-setters in America, he never was successful in getting his pitching arm back into shape. He came out to California and met Lloyd, who had been one of his school-day chums in Central City, Colo. Lloyd got him a job with Hal Roach as a character acter.

When Lloyd started production on "Number, Please," Freddie was elevated to the position of director. In that capacity he handled the megaphone on such Lloyd films as "Now or Never," "Never Weaken," "A Sailor-Made Man," "Grandma's Boy" and "Dr. Jack," and was codirector of "Safety Last," "Why Worry," "Girl Shy," "Hot Water" and "The Freshman."

Cadman Honor Guest Tonight at Criterion

For one of its final week features "The Iron Horse" will have as its honored guest tonight Charles Wakefield Cadman, foremost composer of Indian classical music. At the personal request of Chief Clear Akey, the Indian tenor appearing with his band in the Criterion atmospheric presentation, Cadman was invited as the guest of honor to hear his beautiful melody, "The Land of the Sky Blue Water," which is a feature of the prologue as well as the overture.

Mr. Cadman has also shown such keen interest in Indian customs that the chief wants him to see the eagle dance, buffalo dance and tomahawk dance as presented by the band of Iroquois and Hopi Indians.

OSWALD PLAYERS AT LA MONICA BALLROOM

Beginning tomorrow evening Glen Oswald's Victor Recording Orchestra will play for La Monica Ballroom dances at Santa Monica during a special engagement for two weeks, substituting for Don Clark's famous orchestra, who will have a vacation.

Don Clark and his orchestra have been playing nightly for over a year at the popular ballroom on Santa Monica Pier, since its opening, besides making Victor records and broadcasting over radio.

They're twins. They're redheads. They're just the cutest things. They're never been on the stage before. They come from Glendale.

These are the answers to the questions that are being asked by about three-quarters of the audiences that attend the performances of "Lady, Be Good," at the Mason Theater concerning the Neilson sisters, Winona and Marjorie, two new and decidedly attractive additions to the "world's greatest dancing chorus," as the press agent has it.

Winona and Marjorie are about the cutest bits of femininity that have popped on to a local stage in many a month. They dance like leaves in an autumn breeze and are as dainty as wild flowers. Like all twins, they are inseparable. They both called on Director Frank Smithson and asked for work in the same breath. The director needed two girls and Winona and Marjorie were given jobs in a second. It only took them a week to learn the difficult dance steps of "Lady, Be Good." They started in only a short time ago, and now the whole town is talking about them. Just watch their steps.

Twin Sisters Honored Guests at Loew's State

Are you a twin sister?

If so, free admission to Loew's State Theater awaits you during this week, when Constance Talmadge's latest comedy, "Her Sister From Paris," is the attraction.

The management of the theater also is anxious to engage the brightest pair of twin sisters in Los Angeles for a special studio stunt. If you number among your acquaintances any red-headed twin sisters, please inform them that the management of Loew's State Theater is very anxious to get in touch with them for studio work.

Thursday night, September 17, will be twin sisters' night, and a special section of loges has been set aside for all red-headed twin sisters.

Mystery Play Continuing to Pack Morosco

More thrills than a circus, more suspense than Heins has beans, more drama than Ford has lizzies; that is one way of describing the breath-taking situations of "Whispering Wires," which has been playing to capacity houses since its opening at the Morosco.

PLAYDOM

A CLASSY SHOW

"LITTLE NELLIE KELLY" IS PEPPILLY STAGED

By Edwin Schallert

A hurry call may as well be sent to George M. Cohan to come west. For if he ever should see the Coast production of his "song and dance show," "Little Nellie Kelly" he would probably be just about as well satisfied as if he staged it himself. The Cohan spirit has literally been transplanted to the Playhouse, where "Little Nellie Kelly" is being presented—and, as the theatergoer well knows this means pep, class and virtually everything else that makes lively and engaging entertainment.

"Little Nellie Kelly" served to reopen the Playhouse last night with a regular first-night audience attending. It is a departure from the previous traditions of that theater which chiefly have favored dramatic attractions. It represents the resumption of activities here by Louis O. Macloon and Lillian Albertson, who have already done much to aid in improving stage production standards. In general, worth of the performance "Little Nellie Kelly" is quite the equal of anything Mr. Macloon and Miss Albertson have yet accomplished. Indeed, in quality of costumes, settings and general effects it is improvement over the shows that they have previously sponsored.

Of course, the Cohan piece, as an attraction, does not possess the varied allure of a "No, No, Nanette." That was easily the best all-around show that has yet been enjoyed, because it combined so tellingly music with comedy, plus the classiness as well, but even "No, No, Nanette," I believe, did not have any more, if as much smartness and animation in the actual production as the new show.

One misses comedy in "Little Nellie Kelly." It isn't in the play, nor is it promised. Melody and stepping are in the foreground in this case, and they are the sort of melody and stepping that sparkle with life. There is high-speed action, unending and race-like; an everlasting busy chorus, and principals that work, work, work indefatigably—all of which serves to keep one definitely fascinated.

The piece is clear evidence of the energetic and untiring Cohan technique in the devising of a musical show. It is brilliant, showy, and to a very high degree clever. Its melodies may not remain with the audience after they leave the theater; its idea may be familiar and even hackneyed, and it may descend to the most puerile kind of sentiment as in the instance of the mother stuff in the second act, which brought suppressed laughter, but it reveals throughout something of dynamic determination. It is a victory by force and persistency, rather than by strategy. What strategy is used to give novelty to the production, such as the manner in which the piece kids itself, is quite the obvious sort. It is interesting to a certain degree, however, in its ingenuity.

At any rate, the show as presented is splendid entertainment—more than pleasing to the eye, particularly. The chorus is spiffier than any as yet seen this season in a musical production, and they do their part as if they meant it, and enjoyed doing it.

The cast is remarkably even balanced. There is no one, in fact, who wins stardom.

Alice Cavanaugh has the title role, and though a little disappointing in the opening act, chiefly owing to the fact, perhaps, that her part is the somewhat blah Cinderella sort, she immediately becomes a bright personality in the number "They're All My Boys" in the second act—and this even though she has to compete with a rather mirth-provoking male chorus.

There was enthusiastic applause for virtually every musical number. Animation was never for a moment lacking, and the orchestra under the direction of Lucien Denni kept up the high-tension Cohan pace.

The specialty dancing by Una Fleming was notably alluring, while Bob Carter and Bettie Gallagher stopped the performance early with their almost tireless efforts in an athletic type of dance.

Very satisfying, too, was the impression made by Clay Hill as the young millionaire rival for Nellie Kelly—yes, there are romantic complications. Lester Cole was effective in his song numbers as the "poor but honest" hero.

Franklyn Farnum, recruited from the films, enlivens the piece with Irish comedy. Joseph Meinmeyer, responsible for the dancing in the production as a whole, and himself appearing in some eccentric numbers, received a hand.

Eugene Borden, Katherine Clare Ward, Rea Porter, John Westervelt, Joseph Griffen, good in dancing, and Ida Moore, of the others, all helped to speed the show.

For its metropolitan worth as a production, and its other attractions, "Little Nellie Kelly" deserves the attention of the theatergoer during this unusually bright season of the musical show.

MARK LARKIN RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

Another hearty booster for Los Angeles has just returned in the person of Mark Larkin, well-known publicist of Hollywood.

Larkin went east early last May to supervise the road showing of Douglas Fairbanks's latest picture, "Don Q." His duties took him first to Boston and later to New York. The picture is said to have broken all theater-attendance records in Boston, while in New York it broke all previous attendance records for the summer months.

While in New York Larkin made his entry in the short-story field by selling two stories to a large monthly publication, and contracting for further fiction articles. He returns to Hollywood to take up advance work on Fairbanks's next feature, "The Black Pirate."

DEL ANDREWS WILL DIRECT GUMP FEATURE

Del Andrews, well-known director of comedies and features, has been signed to direct the forthcoming series of "Andy Gump" comedies, to be released by Universal, according to the announcement from Samuel Van Renkel, producer of the pictures.

Andrews stepped to the front as one of Hollywood's most capable comedy directors when he made "The Galloping Fish," an unusual feature comedy produced by the late Thomas H. Ince. He also directed Alberta Vaughn and George O'Hara in a series of comedies for F.B.O.

German Submarine Which Torpedoed Lusitania, Mined by Danes.

Copenhagen, Denmark.—The German submarine U-20 which since 1916 has been laying off Veilby Beach on the West Jutland coast, a menace to shipping, was recently destroyed by the Danish government. The destruction was accomplished by means of mines, placed on the hulk of the wreck by divers who descended to the sea bed. It was the U-20 which sank the Lusitania, an act responsible more than any other for America's entry into the war. In the photo above the work of mining the U-boat, the tower of which is shown above water, is under way. Photo at left shows diver and assistants with one of the mines used. (P. & A. photos.)

Deauville, France—American patronage at this and other European resorts made the year a banner one for concessionaires. The consumption of [illegible] ing liquors has been greatly increased by the throngs of Americans, [illegible] ports from the resorts state. (Kadel & Herbert photo.)

Montreal, Canada—When a furious blaze, which recently laid waste a block of buildings here, was finally conquered, a statue of the Madonna, damaged by the flames, was found standing in the desolation which had raged. (P. & A. photo.)

WURLITZER HAS HOBBY IN BUSINESS

Music House Head Tells of Work While on Visit to Los Angeles

Manufacturing musical instruments is more than a business with Howard E. Wurlitzer, head of the great organization which bears his name; it is a hobby. He is registered at the Biltmore and making his first visit to Los Angeles since 1923.

"Although my ancestors were makers of violins in 1640 and the business was handed down from father to son until 1865 when my own father settled in Cincinnati, we did not engage in the manufacture of musical instruments here until 1907," Mr. Wurlitzer explained.

"I'm also a believer in evolution, since the great high wind pressure organs we are manufacturing now are the development of the old orchestrion of 1910. We have developed the possibilities of the organ far beyond anything we dreamed of in those early days, and a large organ that we recently installed in a Chicago theater requires two men to play it to bring its different parts into action."

North Tonawanda, near Buffalo, N. Y., is the factory site which comprises some 400 acres, part of which is devoted to workmen's dwellings. The Wurlitzer company employs about 7000 people, and maintains stores in forty-four cities. The Wurlitzer Building, 314 South Broadway, was completed a year ago.

Mr. Wurlitzer was amazed at the growth of Los Angeles since his last visit in 1923.

"I find the business section greatly changed, particularly in the southern section of the city. When we purchased our present site we seemed to be on the extreme edge of the retail district, but it has gone far beyond us, and another five years will see that vicinity completely built up."

GIRL DIES IN TRUCK RUNAWAY

Brakes Fail to Hold and Machine Plunges Over Highway Embankment

Frances Short, 10 years of age, was fatally injured yesterday nineteen miles north of Newhall on the Ridge Route when the truck in which she was riding with her mother and Bert Miles, Stockton rancher, failed to respond to its brakes and plunged down a steep embankment.

The mother, Mrs. Flora Short, was seriously hurt but her recovery is expected. Miles escaped injury except with bruises and lacerations. The victims were all removed to the Newhall Emergency Hospital, where the child died shortly after her arrival there.

The truck, to which a trailer was attached, was traveling to the fair at Ventura from Stockton with three race horses. One of the animals was killed in the plunge but the other two were not hurt.

Motorists who witnessed the accident said the truck went out of control on one of the grades and plunged over the embankment when the brakes failed to hold.

Grand-Avenue School Site to be Auctioned

The Grand-avenue elementary school site, bought in 1875, will be offered for sale at 4 o'clock next Thursday afternoon in the Board of Education offices in the Chamber of Commerce Building, under the competitive bidding plan.

This property fronts 232 feet on Grand avenue, running back on Eighth street 163 feet, and is being offered at a minimum price of $1,180,000. Bids must be accompanied by a $25,000 check, an additional $25,000 to be paid when bid is accepted. Thirty days after acceptance $200,000 must be paid into escrow.

An agreement of sale will take care of the balance. Date of delivery is set for September 1, 1926, but the board reserves the right to hold the property until September, 1927. Furnishings and equipment are not included in the purchase price.

Bids may be raised on a basis of 5 per cent above the highest preceding bid.

Dedication of the new $400,000 Phineas Banning High School at Wilmington is set for 2:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

YOUTH'S "JOY-RIDE" COSTS HIM FREEDOM

Robert McAuliffe, about 19 years of age, was sent to the Ione Reform School for two years in Judge Keetch's court yesterday after he had pleaded guilty to taking an automobile for a "joy-ride." The charge of stealing the automobile, which was owned by the Bureau of Catholic Charities which had befriended McAuliffe, was dropped. McAuliffe was arrested in San Diego on a vagrancy charge, the massing car being found near the place of his arrest. Deputy Public Defender Boker appeared for him.

CRUISER TAMA LEAVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The Japanese cruiser Tama, which brought the body of Edgar A. Bancroft, American Ambassador, who died in Japan, to San Francisco last month, departed for home today. The Tama was escorted through the Golden Gate by the U.S.S. Savannah and a group of submarines.

PIONEER OF OLD ARIZONA TOWN DIES

Sheriff Benson of Pinal County Succumbs Here to Heart Disease

William A. Benson, Sheriff of Pinal county, Arizona, died yesterday morning at his apartment at 240 West Santa Barbara street. He had come to Los Angeles August 1 for treatment for heart disease.

Funeral services will be conducted at the W. A. Brown Temple Thursday morning and interment will be at Florence, Ariz., Saturday. The body will be taken to Florence by the widow, Mrs. Dolores Benson, Mrs. Abbie Detlor, a sister of the deceased, and an aunt, Mrs. Abbie Jaycox. Sheriff Benson also leaves Mrs. Anna Doan Griffin of Petaluma and Mrs. Edith Fontaine of San Francisco, sisters.

Sheriff Benson was 48 years of age. He was the first child of northern descent born in the old Mexican town of Pinal, Ariz. In 1914 he was a member of the Santa Monica police department, and next year became a special agent for the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles. Returning to Arizona in 1918, he became a deputy United States marshal and was elected Sheriff of Pinal county in 1921.

MATE PUTS WOMAN IN BIGAMY NET

Second Husband Reports Case When Papers Served in Divorce Suit

Asserted to have married another man without the formality of obtaining a divorce from her first husband, pretty 26-year-old Pearl Suges of 119 West Thirty-first street, found herself the occupant of a cell in the City Jail last night.

Police were called to take a hand in the young woman's domestic affairs by Paul Suges, the second husband of the woman. Suges told Detective Lieutenant Stillson at University Police Station that he discovered his wife was already married only after he had been served with papers in divorce proceedings brought by the first husband, Neal McGuire, said to be a motion-picture extra.

"That was several months ago," Suges said. "I immediately left Pearl, undecided what to do. Since then I have not been living with her."

Suges said he finally concluded the best thing to do would be to report the case to police. Detective Lieutenants Reavis and Ledbetter took charge of the young woman in custody at her home and charged her with suspicion of bigamy. Mrs. Suges refused to make any statement.

NO CASES OF PARALYSIS IN WEEK-END

County Medical Society Indorses School Opening on Schedule Time

No new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Los Angeles Sunday or yesterday, according to a statement issued by City Health Officer George Parrish. The official records at the city health department show that the total number of cases this month to date is ten, and 177 is the total since January 1, last.

The official total for last week was two cases, and eight cases is the total for the preceding week. Last month a total of fifty-one cases were reported, compared with sixty-four for the preceding month, it was said.

Commenting upon the action of the council of the Los Angeles County Medical Society last night in passing a resolution indorsing the opening of the public schools on schedule time, Health Commissioner George Parrish said that only five cases of infantile paralysis of school age have been reported since the 1st inst.

The council of the medical society, which is the governing body of the organization of 1600 registered physicians of Los Angeles county, adopted the following resolution:

"The council desires to express its confidence in the conduct of public health affairs by the Health Commission and Dr. George Parrish, health officer, and indorses their action in approving of the opening of the public schools on schedule time by the Board of Education."

"It is very gratifying to me and to the Health Commission to see this indorsement from this intelligent group of professional men and women," said Dr. Parrish. "It should serve to dispel the last traces of fear in the minds of many parents. It is doubly satisfactory because of the present situation. The opening of the schools has been marked by no increase in the reported cases of infantile paralysis, there being only five cases of school age in this city of more than 280,000 school-children since the 1st inst.

SCREW IN LUNGS 40 YEARS

PHILADELPHIA—Mrs. Ida Ferguson of Canton, Mass., has recovered from a bronchoscopic operation at the Jefferson Hospital here, where a small screw that had been lodged in her lungs for more than forty years was removed.

Mrs. Ferguson, accidentally swallowed the screw when a child, but, fearing parental chastisement, failed to tell her mother. For the last several years, she said, she suffered regularly from colds in the lungs, but doctors were unable to discover the cause.

At the hospital last night it was said that Mrs. Ferguson's operation broke all records for the length of time foreign objects had remained in undesired "captivity" prior to their removal by the bronchoscope. Until now the record was held by a man in whose thirty-six years.

SUPREME COURT STARTS SESSION

State Tribunal Opens Sitting of Three Days

Dillon Will Seek Reversal of Verdict Today

Appeals of Pair Condemned to Hang Also Up

The State Supreme Court yesterday opened a three-day session in the local rooms of the tribunal. Continued and regular motions in nine cases involving the settlement of estates and small civil matters were heard. Three were denied, three dismissed, two granted, one continued to the next Los Angeles calendar and eight continued until this morning.

Because the entire afternoon was occupied with argument on the motions, the regular criminal calendar was postponed until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Among the important criminal cases scheduled for yesterday afternoon which the court will hear today is that of Charles F. Dillon, former commissioner of finance in Fresno, who seeks a reversal of a verdict of guilty on charges of embezzlement resulting from asserted irregularities while he was in office. He is under sentence of from one to ten years in San Quentin.

COMMUTATION PLEAS

Other cases attracting interest to be heard today are the appeals for commutation of sentences filed by Jacob Fuhr and Earl J. Clark, who have been sentenced to hang. Fuhr on the 18th inst. Thomas Carmichael seeks an acquittal from a conviction of manslaughter.

At today's regular appointed session, the City of Pasadena will seek to have a restraining order prohibiting a pest house in a residential neighborhood set aside and the Bank of Italy will plead for mandamus proceedings ordering State Bank Superintendent Johnson to issue permits for two branch banks in Los Angeles.

The court is expected to pass on the legality and status of the municipal courts created by the last Legislature when it hears the case of four new judges. They seek a writ of mandate ordering County Auditor Payne to pay them their salaries. The action is a friendly one to determine the constitutionality of the courts.

Yesterday the first alimony case which has been argued in a local sitting of the court was presented in a motion to reverse the judgment of a lower court, which was granted. The judgment was for the amount of $6400, and was against a bonding company, which, it was asserted, was to have paid Mrs. Una Lock Paddin of San Francisco $300 a month in case her husband, William Lock Paddin, a real estate broker, failed to raise that amount as alimony.

..URGES REVERSAL

C. A. Linn, a San Francisco attorney, appeared on Mrs. Rock Paddin's behalf and urged that the judgment be reversed. He said he and his client took the apparently unusual attitude of urging the reversal for the purpose of clearing the way for further legal action.

Justices sitting in the present session are W. P. Lawlor, acting presiding justice, and Justices Lemon, Waste, Richards, Shenk and Hauser, pro tem, who has been drafted from the District Court of Appeals to fill a temporary vacancy on the Supreme Court bench.

Court attaches yesterday predicted that the court may be compelled to sit for an extra day or two in order that the calendar here may be completed.

DRY RAIDERS ARE HOST TO LEGION MEN

Arrests and Rum Seizure on Catalina Island Not on Regular Program

American Legion members holding their State convention at Avalon, Catalina Island, are witnessing an impromptu liquor war. E. Aldacosta and Lucy Klarkston were arrested Sunday by the force of James E. Bond, chief of the dry squad of the Los Angeles Sheriff's office, who reported seizure of twenty cartons of liquor.

A. B. Waddingham, Avalon City Manager, is said to have resented outside officials coming in to enforce the Wright Act. Capt. Bond gave out a letter said to have been written to him by Waddingham last June, following the arrest of three Legion men at an outing of the Avalon Post, saying "the citizenship of Avalon does not desire arrests and prosecution for technical violations of the Wright Act," and that such action, in the absence of disorderly conduct, would injure the island as a vacation resort.

Headquarters of the Santa Catalina Island Company, declared the Wrigley Company, owners of the island, and D. M. Renton, manager were entirely out of sympathy with any movement to gain leniency in connection with prohibition enforcement.

Both William Wrigley, Jr., and Renton, it was stated, are vigorously opposed to distribution or use of liquor on the island and have heartily supported both Federal and State prohibition enforcement there.

OLD ROW ON STREET NAMING BROUGHT UP

The new City Council yesterday inherited a controversy which has been heard many times by previous Councils, to wit, the naming of streets in the Sawtelle district. Some of the people there desire the streets numbered, others prefer the streets named after battles of the Civil War. Councilman Hughes yesterday revived the old controversy when he presented a petition from Sawtelle residents asking that hearings be held on the matter by the new Council. The petition was referred to the City Planning Committee, of which Councilman Hall is chairman.

Circus Brings Joy to Crippled Children

They Put Aside Their Ills

PAIN FORGOTTEN IN GLEE

Orthopaedic Hospital Children Made Merry by Antics of Entertainers From "Big Top"

It was circus day at the Orthopaedic Hospital yesterday—the day of days for the pain-wracked and deformed little children undergoing treatment there.

Wan-faced youngsters laughed delightedly. Crippled children hobbled gamely after their idols, the clowns, and played with them. Even those thin and wasted ones forced to lie in their beds or wheel chairs day in and day out found the courage to prop themselves on elbow and forget their pain in watching the grotesque antics of the clowns, tumblers and circus performers.

As the children could not come to the circus, the circus came to them. It came to their very doorstep, out on the front lawn of the hospital, where the children in their cots and wheel chairs lined the walk and the edges of the lawn.

"It was the greatest treat of the year for them," Mildred Riese, superintendent of the hospital, stated thankfully. "They will talk about it for months."

Arrangements for the show were made by the Community Chest, of which the Orthopaedic Hospital is a member.

A score or more of clowns and performers, accompanied by a complete band, gave the show. The hero of the day to the children, was Johnny Grady, 19 years of age, the youngest clown in the business. He had been inflated to the proper proportions of a balloon and tumbled, rolled and fell to the complete delight of the youngsters watching him.

Little Dickie Nicols hobbled gamely after the clown on his crutches, only to whack him across his airy stomach, and Jacob Dubin, another little cripple, rolled the clown over and then sat on him. Fred Steeling, Felix Adler and Edward Polidor, veterans of the grotesque make-up, added their bit to the general merriment.

FUR AND RADIO STOLEN

Theft of a leopard skin jacket valued at $195, a three-tube radio set worth $100 and $25 in currency from the home of G. K. Heiman, 1601 Wilcox avenue, was reported to Hollywood police yesterday. Detective Lieutenant Wicklund was assigned to the investigation. Entrance to the Heiman home was gained through the use of a pass key.

Griffith Park Flyer to Test New Airplane

Tests of a new airplane will be made in Seattle by Lieut. Corliss C. Moseley of the Army Air Service, commanding officer of the Griffith Park Airport, Lieut. Moseley yesterday was ordered by the War Department to fly to Seattle for temporary duty, the army liaison office here announced.

Lieut. Moseley will make a number of test flights in a new airplane being manufactured for the Army Air Service by a Seattle company. He has been serving here as instructor of the California National Guard Air Service, in which he holds a commission as major.

WIDENING OF CYPRESS AVENUE UP TO COUNCIL

The widening of Cypress avenue from Dayton avenue to Verdugo Road to relieve congestion on San Fernando Road, which parallels Cypress avenue, yesterday was urged by the City Council. The Union Pacific Railroad and the Los Angeles railways are to be asked by the Council to relinquish land for the street widening.

DAWES LEAVES FOR EAST

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 14.—Vice-President Charles G. Dawes and his party left for the East on the Santa Fe at 12:41 o'clock this afternoon. Several hundred Pasadenans were at the station to bid him farewell.

Au revoir is the better word, however, for Pasadena is hopeful that the general will return to stay. For did he not, in a few informal remarks from the platform, assure friends that if ever he "came West to live it would be at Pasadena." And added: "I have met more people from Lincoln, Neb., and Marietta, O., in one day in Pasadena than I have ever met in a week in Chicago."

Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, who was host to the Dawes party here, later expressed the belief that the Vice-President would make Pasadena his home "when he retires from active life." But that time, in the opinion of those who saw Gen. Dawes here, will be in the very dim future.

Gen. Dawes's Pasadena morning was devoid of politics.

The Vice-Presidential party was augmented by two more members, Miss Bertha Wilbur of Los Angeles, sister of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, and Miss Louise Shedd of Berkeley, cousin of the Vice-President and niece of Secretary Wilbur. They will accompany the party as far as the Grand Canyon.

Among those at the station were Henry E. Huntington, Arthur H. Fleming, Walt Mason, the poet, who came up from La Jolla; Charles Wright of the Security National Bank; John Lewis Cochrane, brother-in-law of Senator Underwood; Mrs. George E. Kennedy of Altadena, a cousin of the Vice-President, and Frank W. Collins, a boyhood friend.

VICE-PRESIDENT AGAIN SCORES SENATE RULES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 14.—Vice-President Dawes continued his attack on what he termed "the obsolete rules of the United States Senate" in a ten-minute address from the platform of the California Limited at the Santa Fe station this afternoon. An audience of 1000 persons received him enthusiastically.

"For 119 years," he said, "the Senate of the United States has not had a cloture rule. What does this mean? The right of majority of the Senate, which has the power to pass laws, has the right to determine how long those laws shall be debated.

"That power exists in every other great deliberative body of the world. That power existed in the Senate of the United States for only the first seventeen years of its existence.

"There is not anything revolutionary in the proposition of those who would reform the rules of the Senate, the provisions of which in the original Senate were enforced until the year 1806."

Vice-President Dawes expressed thanks to California for its welcome to him and Mrs. Dawes, and predicted that the influx of population from the East would continue. The Dawes train arrived at 1:50 o'clock and left at 2 o'clock for the Grand Canyon.

ACTRESS SURPRISES LIFE GUARDS

Held Best Woman Swimmer on Beach

Helene Chadwick

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENICE, Sept. 14.—While Helene Chadwick, film-actress has never been called upon to demonstrate a natatorial ability in any of the roles she has played before the clicking camera, she gave such a demonstration before lifeguards here the other day which, according to the guards themselves, qualifies her as a Class A guard. The actress easily negotiated the underwater tests, and in the 100-yard and quarter-mile swims made a showing that surprised the guards.

Miss Chadwick took up swimming as an exercise and without any idea of becoming more than ordinarily proficient. However, she began right and has developed far beyond her expectations. She swims the standard strokes in faultless fashion and displays a strength beyond her size and build in the water.

"Any time she wants a job here, she can have it" stated a sunbrowned member of the guard. "She's one of the best women swimmers that has been at the beach this year."
